UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA
NOV 15 1944
LIBRARY

The Weather
Today—Mostly sunny, rather warm becoming cloudy with a few showers in the evening. Yesterday—High, 74; low, 38.

The Washington Post

Single Copy Price 5c

NO. 24,984 | Entered as Second Class Matter, Postoffice, Washington, D. C. | Copyright, 1944, By The Washington Post. | WASHINGTON: FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1944 | CARRIER DELIVERY, CITY ZONE Daily and Sunday $1.10 per Month; Daily Only, .65 per Mo.—Sun. Only, .15 per Mo. | SINGLE COPY PRICE Daily, $0.05; Sunday, .10

35,000 Japs Poured Into Leyte Struggle

Big Parade To Welcome Roosevelt Back Today

½ Million Capitalites To View Return; Young and Others To Receive President

Washington welcomes President Roosevelt home today.

Half a million Washingtonians, with flags, bunting and banners shouting "Welcome, Champ," will greet him at 8:30 this morning when he arrives from his Hyde Park home after a victorious fourth-term fight.

Home-coming ceremonies for the Chief Executive were rushed into shape yesterday by District officials at the suggestion of The Washington Post which has sponsored similar greetings after the last two presidential elections.

John Russell Young president of the Board of Commissioners, and a committee of 31 citizens will receive the President at Columbus Fountain in front of Union Station. Cabinet members and Congressmen also are expected to be on hand.

750-Man Police Detail

Following the reception at Union Station plaza, the presidential party, which will include Senator Harry S. Truman, Vice President-elect, will proceed along flag-decked Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House. A 750-man police detail and 300 members of the Fire Department will guard roped off streets for the President and his motorcycle escort.

With wartime secrecy of the President's movements entirely abandoned, it was announced that the party then will move southwest on Delaware ave. to Constitution ave. where it intersects Pennsylvania ave., then onto Pennsylvania ave. to the south end of the Treasury at 15th st., where the procession will enter the White House grounds through the east gate.

The Federal and District governments as well as a number of downtown merchants have granted time off to employes who wish to welcome the President, while about 100,000 school children will be excused from class rooms.

Nine bands, representing the Army, Navy, metropolitan police and the high school cadets, will be stationed along the presidential route. All residents who are members of such organizations as the Boy or Girl Scouts, Red Cross and American Legion, were urged to wear their uniforms to add color to the reception.

Rites to Be Broadcast

The citizens' reception ceremonies at Columbus Fountain will be broadcast over a Nation-wide hookup, it was announced. Flanked by the 44 flags of the United Nations, the President is expected to speak briefly.

Acting Secretary of State Edward Stettinius will present the President with a scroll which renews the pledge of Federal employes to their administrator regardless of party affiliations. The presentation will be made either in Union Station or on the plaza, it was said.

All Government employes are expected to return to work immediately after the parade. District school children are permitted to attend the ceremonies only if they can present a written excuse from their parents upon their return to school that morning, Superintendent of Schools Haycock said.

Show of Unity Asked

Although 200,000 persons witnessed the President's return in 1940, District officials yesterday asked a turnout of half a million to "show the world that despite the election, this country has not fallen apart but is definitely behind the manwh o has to carry on the war for us and the peace following the war."

Allied Losses To U-Boats Reach Low in October

A drop in U-boat activity in October materially below any other month of the war reduced United Nations merchant ship losses to a low for the war, the regular Anglo-American communique on the war against the submarines stated last night.

"Although the number of German U-boats destroyed was less than what has come to be considered a good monthly 'bag,' it compares very favorably with the number of Allied merchant vessels sunk by U-boats," the report, issued under authority of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, stated.

"The Allies continue to supply on schedule their ever-growing armies in Europe," the report said.

Hail to Our President

MR. PRESIDENT:

Washington today bids you welcome home to the White House as President-elect. Ringing in your ears is the acclaim of the entire world. The acclaim registers as much hope as satisfaction. The war still has to be won, the peace secured. In asking for a fourth term you dedicated yourself to that dual task. Now the American people have given you the mandate to fulfill it. The prospect is awe-inspiring. Before you stretches the chance to make the sort of history that will put your name in the annals of all countries till the end of time.

Only by renewing and reinforcing the Nation's unity can this twin task be accomplished. We know this is a commonplace. But a commonplace is something that requires to be repeated again and again. We have ourselves said it without cease—after Pearl Harbor, after the 1942 elections. Encouraged by your election-eve request to the people "to watch and advise" their office-holders, we repeat it now. In the next four years you will need a more perfect unity than ever. And the way to it, as we have said before, is to revamp your Administration.

You are the President of a united Nation. Twenty-one million Americans, to be sure, voted against you, but you are their President, too. They are embraced, as Lincoln said of the people who voted against him, in the patriotism and the loyalty of the country along with those who voted for you. All of them and, for that matter, many millions of your own supporters, felt that a change was needed in your Administration. It is suffering from operational fatigue. It is unequal to the strain of the next four years.

THE resignations of all of your Cabinet and some of your extra-Cabinet officials may now be or will soon be on your desk at the White House. Some have been there before. But hitherto you have amiably ignored them. Thus you have kept in war jobs officials who were originally chosen for peace assignments, and retained incompetents and weary persons in offices requiring ability and application. Now is the last chance of bringing in new blood to help you carry the terrific burden of your next Administration. Now is the last chance of making your war Administration truly bipartisan. That is the way to call up the more perfect unity you need and ask for.

It is obvious, for example, that in the state of Secretary Hull's health the State Department needs a new chief. Possibly you hesitate to install an untried person. A changeover that would involve little friction would be to transfer Secretary Stimson from War to State, and put Assistant Secretary McCloy in Stimson's place. Stimson would supply direction to the State Department. He commands confidence both here and abroad. When he was at the State Department, he was a model Secretary, and as Secretary of War he already has a share in handling relations with other nations. As for McCloy, he has been closest to Stimson in operations, and would therefore insure continuity of policy at the War Department.

OTHER changes you could make without fear of causing confusion. Some of your administrators have outlived their usefulness—to you either as Chief Executive or as party leader. Certainly they have outlived their usefulness to the Nation at large in their present offices. We have in mind such officials as Secretaries Perkins and Jones. For the next four years you will have the advantage of thinking only of the job you have undertaken. You won't have to think of the perpetuation of your own Administration. Ease your task, Mr. President, by clearing out the deadwood, and you will the better insure the achievement of that task—and a towering place in history based upon solid achievement in the dovetailing of national interest with international unity.

It is in a spirit of patriotic devotion that The Washington Post extends to you its sincere congratulations and good wishes for the success of your Administration in attaining the high aims to which you dedicated yourself when you sought the great office to which you have been reelected.

Uruguay Calls For Revival Of Old League

By Flora Lewis
Associated Press Staff Writer

The first official criticism of the Dumbarton Oaks world security plan by a small nation came yesterday from Uruguay, which proposed instead that the League of Nations be revitalized.

Uruguayan Ambassador Juan Carlos Blanco presented the proposal to the other American republics at a meeting of Latin diplomats with Acting Secretary of State Stettinius. The session was the third to be held on the general subject of Dumbarton Oaks accomplishments.

The first small nation to make an official answer to American-British-Russian-Chinese proposals for a peacetime United Nations, Uruguay asserted it would be advantageous to conserve the old League with reforms to strengthen its military, political and judicial power. If that is impossible, Uruguay said, then guarantees for small nations should be incorporated in any new organization to preserve the world's peace.

Question Left Unanswered

What to do about the League was one of the important questions left unanswered by the big four at Dumbarton Oaks. It still lives in theory, although it stopped acting as a clearing house for international conflicts when the war spread over Europe.

The last full session of the League ended inconclusively December 14, 1939, but small committees kept going for sometime after that. Russia, Germany, Japan and Italy had all withdrawn long before the war, however, and the United States never joined.

Absent from yesterday's diplomatic conference were Argentina and San Salvador, whose present governments are not recognized by Washington.

Following the meeting of diplomats, Acting Secretary of State

See LEAGUE, Page 2, Col. 2.

Mich. Recheck Swings Lead To Roosevelt

Detroit, Nov. 9 (AP).—Late Wayne County (Detroit) vote revisions which an election official said might contain "major errors" precipitated President Roosevelt this evening into an unofficial lead of more than 18,000 for Michigan's 19 electoral votes.

The revised totals, from 3828 of 3841 precincts, gave: Roosevelt 1,097,581; Gov. Thomas E. Dewey 1,079,503.

Only precincts in heavily Democratic Wayne County were missing.

Included in the revisions were presidential vote corrections from 86 Wayne County precincts rechecked this afternoon by the Wayne County Board of Canvassers, which gave President Roosevelt the lead in the State for the first time since tabulation of Tuesday's vote started.

Mrs. Marguerite Montgomery, chairman of the canvassing board which faced the difficult task of untangling the errors of inexperienced election workers, said that "there well could be major errors" even in the revised figures.

These figures showed the President with 543,962 votes in Wayne County to 312,246 for Dewey.

Germans Reported Building Tanks Instead of U-Boats

By the United Press

The German DNB agency said Thursday that Germany has ceased the construction of U-boats in favor of tanks and artillery.

The dispatch, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, said that "this change in armament production was initiated in line with measures to reinforce land fronts and it is expected within a short time that the increased output of tanks and artillery will make itself felt on the focal points of land fronts."

Roosevelt Faces Many Heavy Tasks

'Big 3' Conference, Pay Plan Changes Among Problems Requiring Action

By Douglas B. Cornell
Associated Press Staff Writer

President Roosevelt returns triumphantly to Washington today to a tremendous reception and to tremendous tasks.

He returns with an apparent electoral college vote of 432 to 99 for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in his fourth term attempt, with State totals standing at 36 for Roosevelt to 12 for the Republican nominee.

Michigan, with 19 electoral votes, had swung tentatively into the Democratic column late yesterday on a revised vote count. It was the only State where the Presidential contest was undecided.

Popular Vote Margin Small

Despite this top-heavy fourth term victory in electoral votes, the nearly completed returns indicated that the President's popular vote margin was the smallest any winning candidate has had since 1916.

With 44,757,539 votes reported, the President's edge over Dewey stood at 2,905,381: Roosevelt, 23,831,460, and Dewey, 20,926,079.

Four years ago Roosevelt received 27,243,466 votes, with an electoral college total of 449, compared to 22,304,755 popular votes and 82 electoral votes for the late Wendell Willkie.

Array of Problems

Waiting for him at the end of a parade from Union Station to the White House is a hefty array of problems that will cram his schedule from now until his fourth term starts.

They centered around:

Another Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin conference on war and world security, vacancies in the Administration, possible Cabinet changes, demands for remodeling the Little Steel wage formula, whipping together annual and budget messages for Congress. And those weren't all.

Along with the Democratic victory at the top of the ticket went retention of the party's comfortable majority in the Senate, a firm grasp on a House majority, and more Democratic governors. The few races still in doubt couldn't alter that picture.

As for the President's docket, some things can wait, but a decision must be made promptly on the date and spot for the conference with Britain's Prime Minister and Russia's Premier.

With the American-Russian-British parley in the books before Christmas, Mr. Roosevelt will be cutting close the time required to shape his budget and annual messages.

In his spare time, the Chief Executive can think about picking a man to take over James F. Byrnes' place at the presidential elbow. The War Mobilization director says he wants to practice law back home in South Carolina.

A board to handle disposition of surplus war property also has to

See ROOSEVELT, Page 2, Col. 7.

Roosevelt Grip On Congress StillTightening

By Mary Spargo

With only two Senate and five House seats still in doubt, President Roosevelt today is assured not only of his largest congressional majority since 1936, but of a Congress clearly instructed by the American people to support his foreign policy.

Senator Robert A. Taft (R., Ohio) and Senator Pat McCarran (D., Nev.), yesterday were announced as the winners in hot races, but each had the closest battle of his political career.

Senate races in seesawing Missouri and in Pennsylvania are still undecided, but the Democrats are now assured of 56 seats, Republicans 37, and the Progressives 1.

Hhe House line-up so far is 242 Democrats, 186 Republicans and 5 in doubt.

Net Gain in House is 22 Seats

Even if the Democrats should lose the remaining five House races, their plurality would be 49 votes.

Thirty House seats held by the Republicans have toppled to the Democrats, but the GOP in its turn has unseated eight Democrats, making the total gain 22 so far—exactly what Democratic leaders had anticipated.

It will not be until November 22, when soldier votes are counted in Pennsylvania, that the final outcome of the race between Senator James J. Davis (R.) and Democrat

See CONGRESS, Page 2, Col. 5.

Patton Hurls 105,000 Into Saar Drive

Fourth Tank Division Joins Offensive; Metz Threatened With Outflanking

London, Nov. 9 (AP).—The U. S. Third Army hurled a crack armored division and three more infantry divisions today into an offensive along a 55-mile front, breaking across the Moselle River at two points north of Metz and threatening to outflank this mightiest fortress left to the Germans short of the Rhine.

For the first time the Fourth Armored Division—veteran of the St. Lo breakthrough that won the battle of France—stormed into the fighting, driving north more than four miles to near Delme and Viviers cut across the main highway from Metz to Chateau Salins, 25 miles to the southeast.

Supported by 1300 Bombers

More than 1300 U. S. heavy bombers ripped up enemy positions in the first close-support operation on such a big scale since St. Lo.

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, jr., committed seven divisions, at the most 105,000 men, to the attacks which are shaping up an assault arc some 35 miles from Saarbrucken—heart of the Saar Basin with its coal fields, iron works and war plants.

Berlin propagandists called the attacks the opening phase of an Allied winter offensive, and said it was designed to outflank Metz and to crush the big Saar industrial basin—whose borders lie 9 miles east of advanced American positions at Berg.

One of the divisions, the veteran Ninetieth Infantry under Brig. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, planted two bridgeheads on the east bank of the formidable barrier of the Moselle against an astonishing lack of resistance.

Cheminot Occupied

A second unidentified division, adding to the momentum of a drive which in its inaugural day Wednesday overran 16 towns and villages and captured 1000 prisoners, pushed across a tributary of the stream at another unidentified point north of fort-ringed Metz.

Another division, the Fifth Infantry under Maj. Gen. Leroy Irvin, plunged across the Seille River and occupied the town of Cheminot, 10 miles south of Metz.

Farther south, the three infantry divisions which ground out gains of 3 miles in opening the assaults—the Twenty-sixth, Thirty-fifth and Eightieth—were slogging ahead over a sleet-covered battlefield without encountering the violent counterblows with which the Germans normally react to such attacks.

A front dispatch said small gains were registered on this sector, whose southern end is at Moncourt, 33 miles southeast of Metz. Advances also were scored at the northern end of the front at Berg, 22 miles northeast of Metz.

Berg, on the west bank of the Moselle, is 3 miles southwest of a

See WAR, Page 2, Column 3.

Two Brothers, Four Others Die Overseas

Two brothers were among six Washington area men killed in action overseas, it was learned yesterday Other casualties reported here included one wounded and one prisoner of war. Apother man previously reported missing now is safe.

Dead:

First Lieut. William J. Mooney, 26, whose wife, Mrs. Virginia Mooney, lives at Occoquan, Va.

Second Lieut. Daniel P. Glove, 27, son of Jacob Glove, 5202 Upshur st., Decatur Heights, Md.

Staff Sergt. Ralph J. Mooney, 29, brother of Lieutenant Mooney. Both formerly made their home here with their sister, Mrs. Weston Valentine, lives at 9407 Montgomery ave., Chevy Chase, Md.

Staff Sergt. William E. Altemus, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Altemus, 8407 Dixon ave., Silver Spring, Md.

Sgt. Garland W. Davidson, 42, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Davidson, sr., live in Vienna, Va.

Sgt. Malcolm Reed Smith, 22, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Smith, 1211 Delafield pl. nw.

Wounded:

Pvt. Joseph D'Amico, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony D'Amico, 23 N. Bedford st., Arlington, Va.

Prisoner:

Pfc. Max B. Rubin, 35, whose wife and son, Michael David live

See CASUALTY, Page 2, Col. 6.

Action on Third Army Front

Associated Press WIREPHOTO

YANKS ATTACKING—Arrows locate American attacks including gains made by the American Third Army from the Berg area south to Migneville. To the north the American First Army made slight gains west of Vossenack. Shaded line is approximate battlefront

Pacific Supply Command Goes To Ingersoll

Past Performance As Atlantic Fleet Chief Highly Praised

By George Connery

The admiral who safeguarded our Atlantic shipping lines to Europe and licked the U-boats yesterday was assigned to do another major job in the Pacific war—to insure that our full military pressure will be brought to bear against Japan.

He is Admiral R. E. Ingersoll, described by Navy Secretary James Forrestal as the best example of "the silent force of sea power." His task will be to manage the flow of supplies to the Pacific fleet through West Coast ports, and to direct naval forces protecting shipping in the coastal waters.

Ingersoll's title will be commander of Western Sea Frontier and he will have the status of a deputy commander in chief, United States Fleet and Deputy Chief of Naval Operations, an indication of the high responsibility and authority of his new assignment.

Operations of Great Magnitude

Forrestal, at his news conference, yesterday also revealed magnitude of the operations Ingersoll will supervise. Since June 30, he said, sailings from West Coast ports have exceeded the total for the entire first half of the year. Total tonnage of supplies shipped westward has increased 20 per cent in the last six months and this pace will be considerably increased in the near future, Forrestal indicated.

"Increased importance is attached to the Western Sea Frontier command because of the vital necessity for uninterrupted flow of supplies and equipment over the lengthening distance to our advanced bases," Forrestal declared. "Extension of Pacific fleet activities

See INGERSOLL, Page 2, Col. 5.

Churchill Sees Time Ripe for Big 3 Parley

Prime Minister Shows Elation Over U. S. Election Result

London, Nov. 9 (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill said today "it is high time" that he, President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin had another conference. He declared that "the prospects of such a meeting have been vastly improved by the results of the presidential election in the United States, for which we waited so breathlessly on Tuesday last."

A new tri-power conference "might easily bridge the sufferings of mankind and stop the fearful process of destruction which is now ravaging the earth," he said.

The Prime Minister spoke at the annual luncheon for the Lord Mayor of London, this time for Sir Frank L. Alexander. It was an historic occasion, glittering with the pomp and pageantry of this old scarred city's past, bright with the scarlet and ermine robes of its officials beneath the high-domed ceiling of the mansion house.

Warns of Desperate Resistance

"Now we stand on the threshold of Germany," Churchill cautioned, "it will take the full exertions of the three great powers, every scrap they can give, to crush down the desperate resistance which we must expect from this military antagonist at last beaten back to his own lair."

The Prime Minister held out no hope of swift victory. He said, instead, that "no one can be blamed, provided he does not slacken his efforts for a moment, for hoping that victory may come to the Allies and peace may come to Europe in 1945."

Urging upon Britain's men and women a new surge of strength, he said flatly, "I cannot offer you an easy victory on the continent of Europe. It is always in the last

See CHURCHILL, Page 2, Col. 8.

Veiled Threat From Tokyo

Japs 'Surprised, Offended' At Stalin Talk, Nip Radio Says

San Francisco, Nov. 9 (AP).—A Japanese broadcast said today that the people of Japan were "surprised and offended" at the address of Premier Josef Stalin calling Japan an "aggressor" nation, and pointed out that while Russo-Japanese national relations are "normal" there is a possibility of a change.

A Domei (Japanese) news agency transmission said that official Tokyo circles were refraining from opinion or comment on the Stalin address, although it was a topic of conversation in all Japan. Japan has a neutrality pact with Russia expiring a little over five months from now.

The fact that Stalin branded Japan an "aggressor" is "indeed a new factor and may have been the most sensational part of his speech," the broadcast said. Explaining why the people of Japan were "surprised and offended," it trotted out the time-worn phrases that "the war of Greater East Asia is a fight to free the people of Greater East Asia from the imperialism of America and Britain."

"Now the question of the Soviet attitude toward Japan will inevitably pop up—however, so far the relations between Japan and the Soviet Union have been normal," said Domei.

"There are various outstanding problems yet to be solved between the two nations, but many problems in the past have been taken care of in an exceedingly smooth fashion by the two powers. Such being the case, there is not a bit of evidence that may be called 'abnormal' in the negotiations from day to day.

"The Soviet Union is a realistic country, so in all probability her foreign policy vis-a-vis her neighbor is not wholly immutable. Conversely, it is naturally expected that the foreign policy of Russia will change as new situations demand. Consequently, it is the firm belief of the Japanese general public that Japan must also adopt a realistic policy which will conform with any new situation created by the Russians."

Foe Masses Fresh Troops In Battle For Ormoc

Yanks Make Wide Gains in Drive For Last Island Stronghold

MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines (Friday), Nov. 10 (AP).—Weatherbeaten doughboys drove over rain-lashed ridges for extensive gains south of Carigara Bay today as the Japanese poured reinforcements into Leyte Island to replace an estimated 35,000 men lost.

Grim veterans of the Twenty-fourth Division broke the stalemate to make "extensive gains on a wide front" along the typhoon-swept road leading to Ormoc, Japan's last stronghold on the island, now roaring with fires set by bombs and artillery shells.

"Bataan Division" Smashed

Japan's 16th Division—torturers of Bataan—has been smashed as a fighting unit, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported, and an estimated 35,000 reinforcements have been landed to rebuild the original force.

The 35th Imperial Army has been sent to Leyte, the general said. The fresh troops are pouring into Ormoc, on Leyte's western coast, from Cebu, Mindanao and other adjacent islands.

The enemy, said the communique, "is making a desperate effort to retrieve the strategical position which he lost in eastern Leyte in the first phase of the campaign, and which threatens his entire hold on the Philippines."

Massed in Valley

Most of these fresh troops are massed in the narrow, ridge-bordered valley north of Ormoc, down which the Yanks are driving. The Americans hold better than a two-to-one numerical superiority.

Under constant shelling and bombing, Ormoc's "usefulness to the enemy as a supply base has been greatly reduced," the communique said.

The veterans of the Twenty-fourth smashed through Japanese ridge positions south and east of Limon, 4 miles from Carigara Bay, near where the Americans had been stalled for nearly four days by cyclonic weather and desperate Nipponese delaying tactics.

The Yanks seized commanding terain on a key hills, identified as No. 1525, and near the mountain vilage of Minoro, about 6 miles east by south of Limon. Minoro lies at the fot of a 517-foot high ridge.

Strng Points Smashed

Simultaneously elements of the Ninety-sixth Division, which has plunged westward across the mountains from eastern Leyte, destroyed

See LEYTE, Page 2, Column 6.

U. S. Casualties Total 509,195 Since Pearl Harbor

Almost three years of war have cost more than a half million American battle casualties — dead, wounded, missing or prisoners.

The Army said yesterday that its casualties, from Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941, through last October 28 totaled 437,356. The latest report for Navy, Marine and Coast Guard personnel accounts for 71,839.

The Army total represents an increase of 20,235 since the report a week ago which covered the period through October 21. It was explained later that about 25 per cent of the increase resulted from a bookkeeping change totaling reports up to date.

Of the total Army casualties reported yesterday, 84,811 were killed and 243,054 wounded, an increase for the week of 4145 killed and 13,742 wounded. Of the wounded to date, 112,814 have been returned to duty. This is a far higher percentage than in any previous war.

The latest Navy list accounts for 71,839, giving a grand total for both services of 509,195, based on notices which have gone to next to kin.

The Navy total increased 1268 since its report a week ago.

The Navy comparison with a week ago: Killed 28,599 and 25,231; wounded, 29,442 and 28,441; missing, 9311 and 9121; prisoners, 4487 and 4478.

Today's Index

	Page		Page
Columnists	8, 9	Leonard Lyons	9
Crossword	4	Mary Haworth	12
Death Notices	14	Marquis Childs	8
Drew Pearson	14	Nelson Bell	9
Editorials	8	Radio	13
Financial	14	Shirley Povich	10
Food News	12	Sports	10, 11
Gallup Poll	6	Women's Page	12
Gentler Sex	12

Reds Crack Enemy Line Near Budapest

War Sidelights

913 Belgians Shot for Aid To Germans

London, Nov. 9 (U.P.).—The Paris radio announced that the Belgian minister of justice told the Chamber of Representatives today that 913 Belgian collaborators have been shot and 56,000 imprisoned for trial later.

Paris Editor Executor

Paris, Nov. 9 (U.P.).—George Suarez, collaborationist editor of the newspaper Aujourd' Hui, was executed by a firing squad at suburban Mont Rouge Fort after Gen. Charles de Gaulle had refused to commute the death sentence against him on the charge that he engaged in intelligence with the Germans.

Suarez refused to be blindfolded when he faced the firing squad and his coolness contrasted to the emotion of the man who executed him. An officer fired the finishing shot into the nape of his neck.

Belgians Hear Eisenhower In Parliament

Brussels, Nov. 9 (A.P.).—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower received an ovation from the Belgian Parliament today when he told its members that the United Nations were fighting "an enemy who understands only one thing—force—and we intend to apply force to the utmost."

In turn, the Allied commander in chief was lauded by Premier Hubert Pierlot as the man who "launched the greatest battle of all times, and . . . won it."

Addressing both houses of Parliament in the ornate Chamber of Deputies, Eisenhower told the Belgians that, "consistent with military operations, I pledge that you will get everything we can bring you. I only ask that you understand we are doing our best."

Except for what assistance they can be given by the Allies, the bulk of the Belgians face the prospect of a heatless and hungry winter.

Eisenhower was accompanied by other high Allied army, navy and air force commanders, including Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder, Admiral Sir Bertram Ramsey, Air Marshal Sir Arthur Coningham, Lieut. Gen. W. B. Smith, Maj. Gen. S. W. E. J. Erskine and Maj. Gen. F. W. De Guingand.

Cheers greeted the mention of President Roosevelt's reelection by Frans Van Cauwelaert, president of the Chamber of Deputies.

"The fact that the American people have elected him to a fourth term as head of the United States is definite proof that the country will support him in the task of international reconstruction," Van Cauwelaert declared.

Utah Reelects Maw Governor In Close Race

Salt Lake City, Nov. 9 (A.P.).—Virtually complete returns indicated today that Gov. Herbert B. Maw had won reelection to Utah's executive chair in a photo-finish contest with Republican J. Bracken Lee.

Unofficial reports from 864 of the State's 872 voting districts gave Democrat Maw 124,048 votes to 133,713 for Lee, Mayor of Price in eastern Utah's coal fields.

It was believed no more than 200 votes were included in the eight missing precincts scattered in five counties. Their returns are not expected before the official canvass on November 27.

The apparent victory gave the Democrats one more than half of the Nation's governorships. The count stands at 25 to 23 in their favor a net gain of three governorships.

These resulted from Democrats displacing the GOP in Massachusetts, Ohio, Missouri, Idaho and Washington, while in Indiana and North Dakota Republicans took over from Democrats. Before the election the lineup was 26 Republican Governors and 22 Democrats.

Besides scoring upsets in two States, the Republicans lected Governors in six others which gave popular majorities to President Roosevelt. They returned incumbents in Minnesota, Illinois, Connecticut, Montana and Delaware, while in New Hampshire Mayor Charles M. Dale of Portsmouth was successful despite a 10,000-vote majority for Roosevelt in the State.

Republican incumbents who were reelected in the face of the Roosevelt tide in their States were Edward J. Thye, Minnesota; Dwight H. Green, Illinois; Raymond E. Baldwin, Connecticut; Sam C. Ford, Montana, and Walter W. Bacon, Delaware.

In Washington where Democratic Senator Mon C. Wallgren defeated Republican Gov. Arthur B. Langlie.

Grandmother Thrills To School Diploma

Los Angeles (U.P.).—Mrs. Cora V. Hatfield didn't have a chance as a girl in Texas to finish her schooling, but as a 48-year-old grandmother she recently received her high school diploma from Metropolitan High School here.

Mrs. Hatfield was "excited as a school girl" when she marched up to receive the sheepskin. At the end of the special two-year term she had three A's and two B's on her report card.

100,000 Killed by 2d Ukraine Army In Yugoslavia

London, Nov. 9 (A.P.).—Russian troops, in a new threat to besieged Budapest from the northeast, broke the Germans' Middle Tisza River line on a 40-mile front today and advanced 17 miles beyond, to within a mile of the vital Budapest-East Slovakian Railway, Moscow announced tonight.

The Soviet bulletin also said that Marshal Rodin Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukraine Army had killed more than 100,000 Germans and Hungarians and had captured 42,160 for a total of 142,160 since October 6, when the invasion of Hungary began.

May Have Been Cut

Berlin implied that the Russians already had cut the Budapest-East Slovakian Railway, a development which might force the Germans to begin a slow withdrawal into central Czechoslovakia and hasten the expected fall of Budapest.

In a wide encircling move on Budapest, other Soviet troops were reported by Berlin to have crossed the Danube River at Dunafoldvar, 43 miles south of the capital whose reinforced defenders still are holding the Russians on the southern rim of the city.

French radio reports said Russian units attacking in Budapest's outskirts had crossed the Danube and penetrated into the Buda district, but neither Moscow nor Berlin told of any Soviet entry into the city on the road to Austria and Germany.

Strike in Yugoslavia

In Yugoslavia another Red army once more was on the move. Berlin's communique said, without Soviet confirmation, that units of Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukin's Third Ukraine Army had crossed the Danube at Apatin, 15 miles south of the Hungarian frontier and gained a foothold on the west bank only 15 miles northeast of the big communications center of Osijek and 142 miles east of the Croat capital of Zagreb.

Allied Mediterranean air force headquarters estimated that 100,000 Germans were in danger of being trapped in southern Yugoslavia and Albania, and that 250,000 other enemy troops were clinging to the northern part of Yugoslavia.

A Rome dispatch telling of the situation in Yugo slavia said the United States Fifteenth Air Force and the Balkan air force, the latter now bolstered by a large transfer of RAF squadrons to it, were hammering the Axis lines of retreat.

LEAGUE

From Page 1

Stettinius said that it had been "a fruitful discussion."

"We are encouraged by the support that the American republics are showing for the basic ideas embodied in the Dumbarton Oaks proposals," Stettinius said in a statement released by the State Department.

"We received assurances today that all the American republics are giving careful study to the proposals and are going to bring their comments to the group.

New League Not Ruled Out

"Some of the heads of missions have already placed the views of their governments before the group."

The Uruguayan plan said it would be enough "to introduce in the structure of the League of Nations . . . reforms which may be deemed expedient, in order that it be able to apply nad satisfactorily fulfill" the promotion of world security.

However, the memorandum continued, Uruguay would accept a new league if the old one could not be revived and modernized.

The new league should "make of the world a unit where law and order will prevail," the statement declared.

Doctrines of racial superiority and the use of force, the document added, should be repudiated by the ne worganization which should consolidate in itself "respect for human dignity."

If a new organization is established, Uruguay declared its executive council should provide for "no differences in prerogatives or treatment among members."

The memorandum added that "under present circumstances, but on a temporary basis, the Uruguayan government would accept" the arrangement that Britain, the United States, Russia and China have places on the organization's security council.

Four Rules Suggested

The Dumbarton Oaks plan contemplates permanent places on the council for these four nations.

The council of the world organization should have specified rules to guarantee the rights of small nations, Uruguay declared.

These possible rules were suggested:

1. Requiring special majorities for important decisions.

2. According nations not represented on the council the right to have "voice but not vote" in council deliberations directly concerning them.

3. Specifying beforehand the precise powers of nations on the executive council "which will be elected by the assembly."

4. Fixing the number of nations on the council "in order to avoid any contingencies contrary to the rights and personalities of the small nations."

The Dumbarton Oaks plan left unsettled the question of voting procedure on the council, although it provided for six elected members, four permanent members at the start and "in due course," a permanent place for France.

New Women House Members

Associated Press WIREPHOTO

BOTH DEMOCRATS — Among new members elected to the United States House of Representatives were Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse (D., Conn.), above, and Mrs. Emily Taft Douglas (D., Ill.)

WAR

From Page 1

juncture of the French, Luxembourg and German frontiers.

Clearing Hurtgen Forest

To the north inside Germany, the U. S. First Army lashed out in limited attacks southeast of Aachen.

The communique reported small gains in the face of heavy enemy pressure south of Vossenack, 13 miles southeast of Aachen, and said Germans still were being cleared from Hurtgen Forest west of Schmidt, 2 miles farther south.

The Berlin radio declared an all-out offensive was in preparation on this front. It said the Americans used smoke screens and began a heavy artillery barrage north of Aachen.

An Associated Press front dispatch said the battle for southwest Holland ended at dawn today in the winter's first snowfall as Allied troops wiped out the last German rearguards south of the Maas River at Moerdijk, seizing 350 prisoners and several self-propelled guns.

Two Spans Destroyed

Polish troops in the forefront of the last assault arrived at the Moerdijk Bridge, one of the longest in Europe, and confirmed RAF reports that two spans had been destroyed by the enemy.

On flooded Walcheren Island, only two pockets of from 100 to 150 Germans remained north of Middleburg, and these were marooned and signaled they wanted to surrender. Another force on the north shore gave up without even asking for terms.

On the southern end of the Western Front, the United States Seventh Army, driving deeper into the Vosges Mountains, captured the village of Les Baraques and fought to within 3½ miles of St. Die, guarding one of the main passes through the mountains to the Rhine.

Yanks Take Migneville

In a push 2 miles northwest of Reherry, doughboys of the northern limits of the Seventh Army Front seized Migneville, which is 15 miles southeast of where the Third Army is operating around Moncourt.

Opposition along the entire front was described as light to moderate, and American tanks were brought into the battles on only a limited scale. American casualties were described as light.

Berlin said the Americans were ready to throw 500,000 men and 1000 tanks at Fortress Germany.

Golf-Ball 'Divers' Save Youth From Creek Beds

Minneapolis (U.P.).—Curtis Arneson and Wesley Robertson, a pair of Minneapolis "deep-creek" divers, turned their skill to saving a life recently, though most of their diving is for recovery of golf balls which plop into a water hazard along Meadowbrook golf course.

When Lars Fischer, jr., 15, got stuck in the quaking bed of the creek, a policeman hurrying to the rescue knew he couldn't wade out to the youngster because he probably would be pulled down himself. Lookout about anxiously for some speedy assistance, he saw the junior high school pair and they swam to the rescue.

They learned all the tricks in diving for the golf balls now so valuable that the two managed to make $1000 last summer.

They carry drawstring sacks for deposit of balls for which they often crawl along on the creek bottom on knees and hands, groping for the precious pills.

Inspired Daughter's Name

Boston (U.P.).—Her father's occupation prompted movie starlet Mildred Law's screen name. Papa Thomas McMurray is a captain at the East Boston police station.

New Robot Raids Stir Speculation

London, Nov. 9 (A.P.).—A sharp flurry of robot bombs which kept Southern England antiaircraft and fighter defenses busy during the night and killed at least five persons stirred speculation today that the Nazis have established new launching sites in northern Holland.

The German radio again declared that the "flying telegraph pole" long range rocket V-2, was being used against England.

"Speculation on where the launching sites of V-1 and V-2 are situated is fruitless" said a broadcast by transocean, Nazi propaganda agency. "The sites are most skillfully camouflaged. It is impossible to find out where they are."

The robot bombs came over the Channel from the northeast. Antiaircraft guns destroyed some in the air, fighter planes chased others, and at least one bomb fell into the sea.

The spectacular action was watched by many persons, but others hurried for shelters. One couple and their two children buried under the wreckage of their home were rescued.

Damage to houses was heavy over a wide area. Rescue work continued all night.

A Transocean broadcast implied that V-2 rockets might be directed against the United States.

"England and other far distant objectives are to be bombarded on an increased scale," the propaganda organization declared.

A Stockholm report said experiments with V-2 might be going on in isolated sections of Norway.

The Berlin correspondent of Aftonbladet wrote that V-2 was "at least as much the theme of general conversation" in Berlin as the reelection of President Roosevelt and the silence of Hitler.

The Stockholm newspaper Tidningen reported from a private source that V-2 could be launched from a plane, but said the launching blast blew two out of gve planes to bits.

Soldier Gangs Rounded Up in Rome, Naples

Rome, Nov. 9 (A.P.).—Two gangs, composed in part of deserters from the American and Canadian armies and the French Foreign Legion, have been rounded up by military police after terrorizing Rome and Naples for several weeks, it was announced today:

One of the gangs, led by a 25-year-old American soldier from Pennsylvania, was made up entirely of soldiers—six Americans and two Canadians, all AWOL.

The second, led by a Yugoslav and a Corsican, both deserters from the French Foreign Legion, included five other deserters from the legion, one American deserter and five Italian and Spanish civilians.

Wrecked Jeep Gives Clew

The American and Canadian soldiers face court-martial.

The all-soldier gang is accused of the automobile of Lieut. Gen. acts of violence, including the theft of the automobile of Lieut. Gen Wladslaw Anders, commander of the Polish Army Corps, and the kidnaping of several military policemen between Rome and Naples.

The break-up of this gang came after a jeep was wrecked in Rome and one of the Canadian members was injured. Military police charged that he carried a revolver taken from an American MP on the Rome-Naples road.

A guard was placed on the jeep and that night another Canadian, dressed as a United States officer, and an American dressed as a staff sergeant, came to get it. Arrested, they tried to shoot their way out but were overpowered. The prisoners were found to be ill and they were confined in a Rome hospital.

Then fellow gangsters appeared at the hospital attired as military policemen in an effort to "spring" the prisoners, but police scared them off.

From the three men in custody the police learned about the haunts of the gang and captured four more of the deserters at a Rome cafe.

The larger gang, which used U. S. Army weapons as part of its equipment, was taken into custody on information from a Spanish civilian.

Lieut. Col. Geoffrey White, deputy provost marshal in Rome, said the fact that many men AWOL were stranded in Rome without funds was responsible for the crimes. He said that even though these two gangs were broken up, it was probable that similar gangs in Rome and other cities remained.

Gardner to Advise Against Changes in Homes of Soldiers

What the family of the returning serviceman can do to make home the place he thought so longingly about during the months and years away at war will be discused Monday at 8:15 p. m., over Station WINX, by Fraser Gardner, whose "For the Veteran" program is the only broadcast in Washington exclusively for veterans.

"Don't move the rocking chair! Leave the desk right where it was! That's where he pictures it tonight, so don't change it," Gardner counsels.

Establishment of a citizens' committee now is what is needed, Gardner points out, to give the men and women returning from service "comradely asistance" in the solution of their back-to-civilian-life problems.

Three Towns Hold 27

Ferdinand, Vt. (U.P.).—The "unorganized" towns of Averill, Lewis and Ferdinand cover 100 square miles of Essex County and have a total population of 27.

He Won Without Making a Speech

Associated Press WIREPHOTO

KISSING WIFE GOODBY—Marine Sergt. Edward J. Barrett, Democrat, elected Illinois Secretary of State even though he made no speeches during the campaign, kisses his wife goodby as he leaves Chicago for the Great Lakes, Ill., naval training station to await his discharge into distant areas has created a supply problem of great magnitude, requiring adjustments in the supply organization.

INGERSOLL

From Page 1

"Admiral Ingersoll has been selected for this important expanded command because of his experience in accomplishing, in an outstanding manner, the logistic support of all naval forces in the Mediterranean and European areas, as part of his duties as commander in chief of the United States Atlantic fleet since January 1, 1942."

Tells of His Achievements

Forrestal called Ingersoll's accomplishments "one of the great achievements of the war." Under his direction, the Secretary said, the Navy has convoyed 11,500 ships across the Atlantic since the start of the war, and in collaboration with the Royal Navy has escorted thousands more. In addition, his fleet has helped to bottle up the German navy and has run down German blockade runners.

Admiral Has Nothing to Say

Ingersoll, a guest at Forrestal's news conference, characteristically had nothing to say about his accomplishments or future assignment, which he will assume November 15. Before the conference he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal with a citation that said in part:

"Admiral Ingersoll conducted a sustained offensive against enemy submarines in this vital combat area (Atlantic) and, as a result of his unfailing judgment, resourcefulness and initiative, maintained an uninterrupted flow of United States troops and their supplies across the Atlantic. Distinctively successful in the expeditious establishment and efficient operation of numerous training activities within his command, Admiral Ingersoll was also responsible for the logistic support of all naval forces in the Mediterranean and European theaters of war."

Ingersoll, with headquarters in San Francisco, will operate as a link between the Pacific commander, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, and Navy supply officials in Washington, channeling the millions of tons of supplies from rail lines to ships, then to the fighting fronts.

Other Shifts Involved

Simultaneously with Admiral Ingersoll's change, Forrestal said, the following flag command shifts will become effective:

Vice Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, who has maintained his headquarters in Brazil as commander of the Fourth Fleet, will take Ingersoll' place as commander in chief, United States Atlantc Fleet, with rank of admiral.

Rear Admiral William R. Munroe, commander of the Third Naval District, will replace Ingram as Fourth Fleet commander, also with a rank of admiral.

Vice Admiral David W. Bagley, commander of the Western Sea Frontier, will replace Vice Admiral Robert Ia Ghormley as commander of the Hawaiian Sea Frontier. Forrestal added that Ghormley is preparing for a new assignment which will be announced in the near future.

CONGRESS

From Page 1

Francis J. Myers will be determined. The vote is so close that ballots from the armed forces will decide the contest.

Missouri, Pennsylvania Affected

Gov. Forrest C. Donnell, Republican, of Missouri, is leading Democratic Attorney General Roy McKittrick by a slim majority, with service ablots stil to be counted.

Service votes will decide four House contests in Missouri, too. These are in the First, Second, Third and Eighth Districts, all now held by Republicans

Pennsylvania and California each have one House seat still in doubt, and in Pennsylvania the soldier votes again will decide.

It is possible that the soldier ballot in a few States which count them late may upset present figures slightly in cases where the pluralities were very slight.

Truman to Aid White House Capitol Amity

By the Associated Press

Senator Harry S. Truman's first vice presidential goal is to develop a warm friendship between the White House and Capitol Hill.

The 60-year-old Missourian, believes he was what it takes to create an understanding that will prevent ruptures such as have occurred in this and preceding Congresses.

His chief weapon, he believes, is his affection for most fellow Senators—and their's for him.

Truman discussed these hopes with reporters on his transcontinental campaign tour.

hi-Vv..... ..

As chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee, the Vice President elect brought together members of both parties into as friendly a group as ever worked together in Congress

Not once—in 3½ years of investigations—was there a minority or dissenting report.

"As a Democrat and a friend and admirer of President Roosevelt, I shall feel free to dicuss frankly with him just how my friends in the Senate feel on isues which concern him and the Congress," Truman told newsmen.

President Roosevelt last crossed swords with Congres swhen he sent a stinging message in rejecting a tax bill. Angered, the Congress pased it over his opposition.

The message stirred Senator Alben W. Barkley (Ky.) to resign as majority leader. His rebellious speech brought cheers from his colleagues who immediately re-elected him.

Subsequently the relationship between Barkley and the White House was restored to a friendly footing, but other wounds in the Senate did not heal so quickly.

Truman thinks he can prevent a recurrence of sc huclashes when he takes over the Senate gavel from Vice President Wallace in January.

Being "first and foremost, a Senator," as he puts it, "I think I understand the Senate."

LEYTE

From Page 1

numerous Japanese strong points.

As the weather cleared, aircraft again swept the skies. American Leyte-based fighters made numerous low-level bombing and staffing attacks on enemy installations, shipping and concentrations.

The Japanese are reinforcing Leyte on a scale unprecedented in the Pacific campaign, underlining MacArthur's analysis of the island's importance.

The estimate of enemy losses both dead and wounded and approximately 5000 men dispersed into the foothills who no longer are considered a unified fighting force.

On Every Type of Vessel

The fresh troops have come by every type of vessel from barges to warships. The largest concentration was landed at Ormoc during the night of November 1. But a headquarters spokesman told Associated Press Correspondent Al Dopkins that reinforcements had slipped into the island as late as a few hours ahead of the raging typhoon which hit the island this week.

The reinforcements have built up the Japanese force to the 35,000 men who were in the original garrison. But in announcing that the first Leyte Island defensive troops, backboned by the Sixteenth Division, has been "practically destroyed," MacArthur reported completion of one of his goals—elimination of this division.

The Yanks were bogged down south of Limon by the worst fighting weather of the campaign. A howling typhoon brought sheets of rain, knee-deep mud and slime.

CASUALTY

From Page 1

at 5501 1st st. nw.

Safe:

Staff Sergt. Raymond G. Harris, 34, husband of Mrs. Martha Cook Harris, 6202 Monroe st., Cheverly, Md.

Killed within nine days of each other, the Mooney brothers had been in the service since 1941. They were natives of North Carolina where both excelled in sports at the Mocksville, N. C., high school.

Lieutenant Mooney, who went overseas with an infantry unit last July, died September 13 in an auto accident at Modave, Belgium, where he served as a motor maintenance officer. His brother, also an infantryman, was killed in action in Italy on September 22. Sergeant Mooney was a former regular Army man and had seen three years' service in Panama. Their father, C. B. Mooney, lives in Edenton, N. C.

Aerial Gunner Is Proud HeTook Donkey inPlane

Bainbridge, Ga. (U.P.).—Technical Sergt. James Jarvie of Philadelphia is one aerial gunner who believes in making history.

He flew in a B-17 in the initial shuttle raid of the war, and that made history. The trip was from England to a base in Africa via Regenberg, Germany.

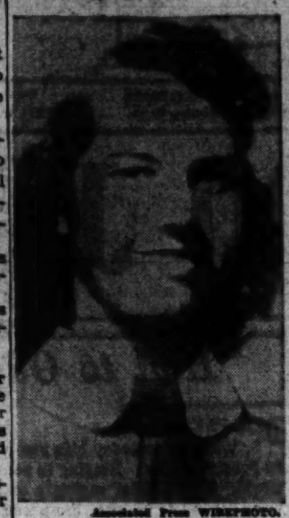
Not content with that, Jarvie and his fellow crew members bought a donkey, equipped it with an oxygen mask and warm clothing, and then took off with the donkey to bomb Germany again and return to England.

Says Jarvie jubilantly: "That's the first donkey on record that ever flew a bombing mission."

Private Is 'King for Day'

Gloucester, Mass. (U.P.).—Pvt. Joseph Albert, 28, a former fisherman, knows what it feels like to be literally "King for a Day." Albert served in that regal capacity at a colorful ceremony dating back to the twelfth century of Gloucester's Portuguese colony.

Schoolgirl Found Slain



Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

MARY ROSS LACOMBE, 14-year-old Salem, Mass., high school sophomore, whose body was found Wednesday in an isolated spot near the high school athletic field. District Attorney Hugh A. Cregg said the slaying was the work of a "sex fiend"

ROOSEVELT

From Page 1

be appointed.

Washington harvested the usual crop of post-election rumors about Cabinet shakeups, including the perennial that Secretary of Labor Perkins was quitting. Whether well founded or not, there also has been talk that 73-year-old Secretary of State Hull might resign because of his health.

The most likely Cabinet development would be the resignation of Postmaster General Frank Walker to make way for Robert E. Hannegan, the Democratic national chairman. The chairman customarily has gone into the Cabinet to head the Postal Department. Walker, himself a former chairman, did that. So did James A. Farley.

On the 1944 election scoreboard, relatively few States had turned in counts from all their precincts. New York and Ohio were the only big ones.

Complete returns from the Empire State, home of both Roosevelt and Dewey, gave the former 3,292,869 and the latter 3,032,856.

It was was the biggest ballot in history for New York, and Roosevelt won only because two minor parties, the Liberal and American Labor, amassed more than 800,000 votes for him.

Ohio went for Dewey, 1,588,045 to 1,572,735

Iowa, with all precincts heard from, stood Republican, 547,823 to 497,376.

All the other complete States were little ones; Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont. Vermont went Republican, the other two Democratic.

CHURCHILL

From Page 1

lap of the race that great efforts must be forthcoming. It is no moment now to slacken."

Churchill said that a pause in the Allied advance was "inevitable." He pointed out that in the last few months the supreme command had concentrated upon bringing up supplies and reinforcements and improving harbors, in addition to directing the fighting in Holland and Italy.

Grimly he declared that the operations in Italy, Holland and Belgium had cost the British and Canadian forces "very heavy losses."

"Great Operations" to Come

"I think it right to point out in a precise and definite manner," he added, "that these two important battles . . . are only the prelude to further great operations which must be conducted in the months to come."

In discussing the American election, he paid tribute "to both the great parties for the manner in which the interests of the Allies and the prosecution of the war have been held high above the dust of partisanship" and to Dewey for his "sportsmanlike manner" in defeat.

"America," he said, "has given an example to the world of how democratic institutions can be worked with the utmost vigor and permanent interests of the state." freedom without injury to the

Praising the British press, Parliament and public officials for refraining from "mixing ourselves up" in the American campaign, he said he felt free now to express "on personal grounds the very great joy it gives me to know that my wartime and intimate cooperation with President Roosevelt will be continued in the months that lie immediately before us."

"These are months profoundly interwoven with the future of both our countries, and also we trust, the future association of our two countries will be interwoven with the peace and progress of the whole world," he said.

Commission Balks At Proposal to Name Ohio Ave.

The National Capital Park and Planning Commission yesterday frowned on a bill changing the name of Bladensburg rd. to Ohio ave. and suggested that two blocks of Indiana ave. nw. between 5th and 7th sts. be renamed Ohio ave.

In a report to the House District Committee, the commission said:

"While the section proposed is relatively short, it is strategically situated and destined for material improvement when the municipal center and the public library are completed. As Ohio was one of the early States admitted to the union, it would seem more appropriate to have an avenue in the original city named after it than in some outlying, remote section seldom seen by visitors."

The two blocks on Indiana ave., suggested for renaming, were formerly a part of Louisiana ave.

CHOOSE A PEPSI...
PEPSI-COLA
...CHASE A THIRST
Pepsi-Cola Company, Long Island City, N. Y.
Franchised Bottler: Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., Washington, D. C.

Play Hostess to your Family!
Dazzle the family tonight with an appetite-intriguing main dish of Dorcet De Luxe Chicken à la King. Solid pieces of plump tender chicken with luscious hot-house mushrooms and fresh vegetables...deliciously blended in rich cream sauce dashed with piquant zesty sherry. Really thrifty, too! No bones ... no waste. Just chicken at its tasty best—ready to serve!
Dorset De Luxe CHICKEN à la KING

QUALITY
CARPEL'S
FROSTED FOODS
Quick frosted
FRUITS & VEGETABLES
DISTRIBUTED BY
THE CARPEL CORPORATION
BALTIMORE — WASHINGTON — RICHMOND
NORFOLK — ROANOKE

Md. Turkeys Now Available For Civilians

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP).—The Federal restrictions on Eastern Shore turkeys have been lifted with the result that prospects appear brighter for civilian turkey dinners this Thanksgiving, Niles Baldrige, War Food Administration for Maryland, announced today.

The rule was that all Eastern Shore turkeys processed had to be offered to the armed forces. However, any processed since Monday may be purchased by civilians. Baldrige said the order never did apply to turkeys raised on the Western Shore.

OPA ceiling prices on young turkeys, now effective in Baltimore City, and Baltimore, Anne Arundel, Calvert, Carroll, Charles, Frederick, Howard, Montgomery, Prince George's and Washington counties, are:

Bought alive and sold alive, 47 cents per pound; bought alive and sold dressed, 54 cents; bought dressed and sold dressed, 52 cents; bought and sold Kosher dressed and plucked, 53 cents; bought drawn—light, 62 cents, medium, 61 cents, heavy, 60 cents.

WFA to Resume Buying of Apples In Bushel Baskets

Charlottesville, Nov. 9 (Spl.)—A resumption of apple purchases in the four-State Appalachian area for Lend-Lease purposes by the War Food Administration has been announced by James R. DuShane, WFA representative at Winchester, with the statement that, contrary to original plans, fruit will be accepted packed in "export tub" bushel baskets.

In its first announcement of October 5, the WFA offered to purchase apples, ranging in sizes from two to two and on-half inches, packed only in barrels and boxes.

Prices, which wil lcontinue under the new order, range from $6 per barrel for two to two and one-half inch fruit. Growers and shippers in Albemarle County at the time of the original announcement expressed the general belif that the prices were equitable in comparison with domestic sales and have sold the WFA an estimated 20 carloads to date.

Under the new announcement, all offers of apples must be filed with the WFA Winchester office by next Monday, while acceptances will be made during this month and December.

Md. School Needs To Be Discussed

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP).—The needs of the public school system in Maryland will be the subject of a panel discussion sponsored by the Maryland State division of the American Association of University Women at Goucher College tomorrow.

Among those participating will be Thomas G. Pullen, jr., State superintendent of schools, who will discuss educational policies of the Marland school system, and Earle T. Hawkins, State supervisor of schools, who will speak on probable developments in high schools.

Other speakers will include: Mrs. Durward Sandifer, president of the Maryland League of Women Voters; Mrs. Stanley G. Cook, president of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. John Shaw, president of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs; David E. Weglein, superintendent of Baltimore City schools, and James M. Hepbron, of the Baltimore Criminal Justice Commission, Inc.

Va. Polio Cases Still Continue

Richmond, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—The poliomyelitis total in Virginia since June 1 reached 721 cases today when six new cases were reported to the Bureau of Communicable Diseases.

The new cases included one from Fluvanna County, one from Prince George, Pulaski and Rockingham and from the cities of Roanoke and Richmond.

Total for the week ended Tuesday was eight as compared with the previous week's 25 cases.

The bureau, in reporting the new cases of infantile paralysis, stated that there were only five cases of measles reported throughout the State, 20 cases of whooping cough, and that diarrhea and dysentery were the only diseases besides polio slightly above the normal for this time of the year.

Rep.-Elect Daughton Resigns State Senate

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—Ralph Daughton, newly elected representative from the Second Congressional District, has resigned as State senator, but is still undecided about his baseball plans.

Daughton, president of the Piedmont League, said today he hasn't reached any decision in connection with the Piedmont position. It is believed, however, that he will remain as president, if the league directors so desire.

Memorial Rite Set

Martinsburg, W. Va., Nov. 9.—A memorial service for members of the armed forces living in this territory who have lost their lives during the present war will be held in the chapel of Newton D. Baker General Hospital here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, it was announced today.

Md. Brakeman Killed

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP).—Basil A. Dobbins, 49-year-old brakeman for the Western Maryland Railroad, was killed in the Port Covington yards last night when he jumped from a slow-moving freight into the path of a locomotive coming in the opposite direction.

'War Bond Commandos' Start Tour

FINANCIAL FIGURES—Starting a bond selling tour as "War Bond Commandos" are (left to right) Lorraine Bernier, Ridgewood, N. J.; Shirley Page, Baltimore; Willett Smith, Dallas; Dorothy Williams, Dallas; Ruth Gillan, Long Island, N. Y.; Rusty Gilbert, Brooklyn

Md. OPA Finds Compliance At New High

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP).—M. Shakman Katz, district price executive for the Office of Price Administration, reported today a survey of 5,360 Maryland food stores had disclosed the highest compliance with price-posting regulations since the advent of price control.

He also said that 75 per cent of the stores were in full compliance with price ceilings, against 64 per cent in September. There are 6,466 food stores in the State.

Fifteen basic food items were checked, including meats, fresh fruits and vegetables, butter and cheese.

Of the food stores covered in the Maryland survey, 2.8 per cent showed price violations, against 4.75 per cent in September; while 7.75 per cent showed posting violations, against 10 per cent in September.

Outlook Gloomy On Black Pepper, Says Va. Dealer

Richmond, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—The Nation will run out of black pepper within about 13 months unless a new source of supply can be opened, and synthetics or substitutes will have to be used in the manufacture of sausage and other meat products, Richard H. Cardwell, jr., member of the OPA advisory committee and general manager of C. W. Antrim & Sons, said today.

The recent action of the OPA in raising the black pepper ceiling price from 6½ to 10 cents will have no effect in Virginia, Cardwell said. Virginia dealers have been all along, an dprospects are this able to fill their 40 per cent quotas condition will continue until the Nation's pepper stock is exhausted. The only difference now observable, he said, is that reserve stocks are running low in consumers' hands, and "the 40 per cent supply won't stretch but so far."

Black pepper is used particularly in Virginia for Smithfield hmas and Virginia sausage.

County Police to Learn Judo From FBI Expert

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP).—Law enforcement officers from six Maryland counties and Baltimore City will attend tomorrow a conference called by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

John W. Vincent, special agent in charge of the Baltimore FBI field office, said representatives were expected from Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, Cecil, Harford and Howard counties in addition to the city.

Special demonstrations of judo, lectures on testimon and courtroom behavior as well as matters of general interest, are included on the conference program.

Drivers' Delay to Cost Gas Coupons

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP).—Motorists who have not yet applied for new gasoline ration books will be docked one A coupon for every full 16-day period of delay, the State Office of Price Administration announced today.

Approximately 216,676 Maryland motorists began using the new No. 13 coupons valid from today until December 22. When six No. 14 coupons will become valid on December 22.

County's Incomplete Ballot To Be Weighed by State Heads

Richmond, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—Governor Darden said today he will confer soon with Attorney General A. P. Staples concerning the situation in Pittsylvania County where officials failed to print ballots for the two constitutional amendments the rest of the State passed on Incomplete tabulations show the Literary Fund "freeze" amendment was favored by 77,000 voters to 43,000 who voted against it. The other amendment, to authorize the General Assembly to set up a pardon board, was not actively opposed in any section.

Indications are the vote for the Literary Fund amendment will be so heavy that the Pittsylvania vote, even if it had been against the amendment, would have no effect on the outcome. It is possible, however, a special election may be called since constitutional amendments are supposed to be passed on by all the people.

Governor Darden backed both amendments. The Literary Fund amendment was opposed by many school leaders who expressed the belief the change would jeopardize the fund, which is set up primarily to aid localities in their school building programs.

"I want it understood," Governor Darden said today, "that I believe that the school building program is fully as important as the school people do. I have never agreed with them that passage of the amendment would jeopardize that program for one minute. I certainly am not trying to hold up the building program."

The amendment is permissive as it only authorized the General Assembly to use literary fund accruals as long as the fund remains as much as $10,000,000 for other school purposes, including teacher retirement. The fund, which now stands at more than $12,000,000, will remain as is—a trust fund, interest from which goes to school support—until the General Assembly decides what is to be done with the amount above $10,000,000.

Governor Darden today said he thought the student loan fund he advocated might be set up within the literary fund itself in order that any money it earns may be returned to the localities as is the other interest earned by the fund.

Record Virginia Vote Nears 385,000

Richmond, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—The all-time record vote in Virginia approached 385,000 today as additional tabulation was made of the flood of ballots Tuesday which placed the State in the Roosevelt column and put in office all nine Democratic nominees for Congress.

With 33 of the 1715 precincts missing, the vote was 239,780 for Roosevelt and 144,740 for Dewey. This made a total of 384,520, and gave to Roosevelt a plurality of 95,040.

Republican gains in this election gave that party its strongest support since the 1928 contest between Hoover and Smith, when Virginia went Republican. Four years ago, Roosevelt had a plurality of 127,298.

Albemarle Group To Study Postwar Job Projects

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 9 (Spl.)—A three-man steering committee to direct activities in conducting a survey of the expected postwar employment situation in Charlottesville and Albemarle County, was decided upon at a meeting of planning officers, civic club representatives and governmental employment agency officials from the city-county area, held yesterdya at the courthouse.

The session elected to conduct a surve of both tthe city and county to ascertain the number of employes that will be needed during the postwar era, after which it was decided additional surveys could be made to learn the estimated number of persons who will be seeking employment here at the end of hostilities.

The survey will be conducted on a step-by-step basis, taking first industrial and manufacturing groups, after which service organizations and retail outlets will be studied. Work of the surveys will be apportioned to the various clubs by the three-man steering committee.

Bids Opened on Two Va. Road Projects

Richmond, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—The State Highway Department opened bids today on two road construction projects, one of them in Louisa County and the other in Accomack.

B. W. Jackson of Richmond was low at $26,064 on a contract calling for 2.2 miles of 4-inch concrete widening on Routes 22 and 522 in Louisa. The work will begin 2.14 miles west of Cuckoo and end at the western city limits of Mineral.

The low bidder on the Accomack project has not yet been determined.

Baltimore Livestock

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP) (WFA Office of Distribution).—CATTLE—Receipts, 850; 350 holdovers not included; slaughter steers and heifers fairly active; steady with Wednesday; cows active, strong to 25 higher; bulls, stockers and feeders active, unchanged; trucked in choice fed steers 1075 lbs., 13.50; early top; lead good steers around 1200 lbs., 15.50; bulk good, 14.25@14.50; medium to good, 11.50@14.00, mostly 12.50 up; common, 9.00@11.00; load good heifers around 560 lbs., 12.00; bulk common and medium, 9.00@12.50; medium beef cows, 10.50@12.00; cutter and common, 8.50@10.00; canners, 5.50@6.00, mostly 5.50 up; beef bulls, 11.50@12.00; top sausage bulls, 11.00; bulk 8.00@10.50; medium and good feeder steers all represented weights, 10.00@12.50; common, 7.00@9.50.

CALVES—Receipts, 300; active, steady with Wednesday; mixed lots, good and choice 120 to 250 lb. vealers, 15.00 to mainly 16.00; common and medium, 9.50@14.50; culls around 8.00 down to 5.00; medium and good 300 to 450 lb. slaughter calves, 10.00@12.50; cull and common, 6.00@9.50.

HOGS—Receipts, 950; fairly active; barrows and gilts from 180 to 240 lbs., 15 lower than Wednesday; all other weights and sows 10 lower; practical top, 14.85; good and choice 120 to 130 lbs., 13.15@13.40; 130 to 140 lbs., 13.45@13.90; 140 to 160 lbs., 14.15@14.40; 160 to 180 lbs., 14.35@14.50; 180 to 240 lbs., 14.40@14.85; 241 to 300 lbs., 13.90@14.15; good sows up to 400 lbs., 13.00@13.90; over 400 lbs., considerably lower.

SHEEP—Receipts, 130; active, steady with Wednesday; practical top, 14.50; good and choice wooled lambs mostly from 70 lbs. up, 14.00@14.50; common and medium, 9.00@12.00; culls around 7.00; choice lightweight slaughter ewes, 5.50; bulk medium and good, 3.00@5.00; culls around 1.50.

POULTRY—Market firm; receipts very light; roasters, fryers and broilers, Rocks and crosses mostly 32. Fowl, colored, 29@29½; Leghorns, 22; few higher.

Brooks to Hang For Slaying of Md. Widow

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP).—Army Private Donald H. Brooks, 31, was sentenced today to be hanged for the hammer slaying of Mrs. Mary B. Finn, 63-year-old widow who was killed last July 1—the day she was to have been married.

The slim, bespectacled Brooks, who is related by marriage to Charles Rommel, the man Mrs. Finn planned to wed, stood impassively as the formal death sentence was pronounced by Judge John T. Tucker and J. Abner Sayler in criminal court.

Brooks was committed to the custody of the sheriff, to be confined in the penitentiary until Governor O'Conor sets the date for the execution. Brooks was convicted last October 6 of murdering Mrs. Finn.

Testimony at the trial by a woman and who was taken by Brooks to New York after the killing was that the soldier, then AWOL, told her he had broken into Rommel's house to take money he knew was kept there. Surprised by Mrs. Finn, he beat her to death with a hammer, the prosecution asserted.

About $600 was stolen from the home, where Mrs. Finn had stayed overnight because of a burglary scare in the neighborhood. Rommel found her body when he returned from work the morning of July 1.

19 Virginians In Captive List

By the Associated Press

The names of 19 Virginians were included in a list released by the War Department yesterday of prisoners of war of Germany.

The men and their nearest of kin from northern Virginia included:

Pvt. Harry E. Seekford, mother, Mrs. Florie Seekford, Harrisonburg.

Corpl. Derk Slothouber, mother, Mrs. Johanna Slothouber, Route 3, Vienna.

Lieut. William C. Symons, mother, Mrs. Mildred Rudacille, Front Royal.

Second Lieut. Robert G. Taylor, father, Albion Taylor, 1309 South Thomas st., Arlington.

Staff Sergt. Gordon A. Zimmerman, mother, Mrs. Katherine Zimmerman, 3310 23rd., Arlington.

Sergt. Robert R. Butler, jr.

Winchester, Va., Nov. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butler, sr., have been advised that their son, Staff Sergt. Robert R. Butler, jr., has been missing in action since October 19. Sergeant Butler, a gunner on a Liberator bomber, wrote his last letter home on the date he was reported missing.

Md. Doctor, 65, Killed by Auto

Emmitsburg, Md., Nov. 9 (AP).—Dr. Brook I. Jamison, 65, for a number of years a practicing physician at Emmitsburg, died last night of a fractured skull after he was struck by an automobile while he was walking along Route 15 south of Emmitsburg, State Trooper Bruce Bruchey reported.

Bruchey said no charges had been preferred against E. G. Terpenning of Thurmont, operator of the car, who told police he was passing a truck and did not see Dr. Jamison.

Terpenning said he stopped after the impact, discovered that Dr. Jamison was badly injured but when he returned from Emmitsburg with Dr. W. R. Cadle, the man had died.

Va. Bankers to Attend Rural Credit Parley

Blacksburg, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—Virginia bankers will come here Frida for a two-day school on farm credit, sponsored by the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and the State Bankers' Association.

The school, to be attended principally by county bankers, is planned to bring attention of all engaged in agriculture to the facilities and assistance offered them by banks throughout the State, and to improve the relationship between the banker and farmer.

Baby Gets Rude Shock Licking Light Socket

South Boston, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—Sixteen-months-old George Russ, jr.'s, natural curiosity was given a rude shock (pun) yesterday when he explored a live light socket with his tongue.

The child, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Russ of South Boston, was taken to the hospital here where he is being treated for burns on his tongue.

Navy Continues Hunt For Bodies of 11 Men

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—Efforts to raise the Navy patrol plane which crashed into Hampton Roads Tuesday off Old Point were being continued by the Navy today. The search for 11 of the 13 crew members aboard also continued.

The body of Lieut. John J. Monieczny, USNR, whose widow lives here, was recovered Wednesday and the body of Henry Lynn, aviation radioman first class, USNR, was found Tuesday.

H. J. Wiswell Rites Today in Charles Town

Charles Town, W. Va., Nov. 9 (Spl.)—Graveside services will be held in Zion Episcopal Churchyard here Friday at noon for Herbert Joseph Wiswell, 64, prominent resident and industrialist, who died at his home here yesterday after a short illness.

He was a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., son of Stephen and Myra Drake Wiswell. When a child he went to Boston and was educated at Harvard and was graduated from the Harvard School of Mining Engineering. He went West and to Alaska to follow his profession. He served in World War I with a commission as captain.

Twenty-five years ago he came here as manager of the Alba Marl Lime Company, and continued in that position until 1930 when he became associated with the Central Chemical Compan as local manager. In 1939 he was made assistant cashier of Peoples Bank here and relinquished his duties there only two weeks ago.

Surviving are his wife, formeryl Miss Louise Berry Moore, of this city; a son, Lieut. Stephen Wiswell, and a sister, Mrs. A. A. Brown, Greenwich, Conn.

Mrs. E R. Menefee

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 9 (AP).—Mrs. Elizabeth R. Menefee, 65, judge of the Juvenile Court of Allegheny County and former national Democratic committeewomen, who died here yesterday, will be buried tomorrow in Rose Hill Cemetery, Cumberland. Services wil be held at her home, with the Rev. Dr. Walter M. Michael, Center Street Methodist Church pastor, officiating

English Woman Comes to Home Of Md. Husband

Hagerstown, Md., Nov. 9 (AP).—An English girl who married a Maryland Army sergeant was at her husband's home in Hagerstown today after traveling to this country from England with their three-month-old daughter.

Mrs. Harry Gonso, wife of Sergt. Harry Gonso, Hagerstown, said that the baby was born during a robot bomb raid and that a bomb fell outside the hospital just as she was being delivered.

"You have no idea," Mrs. Gonso declared, "what peace of mind it gives a mother to know that her child is safe and will be until the war is over."

Sergeant Gonso is a son of the Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Gonso. He is a meteorologist with the Air Corps near London.

Va. Pair to Study Pa. Prison Farm

Richmond, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—Early authorization for the building of a million-dollar institution for first offenders in Southampton County was in prospect today.

Governor Darden announced he had sent Maj. Rice M. Youell, commissioner of corrections, and Kenny Ellis, superintendent of the Southampton prison farm, to Pennsylvania to study a similar facility there.

The State owns a 3000-acre farm, where approximately 275 prisoners now are quartered, and the contemplated million-dollar expenditure would be for minimum and intermediate security quarters for at least 500.

2 Alexandrians Found Guilty of Drunken Driving

Two Alexandria men were given $100 fines and one was sent to jail on charges of driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor following hearings yesterday before Judge Harry F. Kennedy.

Joseph E. Pettitt, 49, of RFD No. 4, was given a 60-day jail sentence in addition to the $100 fine on the liquor count, and an additional sentence of 30 days suspended for reckless driving, while a charge of driving an automobile with faulty brakes was nolle prossed.

He was arrested Wednesday in the 2800 block of Duke st. by three Alexandria police officers in a squad car.

An appeal to the Alexandria Corporation Court was entered by Harry N. Bright, 36, of 1455 Duke st., truck driver, who was fined $100 and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence on a drunk driving charge. He was arrested on October 23.

FBI Man to Speak At Parkfairfax

W. Cleon Skousen, special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will address the Parkfairfax Community Association on the wartime work of the bureau today at 8:30 p. m., at a meeting in the Charles Barrett School auditorium on Valley dr. The meeting will be conducted by Lawrence D. Beukema of 1616 Ripon pl., president.

Skousen, who is 31, has been with the FBI since 1935 and has been on duty at various field offices throughout the country.

3 Md. Men Win 25-Year Civilian Service Awards

Three nearby Maryland area men were among a group of employes of the office of Maj. Gen. Myron C. Cramer, judge advocate general of the Army, who were presented with 25-year Civilian Service Awards, the War Department announced yesterday.

Curtis L. Sowers, 1014 Woodside pkwy., Silver Spring, received the award for 26 years and 11 months of service; Roy L. Barrows of Marshall Hall, for 26 years and 10 months and Walter R. Stant, 4501 Leland st., Chevy Chase, Md., for 26 years and six months.

The Federal Diary

By Jerry Kluttz

Workers Can Get Off To Welcome President

Federal employes can be given time off this morning to greet President Roosevelt, provided they are excused by the heads of their agencies. Those who are excused must be back on the job by 10 o'clock. No general order was issued at the White House and none will be. Officials who called William H. McReynolds, administrative assistant to the President on personnel problems, were told they had full authority to excuse their employes up to 10 o'clock. The individual department head, McReynolds said, must decide if his employes can be spared. Justice, FEA and other agencies promptly excused all their employes.

KLUTTZ

Now Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, has ordered dead conscientious objectors be retained in Class 4-E. The general insists on keeping tab on draft-age men, dead or alive. He put his foot into his mouth and gave Governor Dewey a hot campaign issue when he implied men would be kept in the Army. What he'll do with the dead conscientious objectors is anyone's guess, but for proof, he had this provision inserted in the November 7 Federal Register: "A registrant placed in Class 4-E who has been separated by death from work of national importance under civilian direction shall be retained in Class 4-E. (Each such registrant shall be identified in the manner provided in 622.86.)"

Uncle Sam is on the verge of losing another able official. It's reported that Paul Appleby, deputy director of the Budget Bureau, will resign to become publisher of a newspaper. However, Appleby would prefer to remain in the Federal service, but like John Steelman, director of the Conciliation Service, he can't afford to. Appleby was Agriculture Undersecretary and he helped to organize the United Nations food conference . . . John Geisse will resign from Civil Aeronautics Administration where he is economic consultant . . . When its delayed payday plan gets into operation, Treasury will lend money to new employes from its welfare fund without interest to carry them over to the first payday. A new employe will have to wait a minimum of 25 days before he can get a full paycheck.

POLITICAL NOTES: The new Congress will have one of the first brother teams in the history of the House. Late returns show that George B. Schwabe has been elected from the First Oklahoma congressional district. He's the brother of Max Schwabe who appears to have been reelected from Missouri's Second District. The brothers are Republicans . . . Representative Victor Wickersham (D., Okla.) was making an Army tour of England a week ago. Before he left he thought he had made arrangements for an absentee ballot to be sent him. It didn't arrive. So Wickersham grabbed a plane in London on Sunday; arrived in New York on Monday, and got back to Mangum, Okla., in time to vote. This is some world we're living in . . . And another Federal worker who has been elected to Congress is Andrew J. Biemiller from Wisconsin's Fifth District. Biemiller, a former AFL organizer, was chief of the labor news unit at the War Production Board before it was moved to the OWI. He resigned from WPB to run for the seat vacated by Representative McMurray.

That old phony about all the Federal workers and their families voting for the reelection of President Roosevelt should have been buried deep by the results of Tuesday's election. More Federal workers are concentrated in and near by Washington than any other place in the Nation. Now let's see how these nearby Maryland and Virginia areas voted: Dewey carried adjoining Montgomery County by nearly 5000 votes, the tally was 19,154 for Dewey, 14,301 for Roosevelt; in Prince Georges County it was standoff, 12,674 for Dewey, and 12,916 for Roosevelt; Dewey swept Arlington County, 6745 to 5663 for Roosevelt; Dewey also took Fairfax County, 4047 to 3583 for Roosevelt, and in heavily Democratic Alexandria, Roosevelt won by nearly 1000 votes, 4391 to 3405. Added up, Dewey carried these nearby areas by well over 5000 votes. And another piece of evidence, the Democratic absentee ballot office here did a very poor business. This all appears to be pretty convincing that Federal workers vote as they please.

Civil Service has recruited more than 500 women daily to serve as nurses' aides in Army hospitals in the five days since the Nation-wide appeal was made. Women who qualify are paid $149.50 a month. . . . Henry Sellin and Helen Wilson are the leading OPA blood donors . . . Student nurses, 17 years old and upward, are needed at St. Elizabeths Hospital. Apply to Civil Service . . . Thomas Gaffney, former Panama Canal employe, has a full employment plan. He has set up an office at 55 W. 42d st., New York, from which he's promoting his ideas.

War Ballots Increase Roe Margin in Md.

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP).—Maryland boards of election supervisors were slowly making an official tabulation of the general election vote late today, with indications that the delayed service vote would not make any change in the unofficial results already reported.

In the only contest that the absentee vote might have affected—the First District congressional race between Dudley G. Roe (D.) and Wilmer Fell Davis (R.)—first official canvass reports indicated a slight gain for Roe.

Talbot County was the only Eastern Shore County to report its absentee service votes by 6:30 p. m., and added 194 votes to the 424 unofficial lead held by Roe. Davis got 98 Talbot County service votes.

At his Sudlersville home, Roe said he had private reports from four counties that his lead had jumped to 710 votes.

Some counties will complete the service vote tonight, after finishing the regular ballot canvass, but others may not have the absentee totals for several days.

The official Cecil County civilian vote took 10 votes from the unofficial return for Davis, and added 31 votes for Roe.

Gray Ladies Start Probationary Work

Probationary work in Alexandria Hospital was begun this week by 16 women in the fourth Gray Ladies' class of the Alexandria Red Cross Chapter, who have completed the first three weeks of clas straining. Upon completion of three weeks of hospital work they will receive certificates at graduation exercises.

Members of the class are Mrs. O. B. Allen, Mrs. Kenneth H. Black Mrs. Ross R. Caldwell, Mrs. Robert H Carson, Mrs. James W. Chapman, Mrs. Julian Downey, Mrs. Thomas R. Huff, Mrs. O. R. Johnson, Mrs. Emil Meacham, Mrs. John L. Perry, Mrs. Francis X Reilly, jr., Mrs. Edward J. Wallin, Mrs. Ethelbert Watts, Mrs. James Baldwin, Mrs. Hugh V. Murray and Mrs. Colin Campbell

Servel Plans Issue

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—To provide funds for postwar expansion, the management of Servel, Inc., refrigerator and air conditioning makers, plans to ask stockholders for authority to create and sell 100,000 shares of cumulative preferred stock. A meeting will be called for December 18 to act on the proposal.

C&B SAUCE

Supplies that needed flavor even to the plainest foods.
Keep it on the table at home.
Ask for it at restaurants.
Made by CROSSE & BLACKWELL
Fine Foods Since 1706

IT HAS THAT FRESH TASTE
ASK FOR Mrs. Filbert's MARGARINE
9000 UNITS VITAMIN A IN EVERY POUND

CONTEST CLOSES NOV. 15
ENTER THE $10,000.00 WAR BOND CONTEST ON Mrs. Filbert's MARGARINE
GET CONTEST BLANK FROM YOUR DEALER

BREWED IN AMERICA TO PRIOR BEER

REPLACE EUROPEAN BEERS
VALLEY FORGE DISTRIBUTING CO.
Washington 3, D.C.
ADAM SCHEIDT BREWING CO., Norristown, Pa.

BARNABY
By Crockett Johnson
But I DID see your Fairy Godfather, Barnaby! Just now! . . . Near the woods. He was dressed up funny.
An imposter!
Dressed funny? Say! Can it have been Third Cousin Malachy? We bear a family resemblance. Jane, was he wearing a checked vest?
He had his coat closed.
Did he offer to let you bet which shell the pea was under? Did he sell you an oil well? Or—
He was just standing there. With his gun—
CROCKETT JOHNSON
Malachy with a GUN! Cushlamochree! Let's hurry! He'll terrorize the entire township!

Mexico, Cuba Offer Joint Airways Plan

By James J. Streibig
Associated Press Aviation Editor

Chicago, Nov. (AP).—Cuba and Mexico submitted to the International Civil Aviation Conference today a proposal for temporary regulation of world air traffic, offering it as an amendment to the United States plan which was rejected en bloc by delegates from 19 Latin American republics.

Presentation of the plan by the two countries rather than by the recently organized bloc under the leadership of Col. Pedro A. Chapa of Mexico, aroused immediate speculation on the possibility of a split among the Latin Americans. A spokesman for the Cuban group said, however, that no significance whatsoever should be attached to the substaitution of the names of the two countries for the original designation as "Latin American proposal," a change made after the plan was mimeographed for distribution.

No Block Proposals

The spokesman said that under the rules of the conference an amendment must be offered by one country and seconded by another, and could not be presented as a bloc proposal. Making his views known through a State Department public relations officer, the spokesman said delay in receiving replies from the various governments to which it had been submitted for approval early this week.

Another official of the Cuban group said that it could be assumed that the plan had the support of all of the Latin-American republics represented here.

Provides for Assembly

The plan provides for an assembly on which each signatory state shall have equal representation. This assembly, meeting once a year, would choose a 15-member executive council to sit constantly. The interim period would last three years.

In general, the functions of the council would be the same as those proposed by the United States. The basic difference is that the American plan does not provide for an assembly; instead, it would have only an executive council, with nine seats awarded arbitrarily and six allocated to regions.

The Latin-American group also is opposing some of the principles of the British Empire plan, and helped yesterday to bury the New ZZealand-Australian proposal for an international company to own and operate aircraft. This left for consideration only proposals involving natinoal operation of air lines.

Today's Their Birthday

Official U. S. Marine Corps Photo

FIGHTING MARINES—The United States Marine Corps celebrates its 169th birthday today. Since the Corps was established in 1775, Leathernecks have fought in every part of the world. This scene is typical. Driving inland to the foothills of the Crown Prince Mountains from the Augusta Bay beachhead on Bougainville, after the initial landings on November 1, 1943, Marine forces battled torrential tropical rains and a sea of mud, as well as the enemy

Dewey Feels War Emergency Defeated Him

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP).—Giving evidence of feeling that he was licked by the war and not the Democrats, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey went back to his desk in New York's historic old State Capitol today to begin a new role as a defeated candidate who remains the titular head of his party.

Although the vanquished Republican presidential nominee declined public comment on the national election results, his supporters left no doubt that Dewey believes the single factor which gave President Roosevelt a fourth-term victory was that a majority of Americans did not want to change administrations while the world battlefronts still are flaming.

Looking relaxed and fresh despite an almost sleepless night of analyzing election returns and talking by telephone to party members all over the Nation, the Governor told a news conference in New York City yesterday that he was "very happy over the high confidence" the people had expressed in the State government by returning a solid Republican majority in both houses of the Legislature.

This firm party grip loomed large as a factor in the future plans of the 42-year-old former candidate, who universally is expected to seek reelection to his State office as a possible prelude to another try for the Presidency in 1948.

The Deweys, who came home last night from New York City expect soon to depart for a rest. They may go to Sea Island, Ga.

Dewey displayed satisfaction at yesterday's news conference because of what his supporters termed a "very close" race he gave President Roosevelt in the popular vote. Although the President won by a top-heavy majority in the electoral college, National GOP Chairman Herbert Brownell, jr., and others were represented as feeling the final outcome would show Dewey lost by what they called an "eyelash" of about 2,500,000 out of 50,000,000 votes.

Throughout the campaign, Dewey had plugged for a more solid organization, attempting to make personal friends with members of the Republican setup in each State. There seemed no doubt that such contact work would stand him in good stead in 1948, if he wants to run again.

The New York Governor was described as believing that his campaign had been instrumental in forging in what his supporters alluded to as unusual unity on the part of the Republicans toward foreign policy.

Dewey has contended that his statements in favor of full American participation in an international peace organization were "more definitive" than any uttered by his opponent.

In this connection, there was ill-concealed delight in the Dewey camp at the defeat of Representative Hamilton Fish, R., N. Y.), whose candidacy the GOP presidential nominee had denounced, and in the apparent loss of his Senate seat by Senator Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D.) Both have been classed as favoring only restricted American participation in a world security organization.

Doukhobors Drop Public Nudity as Political 'Weapon'

Crestova, B. C., Nov. 9 (U.P.).—British Columbians apparently have seen the last of the nude parades and public strip-tease acts that brought jail sentences last spring to members of the extremist Doukhobor religious sect and scandal to western Canada.

Twenty-four elders of the sect after deliberating 40 days and nights announced late yesterday they had decided to renounce nakedness as a political "weapon."

From now on, they added, they will go unclothed only in the privacy of their religious ceremonies.

Canadian jails still house 30 Doukhobors for nude parading in Vancouver and Nelson, B. C. Many others were arrested.

Blood Donors in Battle Dress Saved Life of District Flier

By Anne Hagner

Blood donors in battle dress—GI's who took momentary time out in the Italian campaign to give whole blood for a wounded comrade—last May meant the difference between life and death for Staff Sergt. Melvin Albert, 1355 Peabody st. nw.

Sergeant Albert was tail gunner on a B-24 in the Fifteenth Air Force which was assigned to missions over Yugoslavia, northern Italy and Romania. Because of brilliant American fighter plane escorts, the 20-year-old District gunner never fired a shot—Nazi planes simply weren't permitted within range of our bombers.

Heavy flak over a town about 20 miles south of Vienna was responsible for Albert's wound in the back during a mission over an airfield on which ME-109s were parked.

"We were over the target area 22 minutes on that deal, which was unusual, because usually bombers stay over their objectives only a few seconds," he explained yesterday at Walter Reed General Hospital, where he is recuperating from his injury.

"The ball gunner got a citation for saving my life. He helped me out of my turret, put sulfa power and a dressing on my wound and gave me a shot of morphine I remember everything about it except tthe landing of the plane.

"An ambulance met us at our base and I was given blood plasma on the way to the hospital. Then when I needed whole blood, it was given by soldiers who volunteered—11 pints of it altogether."

Whole blood has been sent directly overseas daily for the past two months from the Red Cross blood donor centers in Washington and New York, but this system was not in effect when Sergeant Albert was hit.

"My dad was telling me just the other day that the Red Cross was having a hard time getting the people in this town to donate blood," he said yesterday. "The plasma and whole blood together saved my life, so personally I'm pretty interested in it."

The sergeant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albert of the Peabody st. address, and has a sister who is a flight nurse scheduled to go overseas soon.

New Carpet Firm Head

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—James De Camp Wise was elected president of Bigelow-Sanford Corpet Co. today, succeeding the late John A. Sweetser, who died in August. Wise has been general counsel for the company since 1932 and has been a member of the board of directors since 1939.

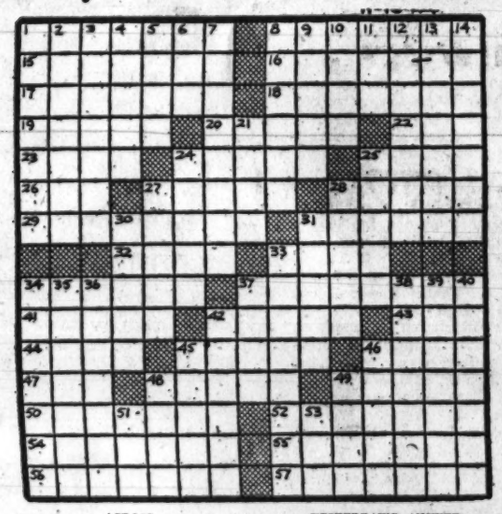
You bet I insist on
BLUE BONNET
Margarine
..it gives us "All Three!"
1 DELICIOUS FLAVOR!
2 PROVED NUTRITION!
3 TWO-WAY ECONOMY!
WATCH 'EM GO FOR BLUE BONNET'S sweet, tempting, country-fresh flavor. And hurrah, no need to skimp! You can afford to spread it on twice as thick. And everybody wants to!
BRIMMING WITH PEP and BLUE BONNET helps 'em stay that way! Every pound supplies 9,000 units of Vitamin A—3,300 Food-Energy units.
TRY BLUE BONNET on piping-hot muffins, toast, baked potato. Same delicate, delightful flavor even when half-melted.
SAVE MONEY, SAVE POINTS with BLUE BONNET—happy way to economize! You don't risk health, spoil fun of eating.
FLEISCHMANN'S
Blue Bonnet
VITAMIN A ADDED
DELICIOUS VEGETABLE
MARGARINE

Why be Irritated?
Light an Old Gold!
Apple "Honey" helps guard O.Gs. from Cigarette Dryness
You're on the receiving end of nothing BUT extra pleasure when you light up an Old Gold! . . .
It's a superb blend of many choice tobaccos—including a touch of rare, imported Latakia leaf—for extra flavor. Plus the special protection of Apple "Honey"—sprayed on Old Gold's fine tobaccos to help hold in the natural moisture, help guard against cigarette dryness.
Try a pack of Old Golds . . . and see why their popularity has tripled! (If your dealer's supply is short today, just ask again tomorrow. We're doing our best to keep up.)
Old Gold CIGARETTES
KEEP ON BUYING WAR BONDS
LISTEN TO WHICH IS WHICH? Wednesday Evenings CBS — and THE COMEDY THEATRE Sunday Evenings NBC

Wash down the entire bathroom—wash-basin, walls, fixtures, tub, shower stall, tile, medicine chest—with gentle, all-purpose Oakite—the cleaner that "cleans a million things"—makes bathrooms sparkle!
OAKITE
FOR ALL WAR-TIME CLEANING
The gentle-grease-dissolving cleaner
A TEASPOONFUL OR TWO IS ENOUGH
SAVES SOAP
OAKITE CLEANS

IMPORTED
RUIZ SHERRY
Isabelita
BONE DRY
WONDERFUL for COCKTAILS
DELICIOUS
AS AN APPETIZER
Ask for it at your favorite bar, hotel or package store
Imported and Bottled by
R. U. DELAPENHA & CO., INC.
Sole Agent in the U. S. A.
57 Laight St. New York 13, N. Y.

Daily Cross Word Puzzle



ACROSS

1 Rubdown
8 Australian gales
15 Chanter
16 Clothing
17 Device for elasticizing fabrics
18 Frugally
19 Twilled woolen fabric
20 Change
22 Homo sapiens
23 Hostelries
24 Scoff
25 Location
26 Numeral
27 Bird houses
28 Companions
29 Tusked Arctic whales
31 Bundlers
32 Breezy
33 Apportion
34 Swift place in a river
37 Angels
41 Subside
42 Flutist
43 Blackbird: var.
44 Wire measures
45 Lost color
46 Protrudes
47 Winglike part
48 Heroism
49 Heavy winds
50 Delays
52 Transportation fee
54 Wild flowers
55 Employer
56 Young bird
57 Scrapers

DOWN

1 Special envoys
2 Aerial
3 More austere
4 Ballads
5 Poker bet
6 Command to a horse
7 Wanderingly
8 Sews loosely
9 Shoe vamp
10 Mast
11 Coal distillate
12 Recluse
13 Narrator
14 Cunning
21 Dregs
24 Flies aloft
25 Dried orchid tubers used for food
27 Censures
28 Relating to the cheek
30 Delays
31 Pierced
33 Draft board official
34 Mahometan fast
35 City in Texas
36 Roofs of mouths
37 Storage place
38 Drayage
39 Whole number
40 Lichen gatherers
42 More untrue
45 Velvet-like fabric
46 Mexican medicinal root
48 Stringed instrument
49 Two-wheeled carriages
51 Norwegian territorial division
53 Book collection

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER.

Ickes Bewails Newspapers Influence Loss

Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes said yesterday the Nation's rejection of newspaper leadership in the presidential election indicated "a dangerous decline in reader confidence without which a free press lacks strength."

Ickes said that American newspapers "overwhelmingly" supported Gov. Thomas E. Dewey against a fourth term for President Roosevelt, citing a poll by Editor and Publisher, trade publication, which showed 68.5 per cent of 1324 newspapers answering a questionnaire actively opposed to a fourth term.

"This Nation again has questioned in ringing tones the right of the press to represent readers' opinion," Ickes said at a press conference.

"The significant fact is a 16-year trend reflecting a major change in our national credulity," he added, pointing out that in 1932 approximately 40 per cent of the Nation's newspapers supported the President against only 17.7 per cent in the 1944 campaign.

Asks Publishers to 'Explain'

He called upon the newspaper publishers "to explain or comment upon this very bad and unhealthy situation," and said they must embark on a campaign of "self correction."

"I am only raising questions which the publishers themselves should raise," he said. "No one is moreinterested in a free press than I am, but some explanation is needed as to why they had such little influence in the greatest campaign since 1864."

Ickes said he believed the bulk of the newspapers did not "do an honest job of reporting" in the campaign. He added in response to a question that the press services did "a more honest, unbiased job."

Ickes said in a great many instances newspapers supporting Dewey attacked the President along the same lines as the Republican politicians, who, he said, had waged a campaign of "distortion, misrepresentation and falsehood."

"Terribly Dangerous"

"This is a terribly dangerous situation," he said. "The people don't believe what they read and the newspapers are not voicing public opinion."

He charged that the newspapers have become "big investments with interests in profits."

"The editorial policy does not come from the fellows who do the writing, but rather from the fellows on top, the business office," Ickes said.

He called for a return of the old-time "strong ang vigorous editorial writer who would both reflect and stimulate public opinion."

Resignation Submitted

Ickes said he had submitted his resignation as Secretary of Interior because "that fellow Dewey threatened to fire me," but explained that he was following his usual custom of submitting his resignation after each presidential election.

He laughed aside suggestions that it might be accepted.

In reply to a question, Ickes said that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, was a "minor" factor in the presidential campaign.

"Be sure and spell that m-i-n-o-r," he told reporters.

Wreck Which Killed Nine

Associated Press WIREPHOTO

79 INJURED—The engine and several coaches of the Southern Pacific's westbound Challenger are scattered like toys in this aerial picture taken Wednesday while rescuers still sought the bodies of some of the nine persons killed when the train was wrecked on a mountain curve near Colfax, Calif. Seventy-nine persons were injured

Seal Sale Plans To Be Drafted in Arlington Monday

Final plans for the Seal Sale conducted annually by the Arlington Tuberculosis Association will be drafted Monday at 1 p. m. at a luncheon meeting at the Evans Coffee Shop, 4770 Lee Highway.

Willia mK.M acMahon, chairman of the Seal Committee, will preside, and members of his committee and the executive board of the association will attend the luncheon meeting. The drive, by which the association hopes to raise $28,000 to finance its yearly program, will open on November 27.

Turkeys Released to Markets, But Just Try to Find One

Civilian lovers of turkey, who hitherto have stood no chance of buying Thanksgiving gobblers because the Government wanted them for the armed forces, yesterday were given a chance for that annual drumstickif they can find a turkey.

Federal restrictions of all turkeys processed since November 6 were lifted, but War Food Administration spokesmen indicated that few of the traditional Thanksgiving birds were likely to find their way into Washington markets.

Farmers, it was explained, think ceiling prices on turkeys have been low, and the Army and Navy have had first call on all that have been available for sale. Hence turkey growers have claimed they intend to have their birds for breeding purposes.

Ceilings on turkeys in the District for young, dressed birds is 52 cents a pound.

Pepsi-Cola Reduces Stock's Par Value

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 9 (AP).—Capital stock of the Pepsi-Cola Co. was revised today from 2,500,000 shares of par value $1 each to 7,500,000 shares of par value 33 1-3 cents each.

The change was effected at a special meeting of the stockholders. Fewer than one-half of 1 per cent of the stock cast dissenting ballots.

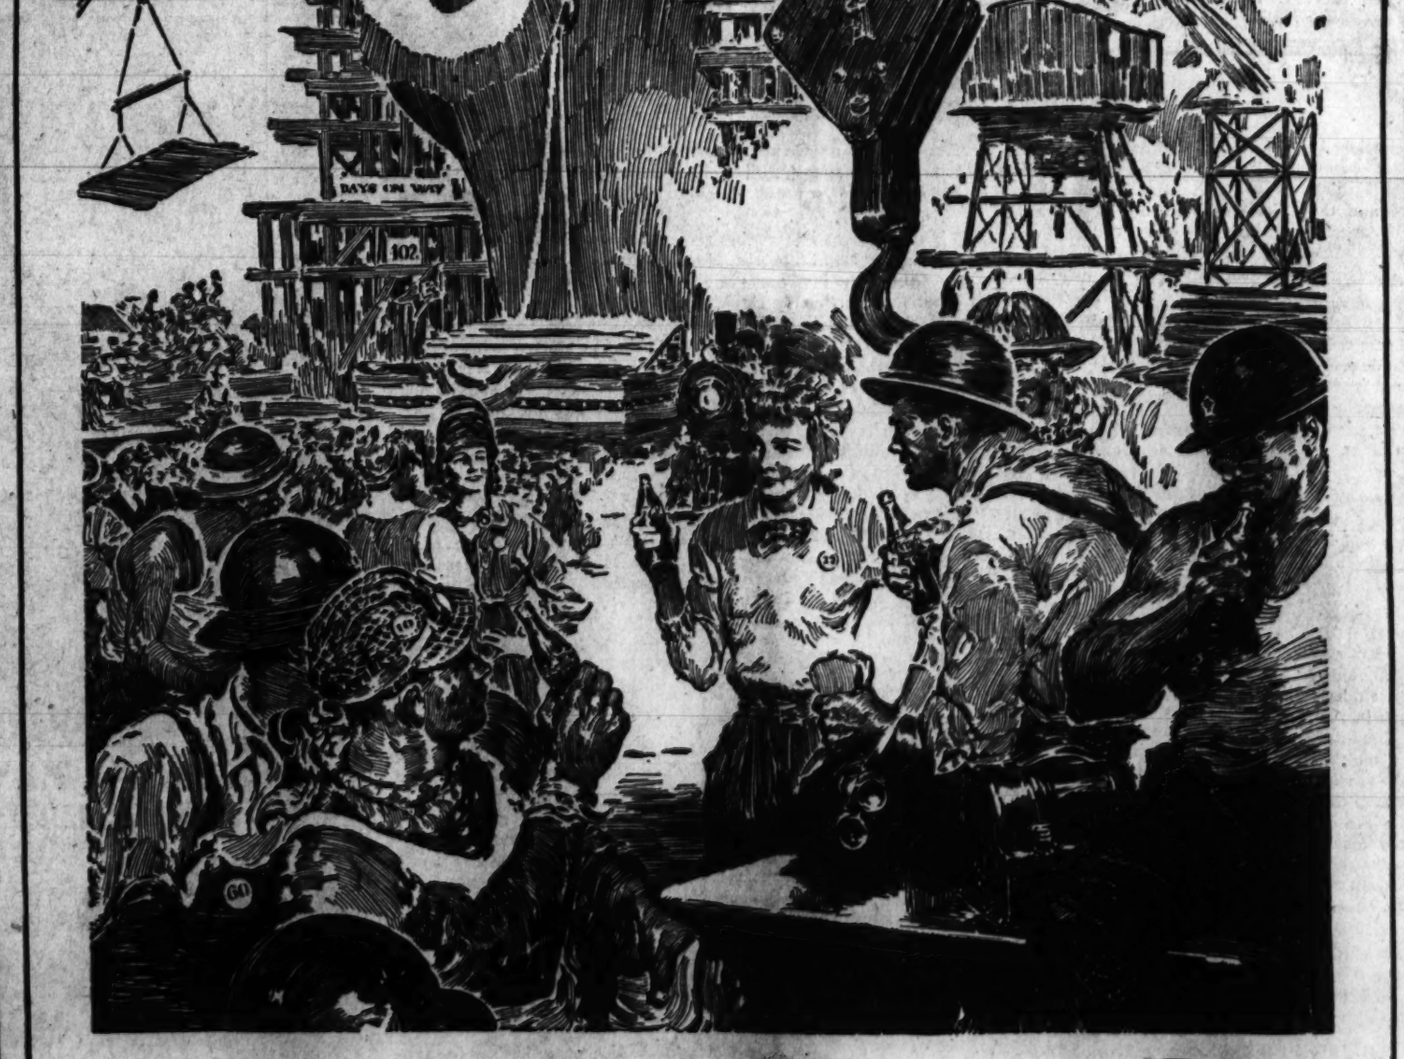
Loiterer Arrested Near De Valera's Hotel

Belfast, Nov. 8 (Delayed) (U.P.).—It was disclosed today that Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's armed police bodyguard in the early hours of Sunday morning seized a former member of the outlawed Irish Republican army who was hiding on the grounds of the Railway Hotel at Killarney, where De Valera was staying.

STUFFED VEGETABLES
BELL'S Ready-mixed STUFFING
For new flavor delight, try stuffing your tomatoes, cabbages, peppers, egg plant, etc., with Bell's. It's ready. Just add water.

Quick—Easy—Thrifty!
BURNETT'S
MUFFIN MIX
10¢
A generous plateful of plump, golden delicious muffins, from a package of Burnett's Muffin Mix. Just add an egg, one-half cup of milk, bake. Result: always perfect muffins.
JOSEPH BURNETT COMPANY
Also the makers of Burnett's Vanilla

WHITE HORSE CELLAR
The BLENDED Scotch Whisky of the WHITE HORSE CELLAR
Estab. 1742
FROM THE Original Recipe 1746
ALL that are desirous to pass from EDINBURGH to LONDON, or any other place on their road, let them repair to the WHITE HORSE CELLAR in EDINBURGH, at which place they may be received in a STAGE COACH every MONDAY and FRIDAY, which performs the whole journey in eight days and sets forth at nine in the morning.
Allowing each passenger 14 pounds weight, and all above, 6 pence per pound.*
*Reprinted from the White Horse Label
The Blended Scotch Whisky of the WHITE HORSE CELLAR FROM THE Original Recipe 1746
86.8 proof Browne Vintners Co., Inc., N. Y.



Have a "Coke" = Ahoy, mates
DAYS ON WAY
102
... or keeping up the good work
Faster and faster the ships go down the ways in the wartime shipbuilding program. From sunny California to the coast of Maine, workers have learned that the pause that refreshes helps everybody do more work and better work. Have a "Coke" says a hard-working shipbuilder to his mates. It's a little minute long enough for a big rest. Whether in a shipyard or in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become a symbol of friendly relaxation.
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY WASHINGTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC.
Coca-Cola
-the global high-sign
"Coke" = Coca-Cola
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".
© 1944 The C-C Co.

Have a "Coke" = Ahoy, mates
DAYS ON WAY
102
... or keeping up the good work
Faster and faster the ships go down the ways in the wartime shipbuilding program. From sunny California to the coast of Maine, workers have learned that the pause that refreshes helps everybody do more work and better work. Have a "Coke" says a hard-working shipbuilder to his mates. It's a little minute long enough for a big rest. Whether in a shipyard or in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become a symbol of friendly relaxation.
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY WASHINGTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC.
Coca-Cola
-the global high-sign
"Coke" = Coca-Cola
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".
© 1944 The C-C Co.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

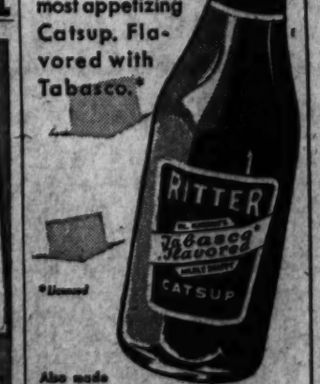
YouthHeld for Homicide In Strangulation Case

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—Frank Pape, 16, was booked today on a homicide charge in connection with the strangulation death of William Drach, 4, who first was believed to have died while playing a commando game with his brother, Robert, 8.

Detective William Theis said that Pape, who lived near the Drach family in the Bronx, admitted he had bound and gagged William. Then, Theis said, Pape left the boy in the cellar of a building, where William's father was an apartment house superintendent.

Warning!
WATCH OUT FOR SNIFFLY
Head Colds
Head colds can cause much suffering. Don't suffer needlessly. Just put a little Va-tro-nol up each nostril. Relieves sneezy, stuffy distress. Also helps prevent many colds from developing if used in time! Try it. Follow directions in folder. Works fine!
A FEW DROPS quickly relieves distress
VICKS VA-TRO-NOL

What about your MEAT PROBLEM?
Prime roasts and other fine cuts are not always easy to get nowadays. But thriftier cuts need not mean less flavor. "Spice 'em up" with stuffing, made with Bell's Seasoning, in a separate pan.
FREE recipes. Write Wm. G. Bell Co., Dept. 20, 189 State Street, Boston, Mass.
BELL'S SEASONING
Buy War Bonds—Keep It Up



Electric Appliance Output Forecast 8 Months After War

Atlanta, Nov. 9 (AP).—Capacity production of heavy electrical appliances, such as ranges, refrigerators and washers, should be reached within eight or nine months after the fall of germany, an executive of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., said here today.

In an address prepared for delivery before the Southeastern Electric Exchange, J. H. Ashaugh, vice president of Westinghouse in charge of the electric appliance division, said his estimate of capacity production was based on resumption of civilian manufacture five or six months after Germany's defeat.

"It is my opinion," he told the utility men, "that it will require three to four months for obtaining material and factory rearrangement, one month for fabricating of parts, with production in the fifth or sixth month. Therefore, output would increase in quantity each month, and in the eighth or ninth month rated capacity would be reached."

AT FIRST SIGN OF A COLD use 666
Liquid Preparations—Use as directed

CHAFING To classes tender parts—soothe raw, smarting skin, and quickly promote comfort, depend on RESINOL OINTMENT AND SOAP

"COURT IS ADJOURNED 'TILL 11:00 TOMORROW MORNING"
It's great news when more of the good things of life become available in larger quantities. There's more Southern Comfort now! Rare mellow richness. Full 100 proof. Recipes with every bottle.
SOUTHERN COMFORT
The Grand Old Drink of the South
AT LEADING BARS, HOTELS, CLUBS AND PACKAGE STORES
SOUTHERN COMFORT CORPORATION, SAINT LOUIS 3, MO.

1944 Electoral Victory Sets Record for Close Popular Vote

By George Gallup
Director American Institute of Public Opinion

With a popular vote lead of approximately 53.5 per cent, Roosevelt ran up a greater electoral vote landslide than any other candidate in history with a comparably small popular vote percentage.

In 1916, for example, Woodrow Wilson with 52 per cent of the popular vote received only 277 electoral votes. Up to Wednesday afternoon Roosevelt, with 53.5 per cent, had won a total of 407.

Early indications are that the soldier vote will go overwhelmingly for Roosevelt and will swell his majority by approximately two million votes. It was the deciding factor in at least one State, New Jersey, and may also prove decisive in several other States where returns are incomplete.

Women's Vote Big Factor

The vote of women, who turned out at polls in greatest numbers in history, remained 3 per cent more Democratic than that of men right up to election day in the Institute's poll. The anticipated majority of 3,500,000 for Roosevelt is due almost entirely to his advantage with soldier and women voters.

On the basis of election returns to date, the Gallup Poll, published exclusively in The Washington Post, had forecast the civilian vote percentage for Roosevelt with an error of only 1 per cent.

Its final report published the day before election gave Roosevelt the lead with 51.5 per cent of the civilian popular vote. The soldier vote has added approximately 1 per cent to this total on the average in the States outside the South. Returns to date indicate that the final Roosevelt figure will be approximately 52.5 per cent without the soldier vote, and 53.5 per cent with it.

This third national election forecast by the institute indicates a progressive improvement in polling techniques. Indicating the winner successfully each time, it was accurate within 6 per cent in 1936, 3 per cent in 1940, and now approximately 1 per cent.

Indicated Maximum 446

Despite the predicted close civilian vote, the institute showed that Roosevelt's sure States plus the close pivotal States indicated a maximum electoral vote of 446. As of Wednesday afternoon he had 407 with a likelihood of picking up 19 from Michigan and 25 from Ohio for a total of 451.

Tuesday's election was the closest since 1916 in terms of popular votes, though not in electoral votes. Roosevelt's indicated lead of 53.5 per cent compares with other recent elections as follows:

1928—Hoover	59%
1932—Roosevelt	59
1936—Roosevelt	62
1940—Roosevelt	55
1944—Roosevelt	53.5

Batting Average .900

Up to this month the Institute has forecast 115 local, State, and national elections and has been on the right side 102 times for a batting average of .900. The record in Tuesday's election cannot be estimated in terms of batting average until complete returns are in, but the same high batting average will probably be maintained, judging by returns to date.

The chief function of polls is not to predict elections, but to measure the will of the people on public issues—to sound out their mandate on the questions which are never settled at elections. Election forecasting serves merely as a test to indicate whether this measuring instrument can report accurately the pulse of the Nation on the great issues on which the public has no other systematic means to register its sentiment.

Arlington Post to Hold Armistice Dance Today

The Armistice Day dance of Arlington Post 139, American Legion, will be held today from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight at the Army and Navy Country Club.

Proceeds will go toward reducing indebtedness on the Legion Clubhouse on North Washington blvd., which is used not only as a meeting place for Post 139, but also by various other veterans and civic organizations. Music will be furnished by Myer Davis and his orchestra.

33 BLEACH
NO BETTER BLEACH AT ANY PRICE
When you buy 33 Bleach you're buying the best. Guaranteed full strength. Why pay more? It's America's largest-selling popular-priced bleach. Ask for 33 Bleach at your grocer's today.
Boston Chemical Corp., Phila.

WFMD

930 Kilocycles.

FRIDAY

MORNING.
7:00 News; Sunrise Salute.
7:15 Cordwood.
7:30 Sunrise Salute.
8:00 News of the World.
8:15 Breakfast Rendezvous.
8:30 Coffee Club.
8:45 Morning Devotions.
9:15 Sing Along.
9:30 This Woman's Army.
10:00 News; Hanover Studios.
10:30 Tom and Herb.
10:45 Hanover Calling.
11:00 Sigmund Romberg.
11:15 Joan Brooks, Songs.
11:30 Bright Horizons.
11:45 Farm Time With Uncle Jos.

AFTERNOON.
12:00 Redford Hoppy.
12:15 Republican National Committee.
12:30 Helen Trent.
12:45 Our Gal Sunday.
1:00 Old Familiar Hymns.
1:30 Rusty Sings.
1:45 Tenny Sears Orch.
2:00 Dixie Rogers.
2:15 Lean Back and Listen.
3:30 Victory Marches.
3:00 Mary Marlin.
3:15 CPA Mail Bag.
3:30 Bob Trout, News.
3:45 Ellen Pierce.
4:00 Serial Time.
4:15 Music.
4:30 Raymond Scott Show.
5:00 Fun With Dunn.
5:30 Three Sisters.
5:45 Wilderness Road.

EVENING.
6:00 CBS News.
6:15 Sports Parade.
6:30 Jeri Sullivan.
6:45 Dinner Music.
7:00 Waltz Music.
7:30 Senator Mead.
7:45 Rendezvous With Romance.
8:00 Gospel Jubilee Singers.
8:15 To Be Announced.
8:30 Service to the Front.
9:00 Music Moods.
9:15 Front Page Drama.
9:30 This Woman's Army.
10:00 Secretary Ickes.
10:30 Music to Read By.
11:00 World News Analysis.
11:15 Glen Field's Orchestra.
11:30 Mildred Bailey Show.
12:00 News.

MONOCACY BROADCASTING CO.
Frederick, Md.

Miami Beach, Fla.
The Eden Hotel
THE ALTON BLUE MIAMI BEACH
FUSSY STOMACH
'Pepto-Bismol is good for that'
When you've eaten something you shouldn't, and you pay the price with a sour, upset stomach, take soothing PEPTO-BISMOL. Tastes good and does good. Ask your druggist for PEPTO-BISMOL when your stomach is upset.
A NORWICH PRODUCT

Men, Women! Old at 40,50,60! Want Pep?
Want to Feel Years Younger?
Helps You Overcome FALSE TEETH Looseness and Worry
No longer be annoyed or feel ill at ease because of loose, wabbly false teeth. FASTEETH, an improved alkaline (non-acid) powder, sprinkled on your plates holds them firmer so they feel more comfortable. Soothing and cooling to gums made sore by excessive acid mouth. Avoid embarrassment caused by loose plates. Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

THANK GOD FOR

The America of Both Parties

An article by William Hard, so significant at this moment that it is printed here as a public service, two weeks in advance of its appearance in the December issue of The Reader's Digest.

I warn before the election. As to its outcome, I know only that the victors will think they own the country and the vanquished will think America lost. Both will be wrong.

In the total vote the victors will be victors only by a margin which they will need carefully and temperately to conserve. Moreover, they will include many factions; and they will not be able to adopt any extreme measures without incurring the danger of revolt within their own ranks.

The vanquished will retain great strength in the federal Congress, in the governorships and legislatures of the states, and in the office-holding bodies of counties, cities, towns, villages.

The Democrats were Presidentially mowed down in 1860, 1864, 1868, 1872, 1876 and 1880—six successive times. The Republicans could survive for a similar period. A minority party in the United States always has the chance to start again from the grass-roots. That is because we in the United States still have the most strongly localized political institutions ever produced in any great country to balance its central national authority. On that balance rests our stability. May it never be overthrown.

Forever throughout American history each party learns from the other, and forever, in a degree, often very large, there is an America of both parties.

There is a quite considerable America of both parties today. Observing it, I am brought to this nonpartisan suggestion:

Let both parties cease from shadow-boxing, and cooperate for their common country on principles on which in fact they are agreed.

Those principles are numerous and paradoxical. A majority of the Democratic Party and a majority of the Republican Party, as shown by the speeches of their responsible leaders, and as shown also by reliable polls of public opinion, are determined to have an America in which there shall be both Social Security and Individual Initiative and Opportunity. The theoretical quarrel between those two principles is finished. The practical task of combining them into an America which will stand staunch in the world winds of totalitarianism now starts. It is a task which should evoke sincerity from both parties.

No basic quarrel

Mr. Thomas E. Dewey has advocated an expansion of our present Social Security (against Old Age and against Unemployment) to people not yet covered by it. A similar expansion has been advocated by an overwhelming vote among the hundreds of business organizations composing the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. Increased Social Security is now an objective of the American people as a whole.

Collective Bargaining is security (when needed) against arbitrary power by employers. The Democrats have accepted the Republican Collective-Bargaining Railway Labor Act of 1926. The Republicans in this campaign have accepted the Democratic Collective-Bargaining General National Labor Relations Acts of 1935. Both parties could now cooperate to make both acts work better. They are agreed on the spirit of both.

They are agreed also on laws like the Pure Food Law of Roosevelt (Theodore), and the Securities and Exchange Law of Roosevelt (Franklin Delano). Such laws are security to the consumer. Among numerous such Republican laws the Democrats have attempted the repeal of not one. Among numerous such Democratic laws the Republicans in this campaign have suggested the repeal of not one. Both parties can now cooperate to save such laws from abuses by headstrong bureaucrats.

They can also cooperate on the other great principle: Individual Initiative and Opportunity. This may seem to be the opposite of Security, but it is really its parallel today in American thought.

Not long ago the Democrats specialized on Security and the Republicans on Opportunity. Now, as the Republicans are embracing Security, so are the Democrats embracing Opportunity.

The President is declaring repeatedly for Free Enterprise. Nobody knows the President's mind better than Mr. Harry Hopkins, who writes in The American Magazine:

"Opportunity to work must be provided for all. . . . We must not imagine that public works alone can do the job. . . . It must be done by the establishment of new businesses. Industry must be given every opportunity to expand. . . . Competition through free enterprise can help destroy poverty in America. . . . A constant reliance upon large-scale Government spending is not consistent with the continuation of our competitive system."

What the people want

I could quote from numerous New Deal Democrats in the same tenor. They know what is admirably expressed by Mr. Wendell Berge, Assistant Attorney General:

"The American people are agreed that they shall have an economic order which allows a maximum of free play for private enterprise. They hate regimentation and love freedom; and they will demand the largest measure of freedom they can get, regardless of what Administration is in power."

The mass of Americans are today pursuing the ideal of a society in which every man shall be secure in a minimum of subsistence, but in which nevertheless every man shall be free to undertake a maximum of adventure.

This ideal presents towering problems. For instance:

How can Social Security meet people's honest needs and yet not encourage dishonest greeds and grafts? How can Individual Initiative and Opportunity be opened to all without allowing people individually to do the things which collectively dropped us into the abysmal crash of 1929 and 1930?

Some people want Social Security but want so much of it so fast (along with so many parks, pleasure boulevards and concert halls) that they would use up all of the national income needed for industrial development and thus stop all economic and social progress.

Some people want Free Enterprise but want so much of it as to leave businessmen free to combine to give us a business community not free but enslaved.

And lots of people want Free Enterprise while at the same time wanting to exact taxes that will destroy Free Enterprise.

There is nothing wrong with the ultimate purpose of the American people in the matter of Security and in the matter of Enterprise. There is everything right with it. But the practical achievement of it will require the most vivid vision and the most detailed drudgery of which our political parties are capable.

So will practical achievement of the international cooperation to which the leaders of both parties are committed. How can that cooperation give a proper place to the Great Powers without becoming a world-wide tyranny? How can it give a proper place to small powers without becoming a world-wide bedlam? For the answers to such questions the mass of Democrats and the mass of Republicans look to both parties.

I suggest to both of them an issue for 1948:

Which party has outdone the other in refraining from the demagoguery which promotes classes and divides Americans? Which party has outdone the other in contributions to the Security-plus-Enterprise ideal which diminishes classes and unites Americans? Which party has outdone the other in putting the American spirit into a world organization? In other words, which party has outdone the other in service to the America of both parties?

Reader's Digest

WHITEY, the Wonderful Seal again acclaimed by thousands for his INIMITABLE BALANCING ACT!

Balances ALL the Greatest Whiskey Virtues in ONE Glorious Pre-war Quality Blend!
HEARTINESS & MILDNESS
RICHNESS & LIGHTNESS
Now Appearing Regularly at Bars & Package Stores—DON'T MISS IT!
CARSTAIRS WHITE SEAL WHISKEY
The Perfectly Balanced Blend
Blended Whiskey 86.8 Proof • 72½% Grain Neutral Spirits • Carstairs Bros. Distilling Co. Inc. • Baltimore, Md.

POST WANT ADS PAY

Commeree Board Wins Merit Award

The Junior Board of Commerce yesterday received a Treasury Department certificate of merit for its "patriotic cooperation" in war loan drives during the past two years.

The award was made by Randy Myers, representative from the District of Columbia war finance committee of the Treasury Department, during the group's weekly luncheon meeting.

President Jack Morton announced that junior board members will help decorate "War Bond Way," Pennsylvania ave. between 7th and 15th sts. nw. for the sixth war loan drive which will open later this month.

Millard W. Rice of the Disabled American Veterans Organization, described the activities of his group in apprising veterans of claims and helping them solve the technical difficulties in making their claims. He said American University was now training experts to help veterans of this war.

Ray Chapman was named man of the month for his work in publicizing Good Will Week, a welcoming program for newcomers to Washington sponsored recently by the board.

Death Rate of Babies In Britain Hits Low

London, Nov. 9 (U.P.).—Despite wartime privations, the mortality rate among Britain's babies during the first month of life is the lowest ever recorded and the health of children in general has shown an improvement despite the last five years of war, the Ministry of Health's annual report for 1945 disclosed today.

New low records also were established in maternal and child mortality rates and a new low in still births was recorded.

Grin and Bear It

By Lichty

"I think it's nonsense to pay 75c for a haircut in town, Zeb, when I had so much experience this year shearing the sheep and currying the horses!"

Alexandria Civitans' Party Monday to Aid Girl Scouts

As the first event in a series of fund raising activities to provide $10,000 for a proposed Girl Scout camp in Alexandria, the Alexandria Civitan Club, sponsor of the project, is holding a party in the recreation hall of Presidential Gardens Apartments, 3900 Executive ave., Monday at 8 p. m.

The hall in the Polk Building has been equipped with a loudspeaker and a professional announcer has been engaged to conduct the 20 regular games and five additional special games. Prizes have been donated by Alexandria merchants and business firms.

Members of the Civitan Club, the Civanettes auxiliary and the Girl Scout Council will assist. C. Victor Thornton, president of the club, has announced that other fund-raising events scheduled include more games, a dance, boat ride, horse show and possibly a carnival.

R. J. Hicks, Paul Freed, Frank Cowles and Donald Bishoff will serve with a group from the Girl Scout council on a permanent camp committee of which Hicks is chairman. The scout representatives are Mrs. Frank Bowles, chairman of the council's camping committee; Mrs. Howard Kennedy, Mrs. Stanleigh Swann, Mrs. Henry Rau, jr., and Mrs. Frank Heileman, director of scouting, who is serving ex officio.

The committee is endeavoring to find a suitable camp site of approximately 100 wooded acres with a brook within 50 miles of Alexandria to be purchased by the Civitans. Plans are to have the camp ready for use next summer.

The planet Jupiter is covered by a layer of ice 16,000 miles thick, scientists estimate.

Eire on War Criminals

Dublin, Nov. 9 (AP).—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera told the Dail today representations had been received from, and replies sent to, Allied governments about the possibility of war criminals seeking refuse in Eire, but he declined to give further information.

Lincoln Check Was Printed In Shop of D. C. Man's Father

Two Washington residents in addition to Mrs. Mary Pool, the owner, had a special interest in the check signed by Abraham Lincoln which was found by a bus driver, Philip McKenney, in the leaves at 13th and Madison sts. nw. on Halloween night.

One was 79-year-old Lemuel Richards, 7104 Chestnut st. nw., a printer, retired from GPO after 43 years service, who recognized the mark of his father's Springfield, Ill., printing establishment of Richards and Smith, on the facsimile of the check which appeared in The Post. Richards' family lived across the street from the Lincolns in Springfield.

William A. Heilprin, third generation of his family to be member of the Franklin & Co. optical firm at 1006 Connecticut ave. nw., questioned the story because he had been told he owns the only uncanceled check signed by the former President that is known to Lincoln authorities here.

The check found on Halloween was first thought to be uncanceled because it was not indorsed. It was learned later that a cross cut mark in the check indicated it had been cashed and canceled.

Heilprin's check, still kept at the optical company, was written for $2.50 by Lincoln to pay for fitting his eyes nine months before his death.

"Grandfather told me he didn't keep it as a souvenir," Heilprin recalled. "He said Lincoln was a poor man whose wife was extravagant, and he wanted to make the President a present of the fee."

The check was drawn on the old Riggs & Co., predecessor of the present Riggs banking firm.

Hillandale Bazaar

A bazaar featuring the sale of Christmas gifts will be held by the Auxiliary to the Hillandale Volunteer Fire Department tomorrow from 3 to 9 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Clyde Linton, corner of Overlook dr., and New Hampshire ave., Hillandale. Proceeds will go toward the building fund.

Makes REAL CORN MUFFINS in a Jiffy
Sheedl's
the real thing
DON'T CONFUSE with ORDINARY MIXES
BELMO CORN MUFFIN Mix
Make Sheedl's CORN BREAD WAFFLES PANCAKES Too!
READY TO MIX · EASY TO FIX
SHEEDD-BARTUSH FOODS · ALSO MAKERS · KEYKO MARGARINE · OLD STYLE SAUCE

MRS. MORRISON'S PUDDING
The choice of more discriminating families every day, because throughout these difficult times its old dependable goodness and quality have never changed
You Can Buy It At Your Grocer's NOW
MRS. MORRISON'S CHOCOLATE FLAVOR
PUDDING
And don't forget to ask your grocer for LEM: The Famous Pie Filling and spread for bread and crackers
THE MORRISON COMPANY, PHILADELPHIA

X-PERT
THE BEST GINGER BREAD YOU EVER ATE!
ADD ONLY WATER MIX AND BAKE
ON SALE AT YOUR FAVORITE GROCER
ASK FOR IT TODAY
X-PERT GINGER BREAD MIX

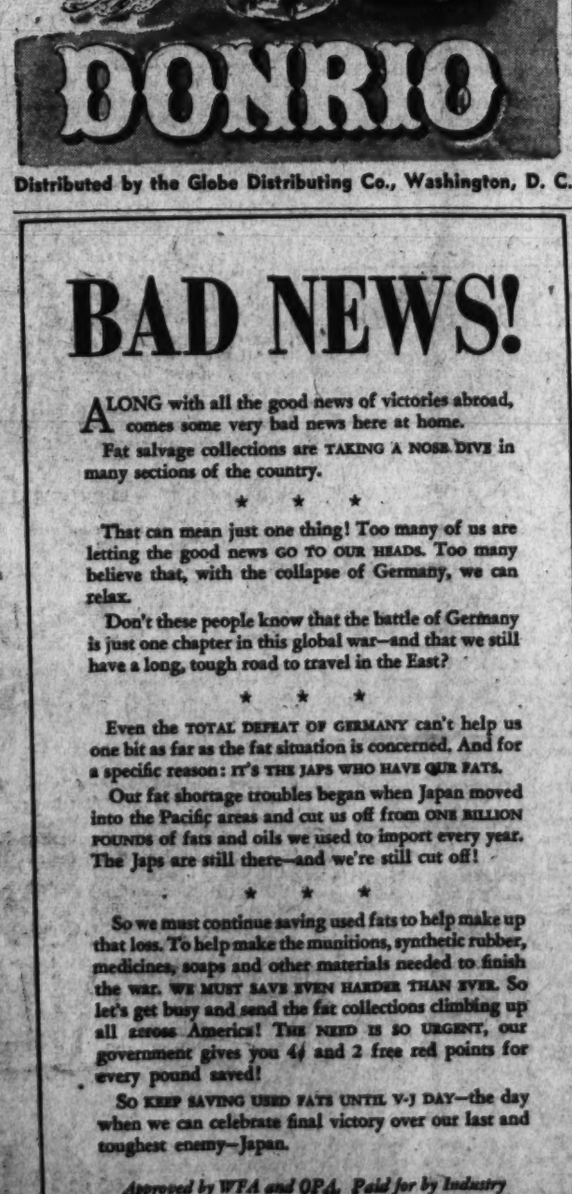
"ALWAYS IN GOOD TASTE"

Imported!

RUBY AND AMBER PORT WINE.....

$1.19

at your favorite store



DONRIO

Distributed by the Globe Distributing Co., Washington, D. C.

BAD NEWS!

ALONG with all the good news of victories abroad, comes some very bad news here at home.

Fat salvage collections are TAKING A NOSE DIVE in many sections of the country.

* * *

That can mean just one thing! Too many of us are letting the good news GO TO OUR HEADS. Too many believe that, with the collapse of Germany, we can relax.

Don't these people know that the battle of Germany is just one chapter in this global war—and that we still have a long, tough road to travel in the East?

* * *

Even the TOTAL DEFEAT OF GERMANY can't help us one bit as far as the fat situation is concerned. And for a specific reason: IT'S THE JAPS WHO HAVE OUR FATS.

Our fat shortage troubles began when Japan moved into the Pacific areas and cut us off from ONE BILLION POUNDS of fats and oils we used to import every year. The Japs are still there—and we're still cut off!

* * *

So we must continue saving used fats to help make up that loss. To help make the munitions, synthetic rubber, medicines, soaps and other materials needed to finish the war. WE MUST SAVE EVEN HARDER THAN EVER. So let's get busy and send the fat collections climbing up all across America! THE NEED IS SO URGENT, our government gives you 4¢ and 2 free red points for every pound saved!

SO KEEP SAVING USED FATS UNTIL V-J DAY—the day when we can celebrate final victory over our last and toughest enemy—Japan.

Approved by WFA and OPA. Paid for by Industry

From a

Wine Cookbook

Short on ration points? Then just try this wine-way of making fish so tasty it appeals to everyone!

Fish Baked in White Wine

Brush 4 small fish (about ½ lb. each) inside and out with melted margarine. Sprinkle with salt, celery salt, and pepper. Slash sides lightly to prevent curling. Lay in shallow baking pan; add 1 cup California Sauterne or Rhine Wine and a bay leaf. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 20 minutes, or until done, basting occasionally. Remove fish; slightly thicken wine remaining in pan for sauce.

To point up the flavor of fish serve glasses of white wine with it at the table. You'll find wine cuts the oiliness, makes your fish taste extra delicious. Let your dealer tell you all about California white table wines.

Wine is Fun tells about different kinds of wine and how you can serve and enjoy them

How to Cook with Wine introduces new adventures in good eating

Get them at dealers—or write Wine Advisory Board, 85 Second St., San Francisco 5, California

BUY WAR BONDS TODAY...FOR TOMORROW

I'm glad we had this election!

Yes, I voted.

Whether the man I voted for won or lost, I think he's the better man.

That's my privilege.

Here in America my one vote might have decided the whole election.

It could have been me who really selected our President.

It could have been me who effected the kind of peace we are going to have.

It could have been me who had the giant responsibility of influencing the future of our twelve million men and women in uniform—our millions of families here at home—and the millions on millions of Americans yet to be born.

Or it might have been the one vote of any other American.

I felt as never before what democracy really is.

I thought I was speaking only for myself when I marked my ballot.

Instead—I was really trying to decide what would be best for all of us.

And I thanked God that so many of my fellow men and women here in America were clean, decent, honest people.

I looked around at my family, my friends, my neighbors—

at the fellows and girls I work with—

at the high-school kids who haven't even voted yet—knowing that the vote of any one of them—on election day—would give him or her a power equal to that of king, conqueror, or statesman.

I felt my faith and trust in them.

I guess that's why we instinctively know we have the stuff to win this war...

I guess that's why we're bound to win the peace...

I guess that's why the whole world looks to America...

Because to be an American—to shoulder the responsibility that goes with it—

YOU'VE GOT TO BE GREAT!

This greatness in the American character is the force that draws us together...

UNITED we will speed the end of the war.

UNITED we will secure the peace that is worthy of this war's sacrifices.

UNITED we will keep on building—through our individual work—through science and mass-production—a world that grows constantly more secure... a life that grows constantly fuller and more useful.

UNITED STATES RUBBER COMPANY

1230 SIXTH AVENUE • ROCKEFELLER CENTER • NEW YORK 20, NEW YORK

SERVING THROUGH SCIENCE

US

The Washington Post

Registered in U. S. Patent Office.

An Independent Newspaper
(Published every day in the year.)

Eugene Meyer, Editor and Publisher

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and local news of spontaneous origin published herein. Rights of republication of all other matter herein are also reserved.

New York Office.....270 Madison Avenue
Chicago Office.....360 North Michigan Avenue

CARRIER DELIVERY

District of Columbia and Suburbs.

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One week ...$ .35	One week ...$ .10	One week ...$ .15
One month.. 1.10	One month. .45	One month. .65

Elsewhere

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One week ...$ .20	One week ...$ .10	One week ...$ .20
One month.. 1.30	One month.. .45	One month.. .85

BY MAIL—PAYABLE IN ADVANCE

Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One year...$12.00	One year...$5.20	One year...$7.00
Six months.. 6.25	Six months.. 2.75	Six months.. 4.00
One month.. 1.30	One month.. .50	One month.. .85

Other States, Mexico and Canada

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One year...$12.75	One year...$6.00	One year...$7.50
Six months.. 7.00	Six months.. 3.00	Six months.. 4.25
One month.. 1.30	One month.. .55	One month.. .85

Rates to Foreign Countries not listed will be furnished upon request.

Entered at the Postoffice, Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

TELEPHONE NATIONAL 4300.

Friday, November 10, 1944

Honored Dead

Sir John Dill is perhaps the most distinguished, though not the first, foreign soldier to rest in our National Cemetery at Arlington. Others among our Allies were interred there during and after the last World War. In Sir John's case it was particularly fitting that he should remain with us, since so much of his life had been given to the fructification of Anglo-American relations. In a real sense he had found a home here and was cherished among us. Yet it certainly entailed a great measure of generosity on the part of his countrymen to permit the body of one of their great military leaders to be enshrined at Arlington instead of in their own Westminster Abbey.

It happened that Sir John was buried on a day when the whole attention of this country was caught up in the results of a national election. The circumstance left to comparative obscurity an event of very genuine historical significance. At any other time all America would have joined in the rites performed at Arlington in homage to a good and gracious friend. All of us will recognize in the presence here of his remains a fresh symbol of the cordiality and concord which exists between his country and our own. His tomb is a reminder, as his life was a creative fashioner, of the common ideals and hopes which tie us together.

The Fronts Astir

The six weeks' lull in the Metz-Nancy sector has ended with a new attempt by General Patton's Third Army to cut off and capture the fortress of Metz and break through to the Saar River. Whether this is a purely local operation or the first stage of the long-awaited fall offensive by the Allies on the Western Front, is not yet clear. Reports from other parts of that front provide no clear indication of over-all strategy. A reasonable assumption is that we are yet only in the building-up stage which must precede any all-out blow, a stage which will rapidly come to an end when the port of Antwerp has been put into full use.

In the meantime the Germans appear to be much more alarmed over what is happening on the Eastern Front than over developments in the west. For in the east the Germans appear to have discovered evidence that the Russians are massing vast numbers of men and great quantities of materiel for that "decisive action against the vital centers of Germany" which Marshal Stalin promised in his address of last Monday. The entire Eastern Front may soon again be in motion. But the most promising situation, at the moment, is in the vicinity of Budapest. According to some reports, the Russians have already installed artillery in Pest, across the river from Buda. With winter not many weeks away, a coordinated Allied attack on the Reich from the east, the south and the west is a real possibility.

Woman's Place

In an interview with a reporter for PM, Mrs. Hortense Odlum, recently retired to private life after six years of service as president of Bonwit Teller, Inc., delivered herself of the following categoric observation: "I believe that men are leaders of the world. The place of a woman is behind a man, inspiring and encouraging him. It's biological. It's part of the scheme of things. Every man who has ever succeeded has had a woman behind him." This is very strong talk indeed; and we are the more impressed by it since Mrs. Odlum made plain that it represented a conviction rooted in her own experience. She pulled the business over which she presided out of bankruptcy and tripled its volume of sales. Yet she "hated every minute of it" and fervently advises women to stay out of business and stay home.

"No woman who works can take proper care of her home, her husband and her children," Mrs. Odlum says. The dictum may have exceptions. And for many women engaged in war work, as she herself noted, disregard of it was a matter of necessity or of an overriding patriotism. It deserves attention, nevertheless, from all women who have an opportunity to turn to home-making when the war is ended. "Women," observes Mrs. Odlum, "want careers because they don't want the responsibility of a home and children. The most beautiful career in the world is a home. It's not just housework. People say: 'Anyone can do it.' Anyone can't do it."

To the latter portion of this we unreservedly say "Amen." Homemaking is not only a highly respectable career; it is also one calling for skill, discretion, executive ability and a knowledge of life beyond the demands of any business or professional position. Happily, the compensation is commensurate with the capacities and efforts given to the undertaking. We do not go quite so far as Mrs. Odlum. We recognize that there are women with a bent for careers in other fields and we think that every opportunity should be available to them. But certainly those with gifts for a career at home need feel no inferiority. They're starting at the top.

They Won't Be Missed

In nearly all parts of the country where they had an opportunity to do so the American people have weeded out of their Congress the men who opposed our participation in international affairs. The list is an impressive one. Nye of North Dakota, long identified with isolationism, and Danaher of Connecticut and Davis of Pennsylvania, who voted against Lend-Lease and all our prewar preparedness measures, were eliminated from the Senate at the polls on Tuesday. Latest reports indicated that Davis of Pennsylvania will join them as soon as his State counts its soldier votes. Nye was more responsible than any other man for the dispersion and dismantling of our war-making expertness which followed his munitions inquiry. Earlier, in the primaries, Holman of Oregon, Clark of Missouri and Clark of Idaho were denied renomination, while Reynolds of North Carolina escaped rejection only through retirement. Lodge of Massachusetts who left the Senate for military service will be replaced by Saltonstall, a Republican internationalist. The House will manage its affairs without the prejudices of Hamilton Fish, Stephen Day, Fred Busbey or Melvin Maas.

Undoubtedly there were local considerations and special circumstances which entered into the defeat of these candidates. But the conclusion is inescapable that the views on foreign policy which they held in common constituted the underlying reason for their rejection by the voters. They represented certain attitudes which have been rendered obsolete by the march of contemporary events. The recognition of this fact by the electorate affords added demonstration that America intends in the future to fulfill her responsibilities in a world of interdependent peoples.

There were other election casualties in a somewhat different category from those mentioned above yet not unrelated to them. The Dies Committee lost its chairman through a discreet retirement and two of its most vociferous members, Starnes and Costello, through primary contests. On Tuesday, with the defeat of their Republican colleague, Fred Busbey of Illinois, the committee passed completely into limbo. The behavior of all these men was extremist; in a somewhat different fashion they stood, like the isolationists, for an ultra-nationalism as outmoded as it was extravagant. It is noteworthy, indeed, that in the North Central sector of the country, where isolationism was supposed to be most rampant and where the fears and prejudices of the people were most exposed to a narrow Americanism, the extremists went down to defeat in every test. In the heart of this region, Senator Lucas beat his rabid isolationist opponent, Richard Lyon; Emily Douglas won against Stephen Day; Edward A. Kelly deposed Fred Busbey We can only conclude that Americans have a great fund of common sense. Theodore Roosevelt once said you could always bank on that.

Nearby Points

Probably no better illustration of what extraordinary bedfellows were sleeping under the Democratic aegis in the late election is available than the victory of Senator Millard E. Tydings in nearby Maryland and the victory of Representative Howard Smith in nearby Virginia. Both were reelected by extremely handsome margins, which in each case considerably exceeded the pluralities given to Messrs. Roosevelt and Truman.

In Maryland, or more accurately in Baltimore City, Mr. Tydings undoubtedly benefited by the zeal and activity of the new CIO machine in piling up the whopping plurality which enabled the President to carry the State. At the same time Mr. Tydings got the votes of many thousands of estranged Democrats, including the followers of former Mayor Howard Jackson, who scratched the President and also votes from a great many Republicans. Mr. Tydings carried, besides Baltimore City, all but three of the twenty-three counties, namely, Alleghany, Carroll and Garrett. He carried among others Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Calvert, Caroline, Charles, Frederick, Harford, Howard, Montgomery, St. Marys, Somerset, Talbot, Montington and Worcester counties, in all of which Mr. Dewey was also victorious. In Baltimore City, where Roosevelt got a plurality of 44,215, Tydings got a plurality of 52,994.

The explanation is that the scarcely concealed antagonism of Mr. Tydings and Mr. Roosevelt did not in any way injure the Senator among either the Baltimore trade-unions voters or among the piously regular Democrats, while it greatly aided him among anti-Roosevelt Democrats and Republicans. Mr. Tydings was certainly not, as a candidate, cut to the specifications of the CIO Political Action Committee. But his opponent was even less so; Mr. Blanchard Randall made a weak and negative campaign, uniting himself as tightly as possible to the Dewey kite and reiterating the standard Republican accusations about Communist influence in the Administration.

The situation was otherwise in the Eighth Congressional District of Virginia. Here the reelection of the Democratic Mr. Smith was bitterly contested not only by the laborite wing of the New Deal, but also by regular Rooseveltians and by independents. These want to the length of nominating a third candidate, Mrs. Elizabeth Chilton Murray, in order to deflect Democratic votes from him. Mrs. Murray, however, deflected only 8340, while Mr. Smith, with 26,310, went more than a thousand ahead of Roosevelt himself.

It is a question, of course, how much longer the Democratic Party can continue to shelter such utterly discordant elements, and how long habit and tradition can prevail over tension and conflicting political philosophies within the party ranks. After the Civil War the party managed somehow to embrace the immigrant populations of the Northeastern cities, the former secessionists of the South, and the small farmers of the Midwest. They were perhaps united less by their common belief in local self-government and tariff for revenue than by the bond of common opposition to the party in power. But now the party has foresworn the last vestiges of the Jeffersonian tradition, and is no longer the party of opposition but the party of power. The returns from Maryland show how clearly the lines of a new party cleavage are being drawn as between industrial and rural areas. And the returns from Virginia, where Mr. Dewey's showing was so much more impressive than Wendell Willkie's was four years ago, show how the bonds of the tradition are being strained to the breaking point.

Electoral College

One of the so-called Texas "regular" electors vowed that he would cast his vote for Dewey and Bricker "if that's the best way to defeat the Roosevelt-Truman ticket." Well, the "regulars" are not going to have a chance to vote for anybody, and the irregulars will no doubt cast their votes for Roosevelt and Truman in strictly regular fashion. We almost wish, however, that one or more electors would exercise their legal, though not legitimate, right to vote for a candidate not of the voters' choosing. So long as electors confine themselves to threats to exercise their own discretion all the proposals to abolish the electoral college by constitutional amendment will be apathetically received. If one single elector were to refuse this time to play the game fairly, it would open the eyes of many voters to the fact that their Constitution does not provide for popular election of the Chief Executive.

The States could, if they would, and in some instances they did for a time, leave the choice of presidential electors to their legislatures. South Carolina clung to that method of choice up to the time of the Civil War. Popular election for President and Vice President exists, therefore, by sufferance of the States, which are authorized by the Constitution to appoint electors "in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct." We may perhaps ignore the remote possibility that any State would venture to abandon the present system of permitting voters to choose their own presidential electors. But the States are seemingly powerless to prevent those electors from proving false to the trust reposed in them by the voters when they cast their own ballots for President. The excitement created in Texas, Mississippi and Louisiana during the preelection contest this year because of threats from Democratic electors to bolt the Roosevelt-Truman ticket is evidence of the need for Federal action. Only an amendment can afford assurance that the will of the people will not be thwarted sooner or later by retention of the system of indirect voting made mandatory by the Constitution.

Veterans' Loans

If the Veterans' Administration interprets the law correctly, the Federal Government might attach the disability compensation payable to disabled veterans who failed to keep up payments on GI loans obtained for the purpose of purchasing houses, farms and businesses. Even if the law makes attachment possible, it seems inconceivable that the Government would ever resort to such an extreme measure. The possibility, however, should be excised.

It is true that both the law and the supporting regulations are designed to keep losses on loans to veterans at a minimum by prevention of overborrowing and by restricting loans to those who seem able to use them productively. But these safeguards are designed to protect the veterans themselves as well as lending agencies from the assumption of obligations they cannot carry. Not only would laxity in granting loans to disabled veterans be encouraged if disability compensation could be attached for nonpayment of interest; disabled veterans in default would be deprived of funds voted by Congress for the special purpose of aiding the handicapped.

We cannot believe that Congress meant to authorize such a stupid procedure and applaud Representative Kearney's proposal to introduce legislation of a corrective nature at the easliest possible moment after the election.

THE OLD ORCHARD

Last of all,
Goodbye to the old trees up by the pasture wall
And a long faring.
For days when we were small
And none of the world caring,
For the comfort we found in grass grown wild and tall
Under great boughs busy with apple growing,
Now that we are going;
We are leaving kin behind, loving and knowing.
The late leaves fall.
The late years fall, and the trees are now beyond bearing.
But still may children come through the April plowing
Another season, and come from the seedtime hoeing,
To drop and sprawl
And read in the sky-scrawled branches long-ago thoughts
And find from the stubborn knots
Blossoms budding again and friendships budding
While the robins call.

CHARLES MALAM.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

Republican Vacuum

YES, IT'S TIME for a change! It's time for a change in the leadership of the Republican Party if we're to have a healthy two-party system in this country.

Everywhere I went throughout the country during the campaign, Republicans themselves, and especially young Republicans, told me that the Old Guard was still running the show. The Old Guard was running the show in the same old way, with the old free wheeling hand on the money bags.

It's hard to see where the new leadership will come from. In the light of this latest defeat, the death of Wendell Willkie is more than ever seen to be a tragedy. I believe he would have kept himself in a position through the campaign to step into the great vacuum that has now been created.

Of course, the pencil and paper boys can explain away the Democratic victory. They'd already started to do it before Governor Dewey conceded defeat. If you shift so many votes in Kalamazoo, Kansas City and Cuyahoga County, you come out with an electoral vote total for the GOP equal to half the span of the Brooklyn Bridge.

It's a favorite indoor sport after each one of these contests. But it can't wash out the fact of victory itself. While President Roosevelt won the electoral votes of many States by a very narrow margin, most of the States in the Dewey column are likewise there by reason of a few thousand votes. In rock-ribbed Republican Maine, for example, less than 15,000 votes out of nearly a half million cast put that State on the GOP side.

ONE OF DEWEY'S very real handicaps was the violence and the virulence of part of the press that supported him. Americans, I believe, have a basic sense of fair play, and they resent being screamed at. They resent mean innuendoes and vicious slanders that have no relation to the truth.

Dewey did nothing to rebuke this small but very loud corner of his cheering section. In fact, he seemed at times to join in the chorus.

The poison spread by a fraction of the press this time was perhaps no more virulent than in past Roosevelt campaigns. Yet in some respects the technique was more subtle. There was an effort to create a bandwagon psychology. Commentators like Fulton Lewis, Jr., went into State after State to find the "Dewey trend" exerting such a tremendous pull that there could be little or no doubt which way the country would go.

The easiest explanation, and probably the best balm for wounded feelings, is to say that organized labor delivered the vote for FDR on the good old quid pro quo basis. "Clear everything with Sidney." Remember that?

But it isn't the whole explanation. I've been amazed at the number of Republicans and Independents here in the East who were voting for Roosevelt for the first time. A friend of mine is fairly typical. He is a successful Wall Street lawyer with an old American name. He worked hard for Willkie out of an enthusiasm that had little to do with his life-long Republicanism. This time he and his wife voted Democratic for the first time in their lives.

ONE THING that helped to alienate independent Republicans was the type of speech made by such bitter Roosevelt haters as Clare Boothe Luce. Incidentally, nearly complete returns from Mrs. Luce's Connecticut district show that, as in 1942, she apparently owes her election to the fact that a Socialist candidate drew off enough votes from New Deal Margaret Connors. Mrs. Luce's margin was 1655 and the Socialist polled 2195. But it was victory, and Mrs. Luce will certainly make the most of it.

The Republican Old Guard can say, as they're already beginning to say, that all they have to do now is to wait for 1948. In heaven's name, "That Man" can't run again. Then they'll win by default, when the country is in a mood for postwar reaction.

Well, maybe they will. But that, it seems to me, isn't enough. That isn't the way a healthy two-party system should function. I believe a constructive opposition might have carried the day. The American people didn't want the fourth term. They took it because there seemed to be no alternative.

Rotation Program

Since its inception, the War Department's program for rotating Army personnel who have been overseas 18 months or more, has kept both soldiers and their families wondering and puzzled. The War Department officials say the plan does not work correctly, yet they won't come out and admit its failure. Many of us think it is high time to adjust the disengaged gears and cogs of this present morale-buster. If it cannot be adjusted to work correctly or at least satisfactorily, then it should be junked completely.

After 30 months in and out of combat, must we continue to be electric bulbs in a socket taking high voltage day in and day out until we are worthless or dead? We don't want sympathy or are not pleading for crying towels. We are appealing to the American sense of fair play and asking for a revamped, effectively executed plan of rotation that will work with no "ifs" and "buts."

AMERICAN SOLDIER.
Italy, Nov. 1.

Northwest Passage

By Richard L. Neuberger

New Exploration

FOR MORE THAN 300 years the prospect of navigating the Northwest Passage has fired the imagination of adventurous men all over the world. Henry Hudson and his son perished in 1611 trying to find the fabulous route which linked the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans via the roof of North America.

A few weeks ago the first round-trip journey through the Northwest Passage was completed at the British Columbia seaport of Vancouver. A little 105-foot schooner, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrol boat St. Roch, came up Burrard Inlet and eight red-coated Mounties went ashore.

Behind the St. Roch was nearly four years of voyaging in the ice-locked waters off the northern shores of the continent. The tiny ship left Vancouver in 1940 and negotiated the Northwest Passage from Pacific to Atlantic in 28 months. Then she made the return trip, again braving the ice pack which fringes the gables of North America.

This was the most important exploration to take place since the war began. At any other time, except at the height of a global conflict, it would have stirred the civilized world.

FOR CENTURIES the classic route connecting the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans was the perilous journey around the tip of Cape Horn. But early in the present century the Panama Canal was completed. Still a third route remained—a route which was yet to be used. This route was the Northwest Passage, the legendary seaway linking the oceans via the Arctic.

The round-trip voyage of the St. Roch, the first such argosy in history, has demonstrated that perhaps steel ice-breakers can be used to crack open the Polar ice pack and establish a great new sea lane. When the little schooners came up Vancouver harbor, dreadnoughts dipped their colors in salute.

Fittingly, the skipper of the St. Roch was born in Norway, home of many great Arctic explorers. Henry A. Larsen, who wears the four chevrons of a staff sergeant on his scarlet tunic, grew up a few miles from the birthplace of his hero, Admundsen. Admundsen's tales of the Polar regions inspired in him an ambition to explore the Northwest Passage. He crossed the Atlantic, became a naturalized Canadian and joined the Royal Mounted.

As a member of "G" Division, which patrols the North from Hudson Bay to the Alaskan border, Larsen sailed the St. Roch north to deliver supplies to the far-flung Mounted Police outposts near the mouth of the Mackenzie River. In 1940, S. T. Wood, commissioner of the famous red-coated force, gave Larsen his chance to poke into the Northwest Passage.

The first voyage lasted almost 2½ years. It locked the St. Roch in the ice pack during a pair of savage Arctic winters. Many times huge icebergs and floes threatened to crush the boat like an eggshell. But always its timbers of Douglas fir and its sheathing of Australian "iron bark" held firm. One member of the crew, Constable Albert Joseph Chartrand, died of heart failure when the temperature dropped to 60 degrees below zero and stayed there for weeks at a time. He was buried beneath a lonely rock cairn overlooking Pasley Bay.

SERGEANT LARSEN and Constable P. G. Hunt mushed across the ice for 41 days studying the movement of the pack. The weather was never warmer than 48 below. They visited remote Eskimo tribes and took a census among these most far-flung of all the inhabitants of North America.

With blasting powder and ice chisels, the crew of the "St. Roch" pried their schooner out of the pack during their second August in the Arctic. A few rods at a time, dodging floes and keeping out of blind leads, they snaked and twisted the St. Roch through the labyrinth of islands which lie northwest of Hudson Bay, where their historic predecessor whose name the bay bears had met his death.

They finally came down the bleak coast of Baffinland and so at last ended their voyage at Halifax. Having traversed the forbidding Northwest Passage from west to east, Sergeant Larsen sought permission to attempt the return journey. This time it required not 850 days, as had the cruise from Pacific to Atlantic, but a mere 86 days. Less than three months out of Halifax, the St. Roch cruised along Alaska's fiords and entered British Columbia waters.

Knowledge gained on the first trip enabled Larsen and his men to complete the return voyage in one-tenth the time, for they knew the soundings and the shifting movements of the ice pack.

This argosy by eight Mounted Policemen may bring about a new era in the development of the Far North. For many years Dr. Vilhjalmur Stefansson has been agitating for the opening of the Northwest Passage. He has pointed out that ever since 1920 the Soviet Union has made considerable use of the Northeast Passage, which lies along the northern shores of Europe and Asia. Much commerce has been carried through the Northeast Passage between the mouths of Siberia's great rivers such as the Lena, Ob and Yenisei.

Dr. Stefansson also has cited the fact that transportation between the North Pacific and North Atlantic would only be one-third as long via the Northwest Passage as via the Panama Canal. Perhaps in the future the furs, timber, minerals and other products of the Mackenzie and Yukon Basins can be freighted through this new seaway opened by the St. Roch.

"The route through the Northwest Passage," says Sergeant Larsen, "is suitable for summer traffic by wooden vessels and of course by steel vessels. It has many postwar possibilities."

THE DATA and information acquired by Larsen and his seafaring Mounties was a factor in the recent establishment at Montreal of the Arctic Institute of North America. This organization will include leading scientists, explorers and geographers of the United States and Canada. They will make studies of the Arctic regions of this hemisphere, with a view to development and possible settlement. Such men as Stefansson and Philip Chester of the Hudson's Bay Co. already have commenced to take part.

The twin voyages of the St. Roch will be analyzed in detail by the Arctic Institute. In the meanwhile, the little 105-foot schooner which has made history will return to duty as a patrol boat for the Royal Mounted. Her skipper will continue to be the Scandinavian-born sergeant, Henry Larsen, whose rugged frame, wrinkled face and blonde hair make him a close replica of his hero and exploring predecessor, Roald Amundsen.

Letters To The Editor

Communications must carry writer's name and address, though pen names are permitted at the editor's discretion. Letters should be held to not more than 200 words. They are subject to condensation.

One-Party South

I read with interest Merlo Pusey's column in The Post on Tuesday, November 7, 1944, in which you called attention to the fact that the South is a one-party section. He also made a plea for the South to come back into the United States as an "active political factor."

Will you, for my information, please advise me when the last Republican candidate for high office appeared in the South to seek votes and the amount of money spent by Republican organizations in the South in an attempt to build up their party?

I am a registered Democrat, but I have noticed with dismay that the Republicans apparently make no effort to arouse the people, and newcomers who enter into a Southern State must necessarily register as a Democrat if they desire to participate in the selection of a candidate. I think the fault lies with the Republican Party and to my knowledge they have made no effort to corral or realize on the vote of those Democrats who are not satisfied with existing conditions. It may be considered "poor business" from a financial point of view for the Republican Party to spend money in the South in active propaganda and in speeches by outstanding Republican men, but until the Republican Party does this, I am afraid that the South will remain a one-party section.

It is my considered opinion that the reason for the one-party system lies in the failure of the Republicans to arouse and present their view to the various Southern States.

MARK P. FRIEDLANDER.
Washington, Nov. 7.

National Debt

May I draft on your courtesy while I refer to the New Deal national debt at the date when we were precipitated into the war, and the length of time it would have taken our people to pay it off, under a burden of taxation which we have never borne, and to the increase, by leaps and bounds, of the horde of our bureaucratic rulers in Washington.

The earth revolves on its axis, and human affairs seem to recur in cycles. Bible history affords an illustration. Jeremiah was a great prophet, the son of a priest. So, it does not seem irreverent to quote him concerning the prophets, who appear to have been the politicians of his day. They had ganged-up and expelled him, and he had taken refuge in a cave. This is his summary:

"The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests rule by their means; and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof?"

A combination may control the public Treasury and bestow self-promoting benefits till the Government is insolvent. The benefits will be temporary, but the devastating burden of taxation will endure indefinitely. And the bureaucrats will increase till there is no Treasury out of which to feed them.

"My people love to have it so," and looking down the vista of the future, "what will ye do in the end thereof?"

GEORGE MASON DILLARD.
Sottsville, Va., Oct. 31.

Over-Age Soldiers

Further on the demoralizing treatment accorded over-age men in camps and stations in this country, I should like to cite the instance of one company here.

Some 50 per cent of the personnel of this company are over 35 years of age and about half are former OCS cadets. Practically all of whom were scratched because of age. Under new regulations they are no longer eligible for admittance.

Although they are marked as over-age for overseas duty, no attempt is made to utilize the civilian abilities of this group. In many instances they were lawyers, accountants, business executives, etc. Rather, any initiative on their part is frustrated. Instead, in the main, they are given such diversified duties as KP, guard duty, cutting grass, raking lawns, digging holes, superfluous office functions, etc., without any prospect of change in assignment.

Multiplied several hundredfold, you have the picture of a large group of servicemen who are losing the peace while victory is being forged on the battlefield.

CAMP LEE S BALL.
Camp Lee, Va., Nov. 6.

President's Majority

By Mark Sullivan

Control Of Party

AT THIS WRITING, President Roosevelt's total vote seems to have been about 24 millions—the exact total cannot be known until the soldier vote has been counted. His majority over Mr. Dewey appears to be about three millions.

To suggest that any one group contributed the particular three millions that was Mr. Roosevelt's majority would be, of course, inexact. The majority could be any three million out of the eight times that many who composed his total vote. Yet, it happens that within Mr. Roosevelt's total there were two groups, each of which is in a sense marked off, and each of which might claim to be responsible for the margin that gave Mr. Roosevelt his victory. Each group had a special reason for voting for Mr. Roosevelt, and each might claim, even though speciously, special consideration and reward.

One is the group who voted for Mr. Roosevelt on the issue of foreign relations, and but for this issue would not have voted for him. What this group wants is simple, is easy to grant, and certain to be granted. Their simple wish is that President Roosevelt will with certainty lead the United States into an international association for preventing war. This will be done because it is the wish of the country as a whole and will encounter no material opposition.

THE OTHER GROUP are the voters who were led to register and go to the polls by the CIO Political Action Committee, and who but for the activity of that committee probably would not have voted. Leaders of this group have expectations which are not simple and not easy for Mr. Roosevelt to grant. What they want is not merely one specific action but a whole program, indeed a policy and attitude on the part of the Administration. And what they want, far from being assented to by the country as a whole, is vigorously opposed.

When the CIO leaders claim consideration, based on having contributed even more than the three million votes which were Mr. Roosevelt's margin of victory, they will receive a convincing reply. The reply may or may not come from Mr. Roosevelt, but most certainly will come from the regular Democrats. These will say that the margin of three million votes contributed by CIO would have been no good but for the great body of 15 million or more votes contributed by the regular Democrats.

Conflict between leaders of the regular Democrats and those of CIO and affiliated groups is sure. It was in contemplation of the conflict that regular party leaders laid out their course in the recent campaign. They felt that contest for control of the party was ahead, was indeed already present. They resented the association between President Roosevelt and CIO. They knew that CIO, while supporting Mr. Roosevelt, had in the primaries fought renomination of regular Democrats, and had in some cases succeeded.

NEVERTHELESS the Democratic leaders remained regular. There was among them no conspicuous defection comparable to that of Senator Ball of Minnesota from the Republicans. Democratic leaders who were known to resent the intrusion of CIO and other left-wing groups into the party, and disapprove Mr. Roosevelt in other respects, nevertheless supported his re-election. They did so for precisely the purpose of retaining their party standing and thus being able the better to resist the intrusion of CIO.

The struggle will begin when the present Congress reconvenes next week. There are pending some measures having to do with postwar reconstruction, which are advocated by CIO. When similar measures were before Congress preceding the election, about half the Democrats joined with the Republicans in resisting the measures sponsored by CIO. Some of the resistance was not against the merit of the measures but against the advocacy by CIO. It will be so again. And the condition is likely to continue in the new Congress elected last Tuesday, which will come into being in January.

Roosevelt's Mandate

By Ernest Lindley

Cooperation of Congress

ONCE AGAIN Roosevelt has shown himself to be stronger than his party, at least outside the South. With a few exceptions—such as the Ohio gubernatorial contest—he appears to have run ahead of his ticket, although his margin was large enough in some States to pull into office various other Democratic candidates.

LINDLEY

It is a safe assumption that a portion of Roosevelt's added strength came from voters who did not wish to risk a change in the direction of the war. The Commander in Chief issue applied uniquely to Roosevelt.

It is a safe assumption also that a portion came from voters who are deeply concerned about the organization of the peace. Roosevelt's mandate to proceed with the organization of the peace along the lines which he and Secretary Hull had previously charted is unchallengable. The election has placed at his disposal improved means of obtaining the necessary cooperation from Congress. The Democratic membership in the House has been increased. More important, some of the conspicuous isolationists were defeated. Some were reelected. But the defeat of Nye, Danaher, Fish and Day, when added to the isolationist losses in the primaries, have whittled down sharply the isolationist bloc in Congress.

MANY OF THE Republican candidates for Senate and House were fully committed to American participation in a world security organization. Others were committed, however, only by generalities, so that they could revert to isolationism without conspicuous acrobatics. One could be sure that, in their minds, the so-called bipartisan approach to the organization of the peace was more than a campaign expediency.

The results of the election as a whole, however, are likely to encourage wavering members of this central group to support Roosevelt's international policies.

Roosevelt undoubtedly will move as rapidly as possible, while his mandate is still fresh, to obtain congressional action on the necessary legislation. This, according to present plans, will involve at least one basic treaty requiring a two-thirds vote in the Senate. If the basic treaty is ratified most of the supplemental arrangements probably can be made by agreements or resolutions requiring only simple majorities in both Houses.

BEFORE THESE questions can be put to Congress further inter-Allied negotiations are needed to fill in the blank spaces in the Dumbarton Oaks agreement. Roosevelt's reelection should expedite this work. The 1944 campaign was followed more closely abroad than any other probably in American history—more intently probably than most American voters realized. Dewey's indorsement of Dumbarton Oaks and of the related objectives of Roosevelt and Hull was regarded abroad as a favorable indication of the trend of American policy. But, with its past record, the Republican Party could not inspire among our Allies the confidence Roosevelt already had won. Without question his defeat would have been construed widely abroad as a repudiation of his foreign policies, introducing uncertainties which would have hampered Dewey from the outset. The reelection of Roosevelt, the increased Democratic strength in Congress and the defeat of some of the best-known isolationists undoubtedly will encourage other governments to chart their own courses on the assumption that this time the United States expects to be an active continuing partner in the enforcement of world peace.

Freed Nations Pledged Relief By Roosevelt

President Roosevelt yesterday declared his determination that "the sacrifices of liberated peoples shall be rewarded" through supplies needed "to start life over."

In a letter to Director Herbert N. Lehman of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration on the first anniversary of that organization, the President said:

"On the first anniversary of the creation of UNRRA, I wish to send to you and to the members of your staff my warmest congratulations on the great progress which you have made during this last year in preparing for the tremendous task ahead and my renewed good wishes for the successful fulfillment of your noble undertaking.

Pledges All Possible Support

"I and the other responsible officials of this Government have watched with keenest interest the development of UNRRA from the signing of the agreement in the White House last November 9 to the present moment, when UNRRA men and women are actually engaged in bringing hard-won assistance to the gallant people of Greece.

"This Government has endeavored in every way to suport you and your staff to the fullest limit of our ability, This has not always been an easy task in the face of the pressing and staggering demands which the fighting of a deadly war on many fronts has placed and will continue to place upon our resourses of manpower of supplies and of transportation.

Pays Tribute to Leadership

"But we are determined that the sacrifices of the liberated peoples shall be rewarded and that, to the extent we have it in our power to help, these people shall promptly receive the clothing, food, and other supplies which they need to start life over.

"I am confident that your inspiring leadership together with the cooperation of the member governments will result in making UNRRA an enduring example of international cooperation in action."

Director Lehman, who is leaving for London soon told a news conference yesterday that UNRRA would deal with the authorities in effective control of any liberated territory regardless of whether they were a recognized government.

Ruling Relaxed

WPB Acts To Promote Better Shoes

By Ben W. Gilbert

Restrictions compelling manufacturers to continue making low-priced shoes were relaxed yesterday by the War Production Board to stimulate production of better quality shoes.

WPB changed its regulations after it received a complaint from its shoe retailers industry advisory committee that stocks of low-priced leather shoes were remaining on dealers' shelves unsold because the public rfused to surrender ration currency for them

The change is expected to stimulate production of men's leather shoes designed to retail at $4 a pair, women's shoes selling for $3 to $3.50, and children's shoes selling for $2.75 to $3, WPB said.

Previous Ruling

WPB had previously required manufacturerse who made cheap shoes before the war to continue making them in the same proportion to better-priced shoes as before.

Simultaneously, WPB removed its ban on unnecessary design stitching on cowboy boots.

"To the extent that materials are available, today's action will provide a greater quantity of ration-type, moderately priced shoes for the consumer," J. Edson Andrews, chief of the WPB shoe branch, said.

May Make Ration Type

Manufacturers of nonrationed types of footwear will now be able to make rationed types, Andrews said.

Minutes of the advisory committee meeting revealed that the group urged the OPA to authorize release of "stagnant" stocks of shoes now on shelves, pasticularly models that have not been sold for a year or more. The dealers said that they were particularly loadad with stocks of men's shoes that were not being sold.

The retailers also told WPB that a pressing shortage of white infants' shoes existed. Mothers refused to buy brown shoes until they have exhausted every possibility of obtaining white ones, the retailers said.

WPB held out hope for increased supplies of childrens' sneakers and other athletic type shoes with canvas tops and rubber soles in the spring since the rubber supply no longer presents a problem.

Show Time in the Downtown Theaters

STAGE

National—"Blossom Time," at 8:30 p. m.

Gayety—Burlesque at 12, 2:30, and 8:30 p. m.

SCREEN

Capitol—"Till We Meet Again," at 11 a. m., 1:45, 4:30, 7:15 and 9:55 p. m. Stage shows at 1, 3:45, 6:30 and 9:15 p. m.

Earle—"Frenchman's Creek" at 11:10 a. m., 1:45, 4:20, 7, and 9:40 p. m. Stage show at 1:15, 3:55, 6:30 and 9:10 p. m.

Metropolitan—"Here Comes Mr. Jordan" at 11 a. m., 1:05, 3:15, 5:25, and 9:40 p. m.

RKO-Keith's—"Master Race," at 11:15 a. m., 1:20, 3:25, 5:30, 7:35 and 9:40 p. m.

Palace—"Irish Eyes Are Smiling," at 10:45 a. m., 12:55, 3:05, 5:20, 7:30 and 9:45 p. m.

Columbia—"Laura," at 11:45 a. m., 1:45, 3:45, 5:45, 7:40 and 9:40 p. m.

Little—"48 Hours" at 11 a. m., 12:50, 2:35, 4:20, 6:05, 7:55 and 9:45 p. m.

Pix—"Soul of a Monster" at 2:10, 4:30, 6:55 and 9:20 p. m. "Cry of the Werewolf," at 3:10, 5:35, 7:55 and 10:20 p. m.

Trans-Lux—Newsreels and shorts, at 10:15 and 11:30 a. m., 12:45, 2, 3:15, 4:30, 5:45, 7, 8:15, 9:30, and 10:45 p. m.

Ambassador—"Frenchman's Creek," at 1, 3:05, 5:10, 7:20 and 9:35 p. m.

Off the Record

By Ed Reed

"Crunch—crackle—gracious, you sound like breakfast cereal!"

LEONARD LYONS

Gossip From Gotham

New York, Nov. 9.—Col. David Sarnoff, who will be returned to inactive duty shortly, went to Rome and one of the first places he visited was the home of the late Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy. There Col. Sarnoff, head of the Radio Corporation of America, found Marconi's widow, who had survived the rigors of the past four years. "Is there anything you want?" Col. Sarnoff asked her. "Is there anything I can do for you? Is there anything I can get for you?" . . . "Yes," said the widow of the man who made radio possible. "Can you get me a radio?"

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, Jr.

The floor-waiter on the second floor at Claridge's in London is a well known Britisher named King. He helped, as bartender-butler, at a party given by Lieut. Comdr. Douglas Fairbanks, jr. Lord Louis Mountbatten was one of the guests invited, and he had asked Fairbanks for permission to bring another guest, his cousin. Fairbanks, of course, had agreed . . . During the party the host shouted: "Hey, King, how about mixing a few drinks?" Before floor-waiter King could respond, the man Mountbatten had brought said, "Of course. I'll be glad to." And he mixed the drinks . . . He, too, was a King, King George of Greece.

Gary Cooper, except during campaign time, is Hollywood's Silent Man. He has spoken fewer words off the screen than on. Even his best friends therefore can't tell the extent of his intellectual attainments . . . During the filming of Cooper's last picture some members of the stage crew started to discuss the comparative merits of Leonardo Da Vinci and Michelangelo. "Let's ask Cooper," one of them suggested. They approached the screen star, and asked him: "Gary, which do you think was the better artist, Leonardo Da Vinci or Michelangelo?" . . . Cooper gritted his teeth, pondered, then said: "Depends," and walked away.

Cap Krug, chairman of the War Production Board, soon will announce a revival of the Aircraft Production Board. It will be composed of Chairman Krug, Lieutenant General Knudsen, Admiral Richardson, General Oliver Eccles and Ed Wright of the Civil Aeronautics Administration . . . Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the New York Times, leaves shortly for another Red Cross trip overseas . . . Frank Sinatra met Dorothy Kirsten in the Stork Club, and discussed with her a plan for both to do "La Boheme" . . . Monday night the President read a Prayer which he said had been sent him by "a friend." The friend was Bishop Dunn of Washington.

Lieut. Col. David Niven tells this story of a Polish flier now with the RAF, one of the Poles who escaped from Warsaw to London and then was sent to an RAF base in the north of Scotland, for training. After a few months the Pole was given a few days' leave, and he spent them in London . . . "Were you able to speak English before you came to England?" the Pole was asked . . . "No," he answered . . . "And can you speak English now?" he was asked . . . The Pole replied: "Aye. A wee bit."

Sunday night at Toots Shor's some of the diners shook my hand and offered congratulations. Joe E. Lewis rushed up and inquired: "What's all the excitement about? What're they congratulating you for? What happened?" I told him the news of the arrival of our third son: "Sylvia gave birth to a boy a few hours ago.. Our third boy." Lewis shrugged: "Oh, so you got a boy. From all this excitement I thought you got a carton of Chesterfields." . . . The New York Times, Reader's Digest, the Chicago Tribune and Newsweek are seeking permission to print editions in Paris, for American troops . . . Edward Chodorov, author of "Decision," is finishing his new play for Max Gordon. It's about a USO unit which is captured by the Nazis.

J. Edward Bromberg, the stage and screen actor, has an 8-year-old son, a precocious youngster who often displays an odd mixture of childishness and adult intelligence. A Chinese government official dined at the Bromberg home one night and during the discussion he said: "Shall I tell you what China really needs?" . . . The 8-year-old interrupted: "I can tell you. China needs planes, tanks, guns, quickly and in large quantities" . . . "Right," his father proudly agreed. "But, son how can we get all this equipment to China?" . . . "Oh, it's simple," replied the youngster. "Dig a hole."

Last Friday Henry J. Kaiser had a conference, via a telephone hook-up, with the Mayors of ten cities, to discuss the work of Kaiser's Non-Partisan Assn. for Franchise Education. Each Mayor was warned he'd have only two minutes to speak, because the telephone hook-up was only for 20 minutes. Mayor Jeffries of Detroit and Mayor Bowron of Los Angeles began arguing about the registration increases in their cities. Mayor Scully of Pittsburgh then began campaigning for Roosevelt, and that consumed practically 20 minutes.....Because the last-minute political broadcasts contained so many quotes from the Bible, Paul Porter, the Democratic press chief, said: "They're trying to make a theological seminary out of the Electoral College" . . . Kathleen Harriman, who returned from Moscow with her father, didn't want to waste any time during her stay here. The Ambassador's daughter immediately went to work for the OWI.

Carmen Figueroa, whose family owns El Universal, Mexico's largest newspaper, arrived in New York the other night. She came here to do a series of articles on Election Day in America. Miss Figueroa went to the Stork Club, one of her assignments in her report on "Democracy at Work During a Bitter Presidential Campaign."

Bridge

Nelson B. Bell About the Showshops

'Irish Eyes Are Smiling,' Palace, Revives Tunes Of a Master Melodist

IT WOULD BE a hazardous business to attempt to guess how many of the present theatergoing public might retain any personal recollection of Ernest Ball, one of the most prolific and most successful of the popular ballad writers of three decades or so ago.

There can be no question, however, of the persistence with which his tunes have lingered in such memories as are old enough to encompass them.

MONTY WOOLLEY

It probably doesn't make too much difference whether anyone remembers Ernie Ball or not. "Irish Eyes Are Smiling," the Twentieth Century-Fox Technicolor production, based on his life and songs, which yesterday inaugurated its first Washington run on the screen at Loew's Palace Theater, will impress him sufficiently on contemporary consciousness for all practical purposes.

It is an exceedingly engaging film that Producer Damon Runyan has extracted from a script by Earl Baldwin, under the direction of Gregory Ratoff.

As was suggested here a day or two ago, I am not sure that "Irish Eyes Are Smiling" is impeccably factual in reflecting the private life of the young composer whom it celebrates. Knowing him slightly, I still never got an inkling of any such involved personal fortunes as are emblazoned on the screen. Nevertheless, it makes for superlatively excellent pastiming.

Stays on the Beam

Granting that Scenarist Baldwin has introduced a variety of variations upon the usual "backstage" theme, the present musical does not depart in any overwhelming way from the fixed formula of the tale of the young song-writer who has a desperate time of it trying to get his compositions heard under conditions that will render him the most good.

Ernest R. Ball, it seems, fell head over heels in love with a blonde young Irish gal with a tremendous yen for a stage career on her own and a left hook that stood her in remarkably good stead in moments of crisis and stress. She applied the left to Mr. Ball's right eye on occasion and finally wound up as a hatcheck girl at Churchill's in New York, when Broadway was Broadway, and he was a young fellow just coming into what is inelegantly known as "the chips."

The culmination of this idyllic romance is impeded by all manner of the usual procedures that mark the conduct of "show business," wherever you happen to find it. As goes without saying, everything comes out right side up in the end, with the colossal Broadway production, the reunion of the lovers and pyrotechnic success for all and sundry. Even the genial "villain" of the piece bobs up at the end as the backer of the hit that was supposed to deplete him to the tune of a lost bet of 25 grand, as we say in the back room.

Runs True to Type

You can see that "Irish Eyes Are Smiling" violates none of the traditions of a form of entertainment that has never submitted itself to any relentless or reliable logic. It's all in fun, and very good fun it is.

Mr. Runyan, in casting his tuneful tribute to the memory of a great melodist, has had the courage to pop two comparative newcomers into the romantic leads of his picture. June Haven, who made a distinct impression in "Home in Indiana," emerges here as a singer and a dancer of adequate ability, who still has a bit to learn about acting, but can coast by successfully on that point on the strength of her slender blonde beauty. Dick Haymes, with a nice crooning style about him, has been cast in the role of Ball. He is an awkward, diffident and ingratiating fellow who is no more like Ernie Ball than William Powell, for example, was like Flo Ziegfeld in "The Great Ziegfeld." It must be taken for granted by now that, except in a few patriarchal minds, this has no bearing whatsoever upon the over-all effect of the picture on the side of tunefulness, gayety and a rollicking sort of enjoment, tempered by an occasional intrusion of strife.

Monty Woolley, as a gusty and verbose shoestring producer, and Anthony Quinn, a Broadwayite who relies upon "sure things" as a reason for his three squares a day and a place to sleep, are foremost in the support. Edgar Brawley, in the hands of Mr. Woolley, seemed to me pretty hopelessly overplayed, but that could be a matter of personal opinion in which we easily might be outvoted. In contemplating Mr. Quinn, I had a difficult time trying to convince myself that it wasn't Cesar Romero.

Maxie Perfectly Last

That exquisite classicist, Maxie Rosenbloom, has an important assignment as the late Stanley Ketchel, one of the greatest of the ringsters, and both Leonard Warren and Blanche Thebom, of the Metropolitan Opera, are on hand to see to it that full value is given the more impressive of the Ball compositions.

These, by the way, include such as the title song, "Boy of Mine," "A Little Bit of Heaven," "Love Me and the World Is Mine," "Mother Machree," "Let the Rest of the World Go By," and a considerable list of other numbers that everyone remembers, even if he has never been quite sure who wrote them. Technicolor is a tremendous aid to the spectacular effectiveness of the whole business.

The new bill at the Palace, as usual, is augmented by the customary short-reel subjects.

HEDDA HOPPER

Citizens Oddly Mute

Hollywood, Calif., Nov. 9.—I don't understand it. Charles Boyer, Cary Grant, Errol Flynn, Walter Pidgeon, Joan Fontaine, Hedy Lamarr, Arthur Treacher, Helmut Dantine, Gladys Cooper, Michele Morgan, Binnie Barnes, and Heather Angel all became American citizens this year and they can vote. Yet when asked to go on the air five minutes to say how proud they were that they were able to vote in a democracy, with nothing said about either candidate, only two were willing to do it—Treacher and Dantine . . . Paramount's having more than its share of trouble, what with Bob Hope refusing to make a new deal unless he gets an independent picture. He likes to spend more time with our boys overseas. Now it's Bing Crosby who hasn't yet signed that seven years deal; there are certain clauses not ironed out. Bing also wants to go overseas. Dorothy Lamour has registered her discontent. They've already lost Fred MacMurray. Claudette Colbert is no longer under contract there. So all is not moonlight and roses.

CHARLES BOYER

That's What He Said

Irving Berlin's seen "Going My Way" four times. The first time in Italy. He thinks it's bigger than any academy award and that the award should go to some other picture. Says Irving, "The word 'great' has been so overdone, and 'Going' is so far ahead of anything that's been done in years, we need new adjectives to describe it" . . . Irving is putting it up to the boys themselves as to which of his songs they want in "Blue Skies" . . . When Gracie Allen started talking about her concerto for index finger, it was done as a gag. Since then she's actually played it at Carnegie hall, and now she'll do it with the Boston Symphony on November 15. Who is it talks down the power of radio? . . . Jean Cagney's husband, Ken Spaulding, replaces Joel Ashley with Mae West in "Catherine Was Great." And I'm told Jean's performance in a new play is something to shout about.

Elizabeth Taylor gets star rating in "National Velvet" and deserves it. Elizabeth is beating Shirley Temple in her love of animals and a homemade menagerie. Elizabeth has just returned with Frank Morgan from three months at Lake Chelan, Wash. She brought back 12 baby chipmunks. They've been added to three dogs, two cats, a pony, rabbits, pet mice and leaping frogs . . . Jack Cummings is off to Mexico soon to take background shots for a picture laid there. He wants Irene, famous designer, to go along with him. She'd like to go and visit former sister-in-law, Dolores Del Rio, who's finally doing the kind of pictures we wouldn't let her do here, and making more money than she ever did . . . Ida Lupino is reading Edward Thompson's "Take Away the Darkness." So am I, and I recommend it to you for an evening's enjoyment soon. His "Listen for the Laughter" came out just about the time of Pearl Harbor, and so much happened that I'm afraid it was lost in the shuffle . . . Peter Lorre has been borrowed from Warners for "Too Good to Be True."

Room at Top

Charles Koerner has signed up Stephen Laird, a young producer with ideas. He'd like to do "The Odyssey of Runyan Jones," a Norman Corwin story. It's enchanting. About a little boy who goes to purgatory looking for his dog which has been run over. Later it's discovered that the little boy died trying to save him. Whether Laird gets to do it or not, it shows he has a vivid imagination which they could sure use over at that studio . . . Roman Bohnen is playing his first American role in "Susie Slagle." He'll battle every time he hears himself referred to as "that refugee actor." He was born in St. Paul, went to the University of Minnesota, and played football there. . . . Hedy Lamarr is going to have a ba-bee and can't stand in for her fittings at Metro. Greta Garbo never did stand for hers. First sketches were shown her, which she approved. Then the finished garment was given her. She tried it on once before working in it. That went for that $10,000 beaded number she wore in "Mata Hari," too.

Half-Dozen Urgent Questions Await Decision by President

By John M. Hightower
Associated Press Staff Writer

A decision on United States policy toward postwar control of Germany is one of a half-dozen top-drawer foreign questions awaiting President Roosevelt's return from the political wars.

Probably the most urgent decision on the President's desk is his choice of a time and place to meet with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill. The final time and place, of course, will be by agreement among the three.

The greater part of the pending foreign problems are coupled with this meeting.

Here are some of the issues with which Mr. Roosevelt may be expected to deal as rapidly as he can consider the facts and consult with his advisers and department heads:

1. Arrangements for advancing the Dumbarton Oaks plan of world organization to the point where an international conference can be held early next year, possibly in January. The British, Russian and American leaders are expected to try to agree on the big power veto issue at their own imminent meeting.

2. Also linked to decisions on the tripartite gathering is the pending invitation from Gen. Charles de Gaulle for the President and Secretary of State Hull to visit Paris.

3. German control policy has to be given its final form, so far as the United States is concerned, before it is subjected to final agreement with the British and Russians. Having scrapped the Morgenthau plan for deindustrialization of defeated Germany, the President is expected to go along with the State Department's proposals for control of Germany's war-making resources through selective elimination and restriction of its industries.

4. Another pressing question is that of the policy to be followed with respect to the Argentine situation, which apparently is now building up to a consultative meeting of American foreign ministers. The United States has not relaxed its insistence that the Argentine government is a hotbed of Fascist activities in this hemisphere, so this Government must be prepared to press its case fully at such a gathering.

5. The position of Ambassador to China is open as a result of the resignation of Clarence E. Gauss and the President's advisers on Chinese affairs concede that it will be difficult to find a successor with the requisite abilities and prestige for the extremely difficult job. Ther eis also the problem of an assignment for General Joseph W. Stilwell, whom the President relieved of his China-Burma-India duties at the request of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

6. Mr. Roosevelt evidently will be pressed, too, for a more active American participation in the efforts to settle the differences between Russia and Poland. So far the United States has participated only informally and to the extent of making its good offices available for seeking a solution, an offer which the Russians rejeceted. Certainly the subject of Polish settlement would be on the agenda of the big three meeting.

Radio to Cut Delay Due to Transit Tie-ups

Transit traffic tieup delays are expected to be cut in half as a result of a $18,000 two-way radio system installed by Capital Transit Co. today.

Located at the company's central dispatcher's office, 3222 M st. nw., WQHA, using a maximum of 250 watts power, will broadcast to 30 mobile sets in scout cars and trucks which are held in readiness for any emergency. The station also will be coordinated with the recently installed headway recorder, which automatically reports on the operation of streetcars past 40 strategic points.

Following the pattern of the Metropolitan Police two-way radio system, Capital Transit's innovation will eliminate delays caused by phone calls and enable emergency workers to be dispatched to the scene immediately.

The Federal Communications Commission approved the company's plan August 29 and construction started shortly thereafter.

What's Going On And Where

Entertainment for Service Men and Women

Victory Canteen for Servicemen, 1113 Pennsylvania ave. nw.

Army-Navy Masonic Servicemen's Center 13th st. and New York ave. nw., 1 p. m.

Penn-Cole Canteen for Servicemen of the United Nations, 13th and G sts. nw., checking, lounge, showers, all day.

Stage Door Canteen, Belasco Theater, 8. Mal. Jas Gaffney, pianist; 9:30, Marine birthday cake for Maj. Gen. Julian C. Smith; 9-10, Military District of Washington Dance Band; 10, Bob Wayne, vocalist on Lucky Strike program.

USO, 801 Market space nw., 6, voice recordings; 8:30, movie, "The Uninvited," with Ray Milland and Ruth Hussey.

USO, 1911 K st. nw., game night.

Officers' Service Club of the United Nations, 1644 21st st. nw., 8:30, Army and Navy Daughters dance.

USO, YMCA, 1736 G st. nw., bowling, bridge.

Exhibits and Concerts

Smithsonian and National Museum, 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

National Gallery of Art, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Folger Shakespeare Library, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

National Zoological Park, 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Friday Morning Music Club, YWCA, 17th and K sts. nw., concert.

Meetings, Luncheons and Dinners

Uptown Lions Club, luncheon, 12:15, Broadmoor.

D. C. Bankers Association, luncheon, 12:45, Willard.

National Homes Foundation, luncheon, 12:30, Statler.

Dartmouth Club, smoker, 7:30, Willard.

Australian War Supply, dance, 9:00, Statler.

Audubon Society, meeting, 8:00, 1410 16th st. nw., Alexander Sprunt, speaker.

WSVA

550 Kilocycles.

FRIDAY

MORNING.

6:15 Variety Time.
6:30 Rev. Maiden.
6:45 News and Markets.
7:00 Sleepy MacDaniels.
7:15 Trading Post.
7:30 News.
7:45 Pioneer Boys.
8:00 Curley Joe.
8:15 Smiles.
8:30 Lee Moore.
8:45 Kitchen Frolic.
9:00 Johnson Trio.
9:15 News.
10:00 Ten o'Clock Favorites.
10:15 Bulletin Board.
10:30 Doublin' in Ivory.
10:45 Woman's Page of the Air.
11:00 News.
11:15 Reed Organ.
11:30 Lee Moore.

AFTERNOON.

12:00 Juanita.
12:15 Purple Sage Trio.
12:30 News.
12:45 Markets.
1:00 10-2-4 Ranch.
1:15 Campfire Round up.
2:00 News.
2:15 Town Crier.
2:30 Doc Williams.
2:45 Buddy Starcher.
3:00 Lee Moore.
3:30 News.
3:45 Modern Romances.
4:00 The Goldbergs.
4:15 Life Can Be Beautiful.
4:30 Ma Perkins.
4:45 News.
5:00 Story Lady.
5:15 Jimmy Allen.
5:30 Harden Family.
5:45 News and Markets.
6:00 Sign Off.

HARRISONBURG, VA.

WFVA

1230 Kilocycles.

FRIDAY

MORNING.

7:30 Music.
8:00 Accuracy; News.
8:15 Hour of Prayer.
8:30 News Summary.
8:45 Morning Devotions.
9:00 Breakfast Club.
10:00 True Story.
10:30 Save the Time.
10:45 Listening Post.
11:00 Breakfast at Sardi's.
11:30 Gil Martyn—News.
11:45 Gossip for Girls.

AFTERNOON.

12:00 Hit Band of the Day.
12:15 Luncheon Dancing.
12:30 Farm and Home Hour.
1:00 Saukage—News.
1:15 Jam 'n' Honey.
1:30 Concert Hall.
2:00 Kitchen Korner.
2:15 Hollywood Show.
2:30 Ladies Be Seated.
2:45 Money Man.
3:00 Marion Downey.
3:15 Star Time.
3:30 Appointment with Life.
4:00 Rhet and Abert.
4:15 Mary Washington College.
4:30 Time Views the News.
4:45 Hop Harrigan.
5:00 Terry and the Pirates.
5:15 Dick Tracey.
5:30 Jack Armstrong.
5:45 Capt. Midnight.
6:00 Harry Hoover.
6:15 Charlie Kline Music.
6:30 Sign Off.

FREDERICKSBURG BROADCASTING CORPORATION
Fredericksburg, Va.

475,000*
copies in print of this "compelling and compassionate novel."
—Chicago News

EARTH AND HIGH HEAVEN

by Gwethalyn Graham

"Her story has charm, romantic appeal and dramatic force as well as 'social significance'. Miss Graham is to be congratulated for writing so honest and timely a book with so much skill. And its fine plea for understanding and simple humanity deserves the widest possible audience."—N. Y. Times

EARTH AND HIGH HEAVEN

"You will read it for its tender and moving love story, its subtle and beautiful prose and for its flashing illumination."
—Boston Herald

"A powerful love story of two mature beings who know their minds and know their hearts."
—Pittsburgh Press

"Brilliant, fearless and timely."
—N. Y. Post

"It is a fine love story, full-bodied, concradictory, shadowed and distressed, and given uncommon emotional subtlety by the war . . . intensely real and not soon to be forgotten."—N. Y. Herald Tribune

"A moving and dramatic novel . . . distinguished for its intelligent dialogue, its knowledge of human beings and its moral incisiveness."—Philadelphia Record

EARTH AND HIGH HEAVEN

*Including The Literary Guild $2.50

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY
Philadelphia New York

Theseus Captures Sarazen Purse at Pimlico

This Morning

With Shirley Povich

We are compelled to note that the Redskins are lucky stiffs to be sharing the Eastern Division lead with the Philadelphia Eagles, with their record of four victories and one tie. In fact, with just a bit mor luck the Redskins could wind up with the Eastern title.

POVICH

From the outset, the schedule was in the Redskins' favor. In a year when they are not a hot team, they are getting a tremendous break from the inequities of the Pro League schedule, which is some kind of a mockery anyway. It's no true test of the teams. The Redskins, for instance, don't play either the Green Bay Packers or the Chicago Bears.

The Eastern title could hinge on the outcome of any one game, and the Eagles and Giants who are the Redskins' challengers could be knocked out of it by reason of having to play the tough Western clubs. The Eagles must play the Bears, and the Giants must play the Packers, and a defeat in those games could be extremely costly.

Each Eastern Club must play two games with Western teams, and the Redskins' schedule called for them to meet Cleveland and the Chi-Pitts, who are not, emphatically, as tough as the Bears or Packers.

When we noted that the Redskins were lucky, we were thinking of how they squeaked past Brooklyn and the Rams in the last three weeks. There was certainly nothing to permit their customers to come away from the park believing in clear-cut Redskin supremacy.

In the Brooklyn game, the Redskins were the beneficiaries of an official's horn that called back Pug Manders' 37-yard touchdown run, and in the Rams' game the 'Skins were pushed all over the field. Their winning touchdown was mostly an accident with Les Dye grabbing a pass from Frank Filchock after it had been tipped into the air by Celella of the Rams and all but intercepted.

The Redskins still don't have a running attack worthy of the name, but that's not the fault of the Redskin backs. Washington's line has been outplayed in virtually every game this season, and the team is almost completely dependent on the throwing arm of Filchock.

Despite the Redskins' successes to date, the conversion to the T-formation has not been notably successful. Playing quarterback underneath the center hogties Sammy Baugh with his passing, and the Redskins can thank their stars for Filchock, who got his Navy discharge in the nick of time to prevent pro football in Washington from being a horrible flop this year, from a competitive standpoint.

Would you like a case of champagne? Simply get yourself a racehorse and win the Pimlico Special with him, or her, and before your steed is back in the stall, the Maryland Jockey Club will have rushed the champagne to your barn, and not even a corking charge. That's routine.

It was Twilight Tear's party this year, and off her victory in the Pimlico Special she will introduce a new note in racing history. The daughter of Bull Lea has kicked over the traces of precedent. For the first time, a 2-year-old has earned distinction as The Horse of the Year, and a filly, yet.

There isn't much doubt that the honor belongs to Twilight Tear, although the award has not yet been made. Her only rivals are the 2-year-old Pavot and the 3-year-old By Jimminy. Pavot, true enough is unbeaten while Twilight Tear has lost three races, but Pavot's record scarcely compares with Suzie's.

In two of her three defeats, Twilight Tear was conceding as much as 25 pounds to horses of her own age, and in the other, she was running against older horses. When she beat the 5-year-old Devil Diver in the special, she equaled the record set for the race by Seabiscuit, and won easily by six lengths. Lacking a challenger to make her run, she merely tied the record.

Cadets Held 2-1 Favorites Over Irish

By Carl Lundquist

New York, Nov. 9 (U.P.).—It has been 13 longs years since Army's Cadets have ben able to win a football game against Notre Dame, but the odds were nearly 2 to 1 that they would end that long succession of failures against the still powerful Irish at Yankee Stadium Saturday.

That the Cadets, in the face of those failures, could be such distiinct choices against a team that lost its first game to a collegeo pponent since 1942 last Saturadq, definitely reflects the tone of the current season At the moment, there is a generally established feeling that Army and Navy are in a clas by themselves, with the Navy and Marine College trainee elevens in the nxt group and the top civilian elevents in a third.

First Major Test for Army

Notre Dame could alter that trend of thought definitely by keeping up the "annual" drubbing of the Cadets, but the odds makers haven't any faith in their ability to do it.

The Cadets, facing their first major test, may be handicapped because soft opposition hasn't toughened them for a first-rate opponent. Their best back, for example, Felix (Doc) Blanchard, didn't even get off the bench in last week's rout of Villanova.

All but one of the other major perfect record college and service teams are distinct favorites to retain their unbeaten status this weekend. The exception was Wake Forest, a 7-to-5 underdog against Duke's Blue Devils. However, they have been underdogs before and met the test and could do it again. Ohio State's Buckeyes, up against little controversy in their claim of being the top all-civilian club in the country, are 4 to 1 to knock down the Pittsburgh Panthers again. Yale is 7 to 5 to defeat Brown's Bears, and Mississippi State rates 8 to 5 over Auburn, but the Plainsmen are conceded an excellent chance to upset the Maroons. Randolph Field's Fliers were 4 to 1 over Southwest Louisiana; Norman (Okla.) Naval, 5 to 2 over Lubbock (Tex.) AAF, and Bainbridge (Md.) Noval, 9 to 5 over Cherry Point (N. C.) Marines.

Navy 3-1 Over Cornell

Navy, gaining in prestige each week, is 3 to 1 to top Cornell and Pennsylvania's Quakers are 5 to 2 over Columbia's Lions in other eastern features.

Elsewhere in the east, Dartmouth was 7 to 5 over Coast Guard Academy, Holy Cross 2 to 1 over Colgate, Rutgers and Lafayette were even, Penn State rated 2 to 1 over Temple, West Virginia 2 to 1 over Lehigh and New York University 6 to 5 over Swarthmore.

Michigan was a 6 to 5 favorite to retain second place in the Big Ten against Illinois while in other conference games, Indiana was 8 to 5 over Minnesota, Purdue 8 to 5 over Northwestern, and Wisconsin 7 to 5 against Iowa. Oklahoma, seeking to settle Big Six supremacy was 8 to 5 over Missouri, while Kansas rated 8 to 5 over Kansas State and Iowa State 2 to 1 over Maryland, and Iowa Preflight at 2 to 1 over Bunker Hill Naval were the other midwest standouts.

Alabama Favored

In the South, Alabama was 5 to 2 over Mississippi, Clemson 7 to 5 over Virginia Military, Georgia 2 to 1 to beat Florida, Georgia Preflight and North Carolina Preflight were even, North Carolina was 7 to 5 to beat William and Mary.

Rice, consistent in the conference and erratic outside, was 8 to 5 to retain its Southwest circuit lead against Arkansas, Southern Methodist and Texas A. annd M. was a 7-to-5 favorite against Texas and Tulsa was 9 to 5 over Southwestern.

UCLA and California were even in their second meeting in the Pacific Coast Conference, March Field Fliers were 2 to 1 over Washington, and Fleet City Bluejackets were 3 to 1 to top Nevada. In the Rockies, Colorado College rated 7 to 5 over Utah, Second Air Force was 3 to 1 over Fort Warren, Wyo., and Denver was 2 to 1 to top New Mexico.

Army Gets a Wing Talk Before Battle With Marines

U. S. Signal Corps Photo.

Maj. Gen. Leonard F. Wing, CG, Forty-third Division (center, standing), gives the football players of the 169th Infantry, Forty-third Division, a "pep "talk" prior to their game with a USMC company at Eden Park, New Zealand. Army won, 14—0, before a capacity crowd of 27,000.

Irish En Route To New York For Army Tilt

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 9 (AP).—In tip-top shape, but with little hope of upsetting mighty Army, Notre Dame's 35-member football squad today began a two-day exodus to New York for Saturday's battle with the Cadets at Yankee Stadium.

Genial Ed McKeever, who left this afternoon with 24 youthful civilian players, appeared resigned to an Irish trimming by Army for the first time in 13 seasons.

"We," he asserted grimly, "are going to New York with a punt, a pass and a prayer—and the only thing we're really sure of is the prayer."

Camp at Bear Mountain

The main Irish contingent which will spend Friday at Bear Mountain, a resort near West Point, will be followed tomorrow by 11 Navy trainees who must travel under a 48-hour restriction.

McKeever said his charges emerged from the week's practice in good shape. "About the only thing that hurt this week was our feelings after Navy got through beating us," he said wryly.

The Irish coach made several last minute lineup switches that indicated he would bank heavily on the pitching of Quarterbacks Frank Danciewicz and Joe Gasparella. Husky George Sullivan was returned to lefttackle from his experimental sojourn at end and 6-foot, 4-inch Bill O'Connor of Ft. Montgomery, N. Y., moved back to the left flank ostensibly to spear passes.

Still a source of worry to McKeever is the lefthalf spot vacated when Achille (Chick) Maggioli was transferred to a Marine base. Any running mate he digs up for stellar Bob Kelly will b esmall and inexperienced.

Chandler May Start

Bill Chandler, 175-pound freshman who stands 5 feet 9½ inches, is the likely starter at left half with relief coming from 155-pound Jim Brennan or 160-pound Nunzio Marino. The post was further weakened by the loss of George Terlep after the Navy game.

Fast-stepping Kelly, who has scored 72 points on 11 touchdowns and six conversions, recently received an Annapolis appointment and will cast an "anti-Cadet" vote along with the 11 Navy trainees. Among these are starters Sullivan, O'Connor and Chandler.

After consolidating forces at Bear Mountain, the Irish will move into New York City on Saturday morning a few hours before the kickoff.

Pickers' Paradise

Army-Notre Dame Grid Game May Be All-American Parade

By Orlo Robertson

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—When Army's unbeaten football team and once defeated Notre Dame clash Saturday at the Yankee Stadium, three of the outstanding candidates for All-America backfield honors will be on parade.

The gridiron season has produced a dozen or so backs who rate serious consideration for the mythical eleven but none is more prominent than Army's Felix Blanchard, a plunging fullback with the speed of a halfback. Fleet Glenn Davis of Army, and Bob Kelly, the 19-year-old halfback who reels off touchdowns for the Irish, also have drawn rave notices.

Blanchard Rated Highly

Banchard, 205-pound Plebe, is given much of the credit for making possible Coach Earl Blaik's high scoring combination. His presence in the lineup makes it imperative that the Cadet's opponents draw up their line in close formation. If they don't, Blanchard is liable to blast his way off tackle. If they do, then the way is clear for Davis and such fleet mates as Doug Kenna and Max Minor to circle the ends.

Kelly, a Chicago high school product, has been running goalward ever since he joined the Notre Dame varsity the latter part of the 1943 season. Even in the whipping handed the Irish by Navy last week, the 183-pounder stood out. He's an excellent punter and a very tricky runner.

Any coach would be happy to have just these three men with a player named Joe thrown in to complete his backfield but there are enough other great backs to give the All-America selectors plenty of headaches before the team is announced a month hence.

Tars' Jenkins Stands Out

Navy has its chief candidate in Bob Jenkins, a fullback from Alabama who delights in ripping lines apart. Like at Army, there's a host of good backs at Annapolis but the 195-Jenkins is a standout.

Ohio State has Les Horvath sparking a wealth of freshman backs. Horvath, 23-year-old dental student, playing his fourth year with the unbeaten Bucks after a year in the Army, is a dynamic runner with ability to pitch passes in full stride. Illinois is touting Claude (Buddy) Young, National 100-meter champion, for All-America honors and not without reason. The chunky Negro is as fast as they come in a football suit and Notre Dame, especially, remembers his 73-yard run.

Bob Fenimore, a sophomore at Oklahoma A. and M., likewise is a speed demon. But he's also one of the old-type triple threat men, kicking and passing with equal ability. He's given much of the credit for knocking off previously unbeaten Tulsa two weeks ago.

Looking over only a few of the remainders: Bob Weiss and Bob Nussbaumer, who performed at Michigan until their recent military transfer; Tom McWilliams, freshman on Mississippi State's all-victorious eleven; Gordon Gray of Southern California, rated the best collegiate back on the West Coast before his recent transfer; Bob Hoernschemeyer of Indiana, and Boris (Babe) Dimancheff, Purdue's outstanding offensive and defensive ball carrier.

Angott Meets McDaniels in Garden Tonight

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—Two guys from Washington—Sammy Angott of Washington, Pa., and Jimmy McDaniels of Washington, D. C.—meet tomorrow night in a Madison Square Garden 10-rounder, with Angott favored slightly.

For Angott, also known as "The Clutch," it will be the ninth main event in the Garden. His previous eight encounters averaged gates of about $45,000.

McDaniels, who has done most of his campaigning in the West and who is booked out of Los Angeles, has won six straight on his present Eastern jaunt, knocking out Washington's highly-touted Aaron Perry and outpointing Boston's Ralph Zannelli in Garden frays.

Angott will weigh about 142 and McDaniels 145 for the contest. McDaniels has never held a title, while Angott retired in 1942 as the undefeated lightweight king, and came back in 1943 to win the N. B. A. lightweight laurels which he lost later to Mexico's Juan Zurita.

Four six-round bouts back up the main event. They are: Dorsey Lay, Philadelphia lightweight, vs. Jimmy Hatcher, Lakeside, S. C.; Roberto Ramirez, Mexican heavyweight, vs. Walter Thomas, Bronx; Charlie Smith, Newark lightweight, vs. Buddy Garcia, Galveston, Texas, and Freddie Russo, Rahway, N. J., vs. Charley Noel, Brooklyn featherweight.

Hank Luisetti, Past Meningitis Crisis, To Be Idle Year

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—Hank Luisetti, one of the greatest basketball players of all time and captain of the crack Stanford quint in the 1937-1938 season, narrowly escaped death in a Norfolk Navy hospital, it now can be told.

More than two weeks ago Lieut. Luisetti, attached to a carrier, worked out with the Naval Air Station basketball team. He felt badly, was sluggish.

He later became so ill that he was rushed to a hospital where it was learned that he was suffering from spinal meningitis. For several days Luisetti hovered between life and death, but is now thought to be safely past the crisis on the road to recovery.

But he won't be playing basketball—at least this year.

Poor Record—but Good

Beaumont, Tex., Nov. 9 (AP).—Members of Beaumont's four high school footbal teams sorrowfully admit that the probably have the losingest record of any city in the land. Report card for one week: Four games, four losses, and all by shutouts. Opponents' points, 125.

Boys Club Standings

	W.	L.	T.
90-Pound Class
Eastern Branch	4	0	0
Alexandria B. C.	2	2	0
Georgetown Branch	2	2	0
St. Peter's	0	4	0
105-Pound Class
Alexandria B. C.	3	0	0
St. Joseph's	2	1	0
Georgetown Branch	2	1	0
Eastern Branch	1	2	1
Merrick B. C.	0	3	1
120-Pound Class
Eastern Branch	3	0	0
Georgetown Branch	2	1	0
Merrick B. C.	1	2	0
Friendship	0	3	0
140-Pound Class
Eastern Branch	3	0	0
Georgetown Branch	2	1	0
Alexandria B. C.	0	3	0

SCHEDULE FOR SATURDAY

90-Pound Class—Alexandria B. C. vs. Eastern Branch. Georgetown Branch vs. St. Peter's.

105-Pound Class—Georgetown Branch vs. Alexandria B. C. Merrick B. C. vs. St. Joseph's.

120-Pound Class—Friendship vs. Eastern Branch.

140-Pound Class—Eastern Branch vs. Alexandria B. C.

Bolstered Lions Meet Falcons at Uline's Tonight

Four new players wil lmake their debut with Washington's revised and greatly strengthened Lions tonight, when they entertain Coach Redvers Mackenzie's undefeated Philadelphia Falcons in an Eastern Hockey League match at Uline Arena at 8:30 o'clock.

Frank Wendorf, a promising center made available by the Hershey Bears, reported here yesterday, and will be used at the pivot on the lightning-fast line that otherwise finds Al Percival and Sammy Kelly on the wigs

A now forward line that reported last night finds Nick Phillips at center and brothers ePte and Frank Long on the wings. These youngsters were rated among Canada's best last season as the paced St. Catherine's Juniors to the finals in the Ottawa Hockey Association's championship playoffs.

In order to make room for these newcomers, Coach Charley Good found it necessary to release: Gordon McLeod and Bill Chriss, defensemen, and Gordon Mirtle, Clare Walsh and Hal Montgomery, forwards. Jack McIntyre is being retained as a spare forward and Harold Johnson, Jimmy Wilson and Al Smith a defenseman.

Coach Good last night predicted that Washington's new scoring line of Phillips and the Long brothers plus the availability of Wemdorf at center on the unit otherwise comprised of Percival and Sammy Kelly will work wonders with the Lions. Meanwhile, George Kelly, versatile forward injured in the Rovers' match of last Wednesday night, was responding nicely to treatment for his lame shoulder, and will return to action within 10 days, if not sooner.

Walker, Murray To Fight Monday

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP).—Buddy Walker, rangy Columbus, Ohio, Negro heavyweight who has won four of his last five bouts in Baltimore, will meet Lee Q. Murray of New York, Maryland duration champion, Monday night in a 10-round feature event at the Coliseum.

Murray, also a Negro, is expected to be the favorite at fight time. He is undefeated in seven battles in Baltimore, and won over Curtis (Hitchetman) Sheppard in his last appearance here in June.

Walker has been successful against all opposition but Shappard, losing twice to the Hatchetman.

Kurowski's Brother Candidate for Tailback

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 9 (AP).—George (Whitey) Kurowski, the St. Louis Cards' third baseman, isn't the only member of that Reading (Pa.) family to seek fame in the field of sports. His brother, Anthony, is a candidate for the tailback spot on the Princeton football team that opens its season against Muhlenberg Saturday.

The 21-year-old younger Kurowski is a V-12 trainee, who reported at Princeton from Penn State November 1.

$11.50 Shot Tops Hoosier By a Length

By Walter Haight

A Staff Correspondent

Pimlico, Md., Nov. 9.—Edgehill Stable's Theseus had all his stretch punch today and was a going-away winner of the Sarazen Purse, featuring the Thursday program here. The son of Questionnaire and Lily Maid was capably handled by Jockey M. N. Gonzales and provided an $11.50 pay-off for his backers in a crowd of 9000. R. B. Carroll's Hoosier was second, a length off the winner and two lengths in front of T. Leatherbury's Sandy Trail in the test of a mile and 70 yards involving a dozen fair distance horses.

Summer-like weather and a fast track made conditions ideal. Theseus was clocked in 1:44 4-5.

Scramble for Pace

A variety of horses contested for the pace as Gonzales steadied Theseus along the rail in rather close quarters during the early stages. Hoosier and Sandy Trail finally began a battle that seemed destined to decide the purse. Sandy Trail weakened in the stretch, howevr. Thn Teseus after going to the outside entering the stretch, closed determinedly and disposed of Hoosier in the final 70 yards.

Cheap sprinters, a dozen of them competed in the opening race. Miss Winnie Thomasson's James Acre had too many running guns for his opposition and got home five lengths ahead of Mrs. Guy Needy's Rampage. Two lengths farther back came Mrs. Chester A. Lyon's Gallant Mowlee. The winner, ridden by Jockey Doug Dodson, paid $8.10 and was clocked in 1:13 1-5.

Voageur went to the front at the break but James Acre slipped up on the inside to take command and it was all over but the payoff. Rampage and Gallant Mowlee closed some ground to get into the money circle. J. W. Heinicke's Lit Up, well backed, refused to break, a habit with her.

Burra Peg Triumphs

Col. C. V. Whitney's Burra Peg won the second race by three lengths. Miss Helen Hickman's Temeru was second and a half length in advance of Bomar Stable's Colonel John. Burra Peg was in trouble early but Jockey Arnold Kirkland finally got him clear and he wore down the pacemaking Temeru to win easily. Burra Peg paid $4.80, completed a $19.20 daily double and was clocked in 1:47 for 1 mile and 70 yards.

G. W. Stephen's Fay Cottage won the steeplechase by four lengths in the field of six going 2¼ miles. Mrs. Stanley Greene, sr.'s Bagpipe was second and two lengths in front of Himmel. Jockey W. Owen, who rode Bagpipe, claimed a foul against the winner piloted by Jockey W. Leonard, claiming interference. Fay Cottage paid $4.70 and stepped the long route in 4:34 1-5.

Mack Calls Off Minneapolis Deal

Philadelphia, Nov. 9 (AP).—Connie Mack, Philadelphia Athletics manager, says "We have called off" plans to purchase the Minneapolis baseball club of the American Association.

"For the time being we won't try to get outright ownership of any Double-A club," Mr. Mack said. "However, we will cooperate with Toronto under a working agreement."

Mr. Mack did not disclose reasons for abandoning his previously announced plans to give the A's control of an AA club.

However, in Minneapolis, Owner Mike Kelley of the Millers was quoted as saying the proposed sale was "definitely off."

Kelley was reported to have said that Mr. Mack "told me that while the purchas eprice was satisfactory, the terms I insisted upon were not agreeable to his directors."

Two Bainbridge Backs Injured

Bainbridge, Md., Nov. 9 (AP).—The undefeated Bainbridge Naval Training Center football team will meet the Cherry Point (N. C.) Marines here Saturday without the services of two first string backs, Team Physician Lieut. (Jg.) Milton Markowitz announced today.

Lieutenant Markowitz said Fullback Harvey (Stud) Johnson had suffered a severe injury to the muscles of his right shoulder and would not play again before the Camp Perry game November 25. Quarterback Upan Cheatham is suffering from a badly swollen ankle and will be rested Saturday, the officer added.

The Commodores defeated North Carolina Preflight, 49-20, last week.

Spiders Face Cavaliers With Crippled Wall

Richmond, Va., Nov. (AP).—University of Richmond Spiders, trying to go forward in their plans for Saturday's 3 p. m. appointment with the University of Virginia at City Stadium, suffered a major setback when Alan B. Rose, regular 170-pound leftguard, broke his leg in yesterday's workout, rendering him definitley out for the rest of the season.

Henry Gay, 152-pound Lynchburger, who was in Hampden-Sydney's lineup when the Spiders scored an 18-0 victory over the Tigers here on October 14, will take over Rose's assignment in the line. Gay was transferred to Richmond by the Navy the first part of the month.

Right Tackle Ed Jarrett, 168, had a tooth knocked out in last Saturday's battle with the Portsmouth Fleet, but the Richmond player will start against the Virginia Cavaliers.

Richmond's starting backfield probably will show Gil Rodgers, 163, at quarter; Charlie Suttenfield, 155, at tailback; James Allen, 172, at wingback, and John Stoneburner, 165, at blocking back. Bob Walker, 195, did a fine job of punting against the Fleet and he's slated for plenty of backfield work against the Cavaliers.

Corcoran Signs Again With Professional Golfers

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—Ed Dudley, president of the Professional Golfers Association, announced today that Fred Corcoran, tournament manager of the organization, had been signed to a new three-year contract.

Corcoran is completing his eighth year on the job, his tenure being longer than any of his predecessors. Last winter he made a tour of the North African and Italian military zones with Lefty Gomez, former New York Yankee pitcher, and Jack Sharkey, former heavyweight boxing champion. He will be with the golfers on their winter tour this year.

VMI Gridders Underdogs in Clemson Game

Richmond, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—Virginia Military Institute's Fighting Squadron, a winner in only one of six starts this year, ventures into the deep south Saturday to tangle with the Clemson Tigers, and on the basis of what has happened in the past it looks as though the only thing the Cadets will get out of it will be a good tip.

Howevre, Coach Pooley Hubert's charges have demonstrated before that the small matter of a reverse does not prevent them from playing a bang-up game of football. Alert, well-coached but a little light, the Squadron has fought hard and well in its half dozen games.

While the Cadets are busy in South Carolina, William and Mary's Indians will be playing a Southern Conference engagement at Chapel Hill against North Carolina.

Coach Rube McCray has been running his squad against North Carolina plays and the Indians are reported in fine condition, except for Chester Mackiewicz, halfback, and Stanley Madgziak, fullback, who still are on the injured list.

Coach Gene McEver, of the Tar Heels, who lost 14 men through Navy transfers but who gathered 20 others, has been reorganizing his squad to assemble the right combination.

The top clash in the conference is the meeting at Durham between Duke's Blue Devils and the Wake Forest Deacons. Duke developed into a threat by defeating Georgia Tech last week.

South Carolina, playing a non-conference engagement takes on Presbyterian at Columbia, S. C., while another conference member, Maryland, travels to Yptilanti, Mich., to tackle Michigan State.

Friends Jayvees Win, 14-0

The Friends School jayvee football team romped over Georgetown Prep's youngsters, 14 to 0, yesterday at Friends. Craig Stone scored both touchdowns on thrilling 30- and 45-yard runs, respectively.

Chicub Prospect Inducted in Army

Chicago, Nov. 9 (AP).—The Chicago Cubs disclosed today that Pitcher Claude Horton, 29-year-old right-hander purchased from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League, was inducted at Fort Worth, Tex., last week and now is stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. Horton won nine games and lost four for Los Angeles after winning one and dropping three for Minneapolis in the American Association earlier in the season.

No. 4 Football Club Leads Police League

Police Boys Club football leagues have completed the first half of their schedules with Clubs No. 4 and 11 hogging the honors.

In only one league is the competition for first place close—the 125-pound class, where Clubs No. 5 and 11 are tied for the lead.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pts.
90-POUND LEAGUE
No. 4	4	0	8
No. 11	2	1	5
No. 12	1	2	3
No. 5	0	3	0
105-POUND LEAGUE
No. 11	6	0	12
No. 12	3	1	7
No. 10	2	2	5
No. 5	2	3	4
No. 4	1	4	3
Mt. Rainier	1	4	3
125-POUND LEAGUE
No. 5	5	0	10
No. 11	5	0	10
No. 4	4	0	8
Mt. Rainier	2	0	5
No. 10	1	3	2
No. 12	0	5	1
150-POUND LEAGUE
No. 4	5	0	10
No. 5	3	0	6
No. 12	2	3	4
Merrick	1	3	2
No. 10	0	5	0

Grid Tigers Lose Pair, Sign Two Halfbacks

Brooklyn, Nov. 9 (AP).—The Brooklyn Tigers of the National Football League have landed two players and lost a pair but still reside in the basement.

Halfback Cecil Johnson left for his Paris (Tex.) to report for Army induction and Halfback Frank Sachse, who has been injured most of the season, hobbled off to his Texas home. The newcomers are Bob Trocolor, who was fired by the Tigers a week ago, and Steve Marko, halfback formerly with Philadelphia and the Chi-Pitts.

Phil Fox to Referee Capitols-Jewels Game

Phil Fox, an acrobatic referee and protege of the popular Chuck Solodore, will referee tomorrow night's exhibition basketball game involving Washington's American Basketball League Capitols and New York's Jewels at Uline Arena, 8:30 o'clock.

Owners Mike Conte and Tom Andre of the Caps last night predicted that Fox's colorful gestures and acrobatics will make a big hits with Washington fans.

Jacobsen's Florists are to oppose a strong opponent to be name in a 7:15 o'clock preliminary, and tickets for both games are on sale at Uline Arena.

Sharkey to Referee Norfolk Mat Show

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—Jack Sharkey, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, will come to Norfolk next Wednesday night in the role of referee for a wrestling match, Promoter Bill Lewis said today.

Sharkey recently returned to this country after an overseas trip to entertain our fighting men.

Reason for Secret Practices

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP).—Lieut. Col. Karl (Red) Blaik, coach of the Army football team, has popped up with a brand-new reason for calling secret practice. "The cadet corps is too 'high' on the Notre Dame game," Blaik claims. "I don't want the contagion to spread among my youngsters."

THE ARISTOCRAT OF BONDS
KENTUCKY TAVERN
BOTTLED IN BOND
THERE'S ONLY ONE BETTER BUY IN BONDS
WAR BONDS
GLENMORE DISTILLERIES COMPANY, Incorporated, LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY

Atkinson Boots Three Home At Belmont

Belmont Park, Nov. 9 (AP).—Although Bobby Permane broke a losing streak that lasted through 29 straight mounts, he failed to gain any ground on the Nation's leading jockey of 1944, Ted Atkinson, here today. For the redoubtable Ted from Toronto, who registered five times yesterday, rounded out a triple when he booted Henry Lustig's Dance Team to a four-lengths score in the featured Leyte (Class D) purse, next to last on the War Relief program.

Dance Team, which also gave Trainer Preston Burch a consecutive double, was a $3.50 choice in the field of 3-year-old colts and geldings. He ran the 6 furlongs of the main course in 1:12 3-5 and delighted a majority of 15,364 fans. A. L. Aste's Plucky Boy was second, a half length better than Stephen Messana's Faiseur.

Dance Team was Atkinson's 259th winner of the year. Permane, who won two straight races earlier in the afternoon, trailed Atkinson by exactly 40 winners as they went into today's final contest, in which each had a mount.

Dance Team was the fourth victorious choice in six events decided. Atkinson rode the first of the afternoon—Record Crop, $3.60—and also registered on Katylea, $22.30, in the fifth race.

Faiseur ran with Dance Team for a half mile before finding the favorite too much for him. Plucky Boy became the runner-up as they started the stretch run, but Dance Team had plenty in reserve and eased home with Atkinson keeping him under wraps.

Hagg May Enter Swedish Army Soon

Stockholm, Sweden, Nov. 9 (AP).—Gunder Hagg, Swedish miler, said today he had been ordered to report for military service December 20 but was seeking a postponement until January because he expected a heavy Christmas rush at the Malmoe Haberdashery where he is employed.

Discussing a proposed trip to the United States, Hagg declared that "I am reluctant to go for the winter season because I don't believe that Swedes can make a good showing indoors without a long period of training. If I receive an invitation for the summer campaign I'll think about it, providing I am in shape."

(Swedish officials in New York said that Hagg had completed the year and a half of compulsory military training required of all citizens in that country and that his present call probably was for a one-month refresher session.)

Fredricksburg Host to Cadets

Charlotte Hall's gridders, losers to Devitt Prep last week, will travel to Fredericksburg tomorrow to renew their annual rivalry with James Monroe High.

The Cadets will be without the services of their ace fullback, Bill Bryan. Bryan was injured in the Devitt fracas. With Bryan out of the line-up, Bucky Ennis is expected to do most of the ball carrying.

Texas A.&M. Has Gained 2115 Yards—Still Trails

Dallas, Nov. 9 (AP).—Texas A. and M., which footballs with Southern Methodist here Saturday, has gained 2115 yards running and passing this season. That's almost 600 yards more than any other team in the conference.

And is this yard-gulping Texas Aggie team leading the League?

It is not.

Saturday's game determining which club will stay in the cellar.

Miles, Scalise Fight

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 9 (AP).—Gauche Miles, Mississippi and Bill Scalise, a couple of lightheavyweights, will headline the Virginia Athletic Club boxing show tonight at the New Norfolk Auditorium. Scalise is a former Golden Gloves champion.

Landon 12-Year-Olds Win

The Landon Prep 12-year-old football team easily defeated Georgetown Prep, 26 to 0, yesterday at Georgetown. Michael Ross scored three times for Landon.

Pimlico

Entries

1—¾; $1500; 3-year-olds; claiming.
Brahmaflire ..... (Sir Skipper) 113
†Led Astray ..... (True Barbara) 110
Worries ..... (Mr. Tony) 108
Bow Wave ..... (Royal Dipping) 113
Carabagan ..... (Skippy's Lad) 108
Royal Favor ..... (Pennant Way) 113
Gray Call ..... (Opera) 110
†Patch Party ..... (Sibbaldiana) 110
†Purple and Campbell entry.
2—¾; $1500; maiden 2-year-olds; clmg.
Gay Army ..... (Moomidate) 115
Gold Desert ..... (Panamint) 117
Miss Ballader ..... (Teheran) 112
Navy Relief ..... (Battle Cruiser) 115
Proud Pappy ..... (Dr. Pudd) 120
Ballyras ..... (Pinkney) 120
Dining Sister ..... (Charm) 120
Little Mustard ..... (Briarsesque) 113
3—3 m.; $3500; maiden 2-year-olds up.
Crackaway ..... (Childwick) 126
†Spurious Count ..... (Beamin) 146
†Town Crier ..... (General Day) 146
On the Cuff ..... (Ugly Duckling) 132
Alidale ..... (Pinkney) 120
Golden Fizz ..... (Rocksprings' Rip) 146
†Phipps and Mills entry.
†Gemmill and Gittings entry.
4—¾; $2000; claiming; allowances.
Bourtai ..... (Margus) 116
Chicle Clown ..... (Miel) 112
Squantown ..... (Morocco Lad) 114
Big Party ..... (Star Red) 113
Sun Admiral 108
5—¾; $2500; 2-year-olds; allowance.
Mast and Tidy ..... (Chromolith) 110
Ehrun ..... (Miss Lavender) 116
Sea Raft ..... (Foley) 108
Challenging ..... (Gold Boy) 108
Happy Buckle 113
6—¾; $3000; 3-yr.-olds up; Lady Maryland.
Topping ..... (Happy Lark) 106
Army Belle ..... (Blake R.) 106
†New Moon ..... (Quarter Moon) 117
†Safety Match ..... (Spare Man) 110
†H. L. Straus entry.
†Mrs. R. J. Reid, Jr., entry.
7—1 1/16; $1500; 4-year-olds; claiming.
Lump Sum ..... (Grand Fortune) 107
Sting Lightly ..... (Omotone) 112
Good Hits ..... (Chicle) 112
River Rank ..... (Bobby's First) 109
Garand ..... (Yellow Gal) 109
Eloise K. ..... (Bay Mine) 112
Hasil's Fay ..... (Roman Child) 104
Pandemic ..... (On the Wave) 107

Results

1—¾; $2500; 2-year-olds up.
Record Crop, 109 (Atkinson) 3.60 3.10 2.80
Busy Madeline, 10 (Garlock) 5.70 4.80
Royal Welsh, 111 (Kelser) 5.00
Sun Banner, Late Days, Wopsy, Bollinger, To Town James also ran. Time, 1:26⅘.
2—¾; $2500; 3-year-olds up.
Ute, 101 (Lehman) 16.20 6.60 4.40
Listing, 111 (Permane) 4.40 3.20
Spirit, 113 (Martinez) 4.00
Patricia F., Patient, Third Rail, Mr. Monk also ran. Time, 1:26⅘.

DAILY DOUBLE PAID $36.90.

3—¾; $2500; maiden 2-year-olds.
Red Maker, 108 (Permane) 5.50 3.10 2.70
War Wine, 121 (Kelser) 4.30 3.10
Perfect Charge, 111 (Thacker) 4.00
Topsy Rose, Time Stitch, Walger, Indian Giver also ran. Time, 1:19⅘.
4—¾; $2500; 4-year-olds up.
Old Grad, 121 (Permane) 3.60 2.90 2.50
Dusty, 114 (Kelser) 7.70 5.20
Roy Angler, 117 (Bass) 3.40
Miss Puritan, Hopeville, Reformatory also ran. Time, 1:13⅘.
5—¾; $2000; 2-year-olds.
Kalybra, 114 (Atkinson) 22.30 5.80 3.80
Rosemarn Gal, 114 (Wright) 3.80 3.40
Come East, 114 (Permane) 3.20
Wemile, Chancegirl, Durability, Navarone, Admiral's Lady, Vomit also ran. Time, 1:10.
6—¾; $3000; 2-year-olds.
Dance Team, 120 (Atkinson) 3.50 2.40 2.20
Pinky Boy, 120 (Wright) 3.10 2.30
Palermo, 120 (Kelser) 2.40
Tinged, Brick Top, Markobob also ran. Time, 1:12⅘.
7—1 1/16; $2500; 3-year-olds up.
Scotch Trap, (Garlock) 5.50 3.40 2.90
Sunalong, 120 (Mende) 3.80 3.00
Elctess, 108 (Atkinson) 7.50
Adlyte, Pilate Miss, Devil's Crag, Ahad, Rabbi Broad, Deimos, Croaptias, Darby Dirot also ran. Time, 1:36⅘.

Post Consensus

AT PIMLICO (Fast)
1—Sky Skipper, Bow Wave, True Barbara.
2—MISS BALLADIER, Teheran, Battle Cruiser.
3—Sunsho, On the Cuff, General Day.
4—Big Party, Briar Red, Winsome Lad.
5—Challenging, Miss Lavender, Happy Buckle.
6—Quarter Moon, New Moon, Spare Man.
7—Riverbank, Quitran, Bobby's First, Hasil's Fay.
8—Wishlife Gal, Silver Tower, Dorothy Pump.

AT BELMONT (Fast)
1—MARJORAY, True Note, Money Thorn.
2—Sweep, To Dare, Scotch Irish.
3—Exposed Card, Classic Beauty, Peppy Miss.
4—Voleway, Tazzille, Humoresque.
5—Belair Stud entry, Birdie, Alcrays.
6—Genial Sam S., Barry Boots, Jacobs.
7—Old Union, Keith Rosan, Flange.
—Louisville Times (AP).

Pimlico

Entries

1—¾; $1500; 3-year-olds; claiming.
Brahmaflire ..... (Sir Skipper) 113
†Led Astray ..... (True Barbara) 110
Worries ..... (Mr. Tony) 108
Bow Wave ..... (Royal Dipping) 113
Carabagan ..... (Skippy's Lad) 108
Royal Favor ..... (Pennant Way) 113
Gray Call ..... (Opera) 110
†Patch Party ..... (Sibbaldiana) 110
†Purple and Campbell entry.
2—¾; $1500; maiden 2-year-olds; clmg.
Gay Army ..... (Moomidate) 115
Gold Desert ..... (Panamint) 117
Miss Ballader ..... (Teheran) 112
Navy Relief ..... (Battle Cruiser) 115
Proud Pappy ..... (Dr. Pudd) 120
Ballyras ..... (Pinkney) 120
Dining Sister ..... (Charm) 120
Little Mustard ..... (Briarsesque) 113
3—3 m.; $3500; maiden 2-year-olds up.
Crackaway ..... (Childwick) 126
†Spurious Count ..... (Beamin) 146
†Town Crier ..... (General Day) 146
On the Cuff ..... (Ugly Duckling) 132
Alidale ..... (Pinkney) 120
Golden Fizz ..... (Rocksprings' Rip) 146
†Phipps and Mills entry.
†Gemmill and Gittings entry.
4—¾; $2000; claiming; allowances.
Bourtai ..... (Margus) 116
Chicle Clown ..... (Miel) 112
Squantown ..... (Morocco Lad) 114
Big Party ..... (Star Red) 113
Sun Admiral 108
5—¾; $2500; 2-year-olds; allowance.
Mast and Tidy ..... (Chromolith) 110
Ehrun ..... (Miss Lavender) 116
Sea Raft ..... (Foley) 108
Challenging ..... (Gold Boy) 108
Happy Buckle 113
6—¾; $3000; 3-yr.-olds up; Lady Maryland.
Topping ..... (Happy Lark) 106
Army Belle ..... (Blake R.) 106
†New Moon ..... (Quarter Moon) 117
†Safety Match ..... (Spare Man) 110
†H. L. Straus entry.
†Mrs. R. J. Reid, Jr., entry.
7—1 1/16; $1500; 4-year-olds; claiming.
Lump Sum ..... (Grand Fortune) 107
Sting Lightly ..... (Omotone) 112
Good Hits ..... (Chicle) 112
River Rank ..... (Bobby's First) 109
Garand ..... (Yellow Gal) 109
Eloise K. ..... (Bay Mine) 112
Hasil's Fay ..... (Roman Child) 104
Pandemic ..... (On the Wave) 107

Results

1—¾; $2500; 2-year-olds up.
Record Crop, 109 (Atkinson) 3.60 3.10 2.80
Busy Madeline, 10 (Garlock) 5.70 4.80
Royal Welsh, 111 (Kelser) 5.00
Sun Banner, Late Days, Wopsy, Bollinger, To Town James also ran. Time, 1:26⅘.
2—¾; $2500; 3-year-olds up.
Ute, 101 (Lehman) 16.20 6.60 4.40
Listing, 111 (Permane) 4.40 3.20
Spirit, 113 (Martinez) 4.00
Patricia F., Patient, Third Rail, Mr. Monk also ran. Time, 1:26⅘.

DAILY DOUBLE PAID $36.90.

3—¾; $2500; maiden 2-year-olds.
Red Maker, 108 (Permane) 5.50 3.10 2.70
War Wine, 121 (Kelser) 4.30 3.10
Perfect Charge, 111 (Thacker) 4.00
Topsy Rose, Time Stitch, Walger, Indian Giver also ran. Time, 1:19⅘.
4—¾; $2500; 4-year-olds up.
Old Grad, 121 (Permane) 3.60 2.90 2.50
Dusty, 114 (Kelser) 7.70 5.20
Roy Angler, 117 (Bass) 3.40
Miss Puritan, Hopeville, Reformatory also ran. Time, 1:13⅘.
5—¾; $2000; 2-year-olds.
Kalybra, 114 (Atkinson) 22.30 5.80 3.80
Rosemarn Gal, 114 (Wright) 3.80 3.40
Come East, 114 (Permane) 3.20
Wemile, Chancegirl, Durability, Navarone, Admiral's Lady, Vomit also ran. Time, 1:10.
6—¾; $3000; 2-year-olds.
Dance Team, 120 (Atkinson) 3.50 2.40 2.20
Pinky Boy, 120 (Wright) 3.10 2.30
Palermo, 120 (Kelser) 2.40
Tinged, Brick Top, Markobob also ran. Time, 1:12⅘.
7—1 1/16; $2500; 3-year-olds up.
Scotch Trap, (Garlock) 5.50 3.40 2.90
Sunalong, 120 (Mende) 3.80 3.00
Elctess, 108 (Atkinson) 7.50
Adlyte, Pilate Miss, Devil's Crag, Ahad, Rabbi Broad, Deimos, Croaptias, Darby Dirot also ran. Time, 1:36⅘.

Gridders in a Rut

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—Brooklyn College and City College of New York football teams are in a rut. First time they met, the Brooklyns won 37—0, and the score was identical at a regent return meeting. In six starts Coach Leon Miller's Beavers haven't picked up a single point while yielding 235.

Belmont

Entries

By the Associated Press

1—½; $2500; maiden 2-year-olds; claiming
Touch of Time ..... 118 Marjoray 112
Money Thorn ..... 113 Scotch Dot 108
Molly Rose ..... 108 Zimo's Cloud 113
True Note ..... 118 Happy Forecast 115
Great Lady 113
2—¾; $3500; 3-year-olds; claiming.
Sunnip ..... 118 Hercules 117
Fairy Boy ..... 114 To Dare 114
Scotch Irish ..... 115 Puffed Up 114
3—¾; $3000; 2-year-olds up; allowances.
Blue Flight ..... 116 Miss Eunice 111
Classic Beauty ..... 109 Green Apples 109
Exposed Card ..... 111 Smart Lookin' 111
Peppy Miss
4—Mile; $3000; 2-year-olds; allowances.
Tazzillo ..... 117 Stage Bond 111
Wings ..... 114 Johnnie Magina 111
Humoresque ..... 111 Voloway 117
Mist 111
5—Mile; $3500; 3-year-olds; handicap.
Offenbach ..... 112 Alcrays 122
†Dors Dear ..... 117 Birdie 119
Sea Leiter ..... 104 †Thread O' Gold 117
Miss Winks ..... 108 Just John 110
Valdina Craft ..... 116 Captain's Aide 109
Bellwether 109
†Belair Stud entry.
6—Mile; $3000; 2-year-olds; allowances.
Epicure ..... 114 Snow Boots 114
Dagger ..... 111 Jacobs 111
Genial Sam S. ..... 114 Copper Boy 114
Fire High
7—1 1/16; $3000; 3-year-olds up; claiming.
Old Union ..... 120 Minefinder 111
Chance Mate ..... 106 Sir Alfred 114
Menefinder ..... 111 Rath Ronan 117
Free Dutch ..... 101 Flange 117
Gambling Andy 111

BELMONT SELECTIONS (FAST)
1—MARJORAY, True Note, Money Thorn.
2—Sweep, To Dare, Scotch Irish.
3—Exposed Card, Classic Beauty, Peppy Miss.
4—Voleway, Tazzille, Humoresque.
5—Belair Stud entry, Birdie, Alcrays.
6—Genial Sam S., Barry Boots, Jacobs.
7—Old Union, Rath Ronan, Flange.
—Louisville Times (AP).

Results

1—½; $2500; 2-year-olds up.
Red Maker, 108 (Permane) 5.50 3.10 2.70
War Wine, 121 (Kelser) 4.30 3.10
Perfect Charge, 111 (Thacker) 4.00
Topsy Rose, Time, Stitch, Walger, Indian Giver also ran. Time, 1:19⅘.

†Lost rider.
SENATE, $5.70, $4.00, $3.30; MAE CASE, $5.00, $4.00; SUNSHO, $13.60.

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $2500. For 2-year-olds; claiming. Start good. Off 2:43½. Winner, S. W. Labrot, jr. Value, $1650. Time, 1:14⅘.

Horses	Jockeys	Wt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
HAMMER-LOCK	(Snellings)	119	6	5	41	52	1hd	11	1	$11.00
GALLANTLY	(C.Kirk)	122	10	4	5½	4½	2½	2hd	2	1.60
MISTER CHAT	(Breen)	116	12	12	9hd	8½	6½	3½	3	12.50
SHELTIE	(Anneasly)	116	9	11	11½	10½	7½	4hd	4	5.25
RUN BUD RUN	(Kirkland)	121	4	3	3½	1hd	3½	5½	5	4.85
PANACEA	(Adair)	114	4	2	2hd	3½	4½	6½	6	92.75
PATTY KNOT	(Wall)	111	2	1	1hd	2½	5hd	7½	7	21.70
BALKING	(Jemas)	111	7	7	6hd	6½	8½	8½	8	66.95
HONEY BUN	(R.Meade)	112	11	9	10½	11½	10½	9½	9	19.95
CACHO	(Gilbert)	116	3	8	8½	7½	9½	10½	10	64.30
PIQUANT	(Dodson)	111	8	6	7½	9½	11½	11½	11	13.60
TURBINE	(J.Riesel)	118	5	10	12	12	12	12	12	27.00

HAMMER-LOCK, $24.00, $8.10, $6.50; GALLANTLY, $4.10, $3.30; MISTER CHAT, $6.80.

SIXTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards. Purse, $2500. For 3-year-olds up; allowances. Start good. Off 3:12. Winner, Ridehill Stable. Value, $1650. Time, 1:44⅘.

Horses	Jockeys	Wt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
THERSUS	(Gonzales)	116	6	7	42½	69½	5½	3½	1	$4.75
HOOSIER	(Annesley)	103	5	3	31	1½	2½	1hd	2½	4.45
SANDY TRAIL	(Kirkland)	104	4	2	2hd	2½	1hd	2½	3hd	80.90
SUNDIAL	(Bowers)	110½	7	11	9½	8½	4½	4½	4hd	9.35
MORNING CHOICE	(Jemas)	112	1	1	11	11	10½	7½	5½	4.00
RED CIN	(Snellings)	108	3	10	10½	10½	7½	6½	6½	32.05
BLENHEIM	(Meade)	109½	9	8	7½	6hd	3½	5½	7½	59.40
MARCH ORDER	(J.Gilbert)	113	8	6	6½	7½	6½	8½	8½	73.90
STING LEA	(Scawthorn)	112	11	5	8½	9½	9½	9½	9½	2.15
POST WAR STYLE	(F.A.Smith)	102	2	9	11½	2hd	8½	10½	10½	147.45
DANCING ARCHIE	(Wright)	111½	10	3	5hd	4½	11	11	11	13.60

THERSUS, $11.50, $5.80, $5.50; HOOSIER, $7.40, $6.00; SANDY TRAIL, $25.00.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1500. For 4-year-olds up; claiming. Start good. Off 3:41. Winner, D. F. Bowman. Value, $1100. Time, 1:46⅘.

Horses	Jockeys	Wt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
ONE LINK	(J.Riesel)	115	6	10	63	53	42	21	1hd	$3.20
STARGOO	(Meade)	110	7	2	1½	1½	1½	1½	2	1.90
ON THE LINE	(Annesley)	112	10	12	10½	7½	6½	4½	3½	27.45
ROUGH AMOS	(Gonzales)	115	5	8	9½	8hd	8½	8½	4½	32.50
HAZEL W.	(Scawthorn)	114	9	5	5½	6½	7½	7½	5½	7.25
BILL	(Bowers)	112	1	1	2½	3½	3½	3½	6½	41.55
GOLDEN BABE	(Leggett)	112	2	4	3½	4½	5½	6½	7½	145.25
TICKL OTIS	(Tammaro)	115½	8	7	4½	2½	2hd	8½	8½	4.45
WAYUMA	(Schmidt)	112	11	9	8½	10½	9½	9½	9½	61.00
WALTER LOVE	(McCoy)	112	3	3	12	12	11½	10½	10½	172.40
MEADOW FUN	(Ruderi)	109	12	11	11½	10½	10½	11½	11½	615.25
FLYING JOHN	(Sikjele)	110	4	6	7hd	11½	12	12	12	26.25

ONE LINK, $8.60, $3.70, $3.60; STARGOO, $3.40, $3.20; ON THE LINE, $6.90.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $2500. For 3-year-olds up; claiming. Start good. Off 4:12. Winner, Capt. Henry H. Hecht. Value, $1650. Time, 1:54⅘.

Horses	Jockeys	Wt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
WISSEHOT	(Dodson)	113	3	9	9½	91	5½	6½	1½	$3.50
PATRON SAINT	(Snellings)	114	3	10	10½	11	9hd	4½	2½	5.20
SATIN NOSE	(Kirkland)	107	6	8	8hd	6hd	6½	3hd	3½	4.20
VALDINA BRAVE	(McCoy)	107	10	5	3½	4½	41	5hd	4½	15.95
JONS	(Annesley)	102	7	6	5½	3½	3½	2½	5hd	25.00
BELHOSS	(Scawthorn)	114	9	11	11½	10½	10hd	9½	6½	6.85
TAKE COURAGE	(Bowers)	110½	2	2	1½	2hd	3½	7½	7hd	41.50
GRANLAG	(Jemas)	111	11	1	2½	1hd	1½	11	8½	237.70
GREY FLAKES	(Meade)	110	1	4	7½	7hd	2hd	8½	9½	30.25
STAR GOVERNOR	(Sikjele)	108	4	7	4hd	5½	8½	10½	10½	18.30
WAR ART	(Schmidt)	116	5	3	5hd	9½	11	11	11	10.85

WISSEHOT, $7.10, $3.90, $3.80; PATRON SAINT, $5.70, $3.50; SATIN NOSE, $3.30.

Sportsman Park

Entries

By the Associated Press

1—½; $1200; 3-year-olds up; claiming.
Two Grand ..... 111 Kiss-Kiss 107
Rescued ..... 111 Charlie's Lady 114
Grand Lady ..... 111 Free Miss 111
Damascus Dame ..... 111 Misty Dark 107
Uncle Peter ..... 117 Infinity Flirt 107
Miss Omega ..... 112 Sally J. 106
Ever Flying ..... 114 Fop's Rival 117
Daisy A. ..... 111 Fairlet 111
2—½; $1200; 3-year-olds up; claiming.
Lord Charles ..... 108 Foot to Foot 111
Chance Tea ..... 112 Red Cold 112
Leola W. ..... 107 Big Brand's Son 123
Ambrandied ..... 108 Tobin Laddie 113
Lucky Ann ..... 110 Rockwood Jean 108
Yarnith 107
3—½; $1200; maiden 2-year-olds; all'ces.
Triple K. ..... 109 Century 107
Our Mayor ..... 107 Bleecher 112
F. S. Munns ..... 112 Kalegan 109
Rose Exhibit ..... 110 Chanfon 109
Sonny Boy 112
4—½; $1200; 3-year-olds up; claiming.
Sylvan Dell ..... 117 New Glory 110
Helen Agnes ..... 106 Crowned Up 117
Warrior Lad ..... 103 Solid 117
String Band ..... 112 Fly Me 117
Giant Princess ..... 112 Count Chat 117
Sylvaline ..... 117 Tonka Lad 117
5—½; $1300; 3-year-olds up; allowances.
O. K. Mullen ..... 117 Shenuit 114
Boom On ..... 117 Midnighter 114
†Cam Fin ..... 109 Some Ad 117
†Sally Fin ..... 108 Silver Toy 105
Milk Flip 117
†P. K. and J. Meisinger entry.
6—½; $1500; 3-year-olds; allowances.
Oldor ..... 116 Fair Sand 113
Little Minx ..... 108 Ever Message 116
Valdina Bright ..... 116 Ice Light 120
My Fop ..... 120 Stoogie 113
7—1 1/16; $1800; 3-year-olds up; allowances.
Lady Flares ..... 107 Roman Red 106
Ballygarrett ..... 105 Don Devlin 106
Devil's Frolic ..... 107 Balko 111
8—1 1/16; $1400; 3-year-olds up; claiming.
Grenlin ..... 110 Redrock Canyon 114
Florian Ace ..... 110 Gainer 114
Ibex ..... 110 Rodimie 111
9 (exh)—1 1/16; $1200; 3-year-olds up; clmg.
Town Victory ..... 114 Tonka Lane Ryan 109
Shin Plaster ..... 114 Guanis 114
Pool Laureate ..... 112 Waringa 117
Yielding Nymph ..... 114 Tonka F. K. 117
Meanwhile ..... 112 Sleepy Ruth 114

SPORTSMANS PARK SELECTIONS (FAST)
1—Miss Omega, Ever Flying, Kiss-Kiss.
2—Tom's Ladd, Big Brand's Son, Chance Tea.
3—F. S. Munns, Chanfon, Kalegan.
4—Sonny Boy, Chanfon, Warrior Lad.
5—Some Ad, O. K. Mullen, Milk Flip.
6—R. L. Light, Valdina Bright, My Fop.
7—ROMAN RED, Devil's Frolic, Lady Flares.
8—Gainer, Don Devlin, Balko.
9—Maurice E., Valdina Nymph, Auld Lang Syne.
—Louisville Times (AP).

Results

1—½; $1200; 3-year-olds up.
Miss Omega, 114 (Gillespie) 11.80 6.20 3.80
Sister Higher, 110 (J.Jessop) 8.80 4.60
Bob On, 113 (D.Jessop) 2.60
Charlie Arlet, Ramble On, Frichings Dear, Dominique, Sally J., Liberty Flit, Blondie Jayne also ran. Time, 1:02⅘.
2—½; $1200; 2-year-olds up.
Frolic Miss, 117 (Warren) 5.80 12.60 7.60
Shining Chance, 115 (Gillespie) 9.80 5.20
Infinity Flirt, 107 (J.Jessop) 3.00
Supreme Magic, Purp, Town Victory, Miss Bobolink, Border Pat, Corrour also ran. Time, 1:22⅘.

DAILY DOUBLE PAID $264.

3—½; $1200; 2-year-olds.
Visits Harvest, 113 (Keb'son) 13.20 6.60 4.00
Dixie's First, 115 (Hawksworth) 16.80 7.20
Fleuma, 107 (D.Jessop) 5.80
Whyso, Valdale, Visits Upset, Country Boy, Sea Wolf also ran. Time, 1:04⅘.
4—½; $1200; 2-year-olds.
Tough Tenpot, 120 (Duhan) 4.40 2.40 2.00
Mis Marie, 117 (Fucci) 6.40 4.80
Lasitar, 110 (Hawksworth) 3.20
Glorious Star, Valdina Tumble, Dear Brutus, Derby Diplomat, Bingo Mama, Joe M. Jr. also ran. Time, 1:03⅘.
5—½; $1200; 2-year-olds up.
David R. Jr., 110 (Fucci) 18.20 8.60 3.60
J. Lee Greenock, 110 (Haynes) 8.60 7.40
Tyra Lad, 110 (J.Jessop) 5.00
Footaway, Cowlan, Bullbush, Red Idol, Inlaid Girl also ran. Time, 1:36.
6—½; $1200; 3-year-olds up.
Super, 113 (D.Jessop) 8.40 5.20 3.60
Rockville, 110 (Duhan) 12.40 6.80
Blonde Morris, 112 (J.Jessop) 3.40
Pretty Thing, Midland, Fop's Rival, Play Ante, Hill Folly, May Koon, Lostshot also ran. Time, 1:03.
7—1 1/16; $1300; 3-year-olds up.
Happy Priest, 108 (Gillespie) 3.40 2.60 2.40
Field Loch, 103 (J.Jessop) 3.20 2.40
Loch Noe, 106 (Fucci) 3.40
Meminisse, Sea Tack, Quaker also ran. Time, 1:52⅘.
8—1 1/16; $1200; 3-year-olds up.
Tex Hygro, 109 (Haynes) 4.60 2.60 2.20
Peter T., 106 (D.Jessop) 2.80 2.20
Burning Chips, 112 (Duhan) 2.20
Fair Player, Belle Day also ran. Time, 1:52⅘.
9—1 1/16; $1200; 3-year-olds up; claiming.
Sweet Helen, 112 (Haynes) 11.60 6.60 4.20
Carlarian, 115 (D.Jessop) 4.40 2.80
Hickory Jim, 104 (J.Jessop) 6.60
Brilliant Jr., Max Forst, Razor Sharp, Miss Tullahoma, Escort, Reptimation, Praetorian also ran. Time, 1:54⅘.

Post Consensus

AT PIMLICO (Fast)
1—Sky Skipper, Bow Wave, True Barbara.
2—MISS BALLADIER, Teheran, Battle Cruiser.
3—Sunsho, On the Cuff, General Day.
4—Big Party, Briar Red, Winsome Lad.
5—Challenging, Miss Lavender, Happy Buckle.
6—Quarter Moon, New Moon, Spare Man.
7—Riverbank, Quitran, Bobby's First, Hasil's Fay.
8—Wishlife Gal, Silver Tower, Dorothy Pump.

AT BELMONT (Fast)
1—MARJORAY, Scotch Dot, Touch of Time.
2—Sweep, To Dare, Scotch Irish.
3—PUFFED UP, Scotch Irish, Fairy Boy.
4—Peppy Miss, Miss Flight, Smart Lookin'.
5—Tazzille, Hist, Voleway.
6—Barry Boots, Birdie, Alcrays.
7—Genial Sam S., Jacobs, Epicure.
8—Sir Alfred, Minefinder, Chance Mate.

AT SPORTSMAN'S PARK
1—Ever Flying, Uncle Peter, Miss Omega.
2—Red Cold, Tom's Ladd, Lord Charles.
3—CENTURY, Peppy Boy, F. S. Munns.
4—Count Chat, Sonny Boy, Solid.
5—Milk Flip, Sweetie, Silver Toy.
6—Oldor, Little Minx, Valdina Bright.
7—Roman Red, Devil's Frolic, Don Devlin.
8—Gainer, Balko, Redrock, Canyon.
9—Warsingh, Valdina Nymph, Meanwhile.

Bill Bennings

AT PIMLICO
1—Bow Wave, Worries, Royal Display.
2—Miss Ballader, Panamint, Battle Cruiser.
3—General Day, Sunsho, Alidale.
4—Chicle Clown, Winsome Lad, Big Party.
5—Host and Tidy, Miss Lavender, Challenging.
6—STRAUS ENTRY, Happy Lark, Army Belle.
7—Unitran, Hazel's Fay, Bobby's First.
8—Lady Devine, Wishlife Gal, Dorothy Pump.

2 Amendments Get Majorities In Arlington

Substantial majorities in favor of both Virginia constitutional amendments were recorded in Arlington's precincts in Tuesday's election, according to the official vote tally issued yesterday.

The vote for an amendment to Section 737, providing for establishment of a board with power to commute capital punishment and to grant reprieves and pardons, was tallied at 8690 for and 2960 against. By precincts, the tally was Glen Carlyn, 186 for, 64 against; Cherrydale, 692 for, 249 against; Ballston, 1380 for, 531 against; Clarendon No. 1, 551 for, 176 against; Clarendon No. 2, 770 for, 275 against; Arlington, 1678 for, 508 against; Lyon Park, 830 for, 249 against; Rosslyn, 818 for, 254 against; East Falls Church, 435 for, 150 against; Carne, 694 for, 282 against; Virginia Highlands, 656 for, 222 against.

A vote of 8609 was recorded for the amendment calling for the freezing of the Literary Fund, while 3139 votes were cast against the amendment.

By precincts, the vote was counted as follows: Glen Carlyn, 176 for, 73 against; Cherrydale, 713 for, 213 against; Ballaton, 1480 for, 535 against; Clarendon No. 1, 540 for, 160 against; Clarendon No. 2, 798 for, 257 against; Arlington, 1590 for, 606 against; Lyon Park, 819 for, 268 against; Rosslyn, 621 for, 203 against; East Falls Church, 383 for, 281 against; Carne, 847 for, 290 against; Virginia Highlands, 641 for, 253 against.

War Fund Drive Totals

Ninety per cent of Arlington's goal in the Community War Fund drive has been reached, according to an announcement yesterday by R. Wade Pearson, chairman of the drive.

Total collections reported so far, according to Pearson, are $31,500. With the drive extended until next Thursday he stated "there would be no question as to the county going over the top."

Percentages of the various divisions in the drive, as reported yesterday, follow: residential, Edmund D. Campbell, chairman, 89.01 per cent; apartments, Stephen M. Smith, chairman, 130 per cent; county employes, Elmer F. Newell, chairman, 85 per cent; Arlington schools, 200 per cent; advanced gifts, Caldwell C. Kendrick, chairman, 75 per cent, and special business, John F. Phalen, chairman, 50 per cent.

Library Group In Herndon Elects Officers

Arlington-Fairfax Bureau, The

The Gentler Sex

By Malvina Lindsay

Interviews in Utopia

I

"AS A FERVENT Democrat, Mrs. Doe, you must feel triumphant about the election?"

"No, 'triumphant' isn't the word. I am reserving that for V-E Day."

"How do you feel?"

"Gratified, of course. But very humble, and a little shaky in the knees."

"What about?"

"The big job ahead—the great responsibility my party faces."

"But I gathered from campaign speeches that President Roosevelt and the Democrats in Congress would know exactly what to do."

"That's just the trouble. How can any party live up to its campaign oratory? The Republicans have it on us there—they don't have to."

"But haven't the Democrats done perfectly wonderful things in the past?"

"Don't let's rehash the past. We had enough of that in the campaign."

"Don't you point with pride to your party's record?"

"Certainly—on many things. But I face the fact it has made many mistakes. We must avoid repeating them."

"But at least, Mrs. Doe, don't you feel the country's been saved from the Republican Fascists, monopolists, isolationists, stuffed shirts—"

"Just a minute! The campaign's over. I'm sick of name calling."

"But surely you feel that if the Republicans had gone in, it would have meant losing the war, having postwar unemployment, bread lines, apple selling——"

"Are you trying to insult m intelligence?"

"Excuse me, I suppose you will take a nice long rest now?"

"Certainly not. My real job's just beginning."

"What will you do first?"

"Use all my influence to see that my party acts magnanimously in bringing all Americans together to make a people's rather than a party peace."

"You don't sound as if you were a real Democrat, Mrs. Doe."

"On the contrary I am a real Democrat—with a little as well as a big 'd'—because I respect human beings ahead of political labels."

II

"AS AN ARDENT Republican, Mrs. Roe, you must have suffered a great shock over the election."

"Scarcely a 'shock.' I was surprised, of course and disappointed.

"But hadn't you assumed that Governor Dewey would get the vote of all sane, sound, right thinking, patriotic—".

"Just a minute, Do I look like one of those?"

"No, but—well don't you think this country's in now for a lot of trouble—dictatorship, Communism, Negro domination, British exploitation, foreign isms—"

"Do I look like a moron?"

"No—but really don't you think the Democrats are going to make a big mess of things?"

"I hope not."

"WHAT! Aren't you a Republican?"

"Most assuredly. But I put my country ahead of my party."

"But aren't you in a way relieved that the Democrats have to take the blame in all the tough tasks ahead?"

"Every American is responsible for what the Government does."

"But at least it won't be your party's responsibility."

"Why won't it? My party has plenty of responsibility now. It must furnish healthful, intelligent and constructive opposition—and cooperation."

"Don't you feel that the Democrats did a lot of mudslinging in the campaign?"

"Both parties were disgracefully guilty of that charge."

"Will you take a rest now from politics."

"Certainly not. My job's just beginning."

"What will you do first?"

"Use all my influence to get members of my party to forget their bitterness, and to manifest good sportsmanship and good citizenship in the trying times ahead."

"You don't sound like a real Republican, Mrs. Roe."

"That's exactly what I sound like—one who recognizes the right of the people to speak and—with good grace—accepts their mandate."

Brooks

MRS. GEORGE CORNELL
. . . makes home in Arlington

Cornell-Iley Marriage Told

After a wedding trip to Cincinnati, Sergt. George Cornell has returned to duty, and his bride, the former Miss Ruth L. Iley, is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Iley, in Arlington.

The wedding took place earlier this month in Douglas Memorial Methodist Church, the Rev. William F. Wright officiating. The bride wore white satin made with tucked bodice and long train. Her fingertip veil was held with a coronet of seed pearls. Her shower bouquet was of white roses and bouvardia.

Mrs. Lawrence Ball, matron of honor, wore a gown of rose taffeta with full skirt, carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Miss Catherine Iley, maid of honor, wore aqua taffeta, also carried chrysanthemums.

Richard Cornell, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Howard Cornell, another brother of the bridegroom, and his uncle, Robert Peacock, were ushers.

Sunday Concerts Group to Convene

Newly organized Sunday concerts committee of the National Symphony Orchestra, Mrs. Kenneth Todd Young, jr., chairman, will hold its first meeting this evening at 8 p. m. at the Arts Club, 2017 I st nw.

Mrs. Young is the former Patricia Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Maurice Morris. She was chairman of the "15-30" concerts series during its successful first season in 1943.

Similar in intent to the Wednesday evening concerts committee, the Sunday committee will encourage the sale of season tickets to the 10 Sunday afternoon concerts, the first of which will take place November 26.

Town Talk

By Eva Hinton

IF YOU were riding along in a jeep during the Allied invasion of France and a German soldier stepped out from behind a hedge and pointed a gun at you, who would become the prisoner of whom? Maj. Andre de Limur answered this $64 question with neatness and dispatch by making the German his prisoner.

Major de Limur described the incident in a letter home and added modestly that his own personal prisoner turned out to be an Austrian boy of 17 who was "even more scared than I was."

However that may be, the experts say that a frightened person is more dangerous and harder to disarm than a cool one.

Major de Limur and his witty and charming American wife were popular members of Washington's diplomatic group before the war, when the major, then Count de Limur, was attached to the French Embassy.

When the Vichy government took over the French Embassy Count de Limur resigned and became an American citizen. He was commissioned a captain in the U. S. Army, was stationed for more than a year in North Africa, and went on to take part in the liberation of France.

Friends lunching informally with Mrs. de Limur the other day found her busy with plans for the American War Relief for France bazaar which will take place at the United Nations War Relief Center at 1720 I st., November 16, 17 and 18. Mrs. de Limur will be in charge of the toy table and, being a grandmother herself, she has put her heart into collecting her wares.

Having gone to Baltimore and New York to buy from wholesale houses, Mrs. de Limur will be able to sell the toys inexpensively. The toys are, naturally, wartime products, strongly made of wood or cardboard, and devised with ingenuity.

There are circuses with animals and tents, and complete farmyards, also tanks, trailers, toys for babies and toys for Christmas stockings. It should be a godsend to hurried Christmas shoppers.

Mrs. Peter Jay was one of Mrs. de Limur's luncheon guests and was full of gracious praise for the work done by AWVS with its baby escort service. Mrs. Jay told how these kind women pace Union Station endlessly looking for tired and discouraged service wives with children and escorting them to the United Nations Service Center where they can be cared for and refreshed.

Mrs. Jay herself works at the center on the 7 a. m. shift and finds it a most satisfying and useful job.

Mrs. Leland Harrison, wife of the American Minister to Switzerland, was receiving compliments across the luncheon table on her two beautiful daughters. Also lunching with Mrs. de Limur were chic Mrs. Raymond Cox and Mrs. Benjamin Moore, a welcome guest from New York.

Hostess to a few friends at dinner the other evening, Mrs. Hallett Johnson was a picture in a gay plaid silk dinner dress with a bow of apple-green velvet in her hair. Mrs. Johnson's hair is that lovely powder gray so much sought by ladies of the court of Louis XV.

After dinner the elder daughter of the house, blonde Mrs. Edmund Stromholt, was persuaded to show the embroidered christening robe in which her 4-month-old son was to be photographed next day. The robe has been used for several generations in Mrs. Johnson's family. The photograph will be sent to the baby's father who is overseas in the Norwegian army and has not yet seen his son.

Iva Wagner, Mr. Harrigan Repeat Vows

Now on a wedding trip are Harold J. Harrigan, USNR, and his bride, the former Miss Iva V. Wagner.

Their marriage took place November 6 at the home of the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Russell B. Thomas, Blandensburg, Md., with the Rev. Charles M. Flippin officiating. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wagner, Staunton, Va., and Mr. Harrigan is son of Mrs. Walter J. Harrigan and the late Mr. Harrigan, Washington.

For the simple ceremony, the bride chose a frock of powder blue with matching accessories and corsage of white roses. Mrs. William F. Taefor, sister of the bridegroom, was motron of honor wearing a brown ensemble and corsage of talisman roses. Russell B. Thomas served as best man.

Mr. Harrigan is on furlough after 26 months in the South Pacific with the U. S. Navy Seebees and will report for duty in Davisville, R. I.

Flower Pastels To Be Shown

Mrs. Alberta Averill Eno, known socially as Mrs. William Phelps Eno, is exhibiting pastels of flowers at Studio Guild Gallery, New York, from November 13 to 25.

At the close of this exhibition, the pastels will be combined with a collection of oil paintings of birds for which Mrs. Eno has won an enviable reputation. This group will be sent on tour of southern museums including those at Richmond, Ky., Charlotte, N. C., Oxford and Laurel, Miss., and several in Louisiana, Mrs. Eno's native State.

Before her marriage she lectured at the Delgado Museum in New Orleans, and was well known as a restorer of old master paintings. She and Mr. Eno now live in their summer home at Judah's Rock, Sangatuck, Conn., the year around.

Mme. Procope En Route Home

Sailing from Philadelphia late yesterday, Mme. Procope, wife of the former Finnish Minister to this country; her son Jan, daughter Marietta, and baby son, who was born here after his father had left this country, departed for Sweden.

The former Minister will meet his wife in Sweden. Mme. Procope left the legation in Washington early in the summer and with her children was the guest of Mrs. Victor Morawetz in Albany, N. Y. Several members of the Swedish legation staff and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hurja were among those to say farewell to the popular diplomat's wife, who came here as a bride more than four years ago.

Towneses to Live In Palm Beach

Nuptial mass at St. Ann's Church yesterday followed the marriage rites which united Mrs. Robert Guyer, widow of Colonel Guyer, Engineer Corps, and Clayton C. Townes, Col. Lawrence M. Guyer, brother of the late Colonel Guer, gave the bride in marriage. The Rev. Russell Phelan officiated.

Mrs. John Lewis was matron of honor and Robert Trencamp was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Townes will make their home in Palm Beach, Fla., this winter, returning to Washington in the spring.

MAKE THE MOST of the weekend offerings in the market. There are plenty of different foods to give variety to menus. A fresh beef tongue simmered to tenderness, served with baked Idaho potatoes, colorful carrots and boiled onions, will appease the heartiest appetite. You can save yourself work by having an edible centerpiece such as fruit pictured here

Martha Ellyn's Platter Chatter

Veal and Tongue Head Meat List; Grocers Offer Variety of Vegetables

When you go to market to do your weekend shopping today, be sure to include the food items you will need through Monday. Some groceries are observing Armistice Day tomorrow, while others will close on Monday in commemoration of the armistice of World War I. Watch for the announcements of your own market so you won't be caught short on food supplies.

The supplies in markets are adequate to make appealing, nutritious meals. No cook needs to sigh and wish for a new kind of vegetable. Broccoli, cabbage, Idaho potatoes, kale, parsnips, rutabagas, squash, onions, celery, sweet potatoes, spinach, turnips, cauliflower are among the vegetables now in the stores. That is a line-up imposing enough to suit the most fastidious vegetarian.

Choice Limited, But Good

The butcher may not be able to give you a choice steak, pork chops or ham, but most of the markets are offering veal, liver and fresh and smoked tongues. Anyone of these meats can be made into delicious dishes.

Fruits are good both in quality and quantity. Pink meated grapefruit up from Texas; plump, juicy grapes; crisp, juicy Stayman apples, fancy pears and oranges, can all be made into mouth-watering dishes.

Tongue makes an excellent Saturday dinner dish, for any leftover can be served sliced cold for Sunday supper or used in sandwiches for lunch boxes. Simmer either a fresh or smoked tongue to tenderness, but be sure to not overcook so that the tongue will be tough.

Veal shoulder, with the bone in, can be made into a dish that will be extra special enough for guests and the home folks will enjoy it too. Veal chops too are now in most meat markets. And don't forget the scrapple for Sunday breakfast. You'll never miss the pork sausage if you fry the scrapple to golden brown.

Let's plan some weekend meals with the foods being offered in the markets this weekend.

Saturday Supper

Boiled Tongue
Horseradish Sauce
Baked Potatoes Carrots
Cole Slaw
Enriched Bread Jam
Baked Pears Cookies
Coffee

Scrapple is a grand cold-weather food. It's very nutritious because of its cornmeal basis, with bits of meat and high seasoning to add flavor. This might be your Sunday breakfast fare:

Sunday Breakfast

Pink Grapefruit
Scrapple Fried Apples
Scrambled Eggs Toasted Muffins
Jam Coffee

A shoulder veal roast with mashed or pan-browned potatoes makes an excellent pivotal combination around which to plan a Sunday dinner. Veal needs a little more authority since it is a bland-flavored meat. Don't be afraid to use a clove or garlic when cooking it. And remember that veal needs long, slow cooking. Besides, low temperatures conserve both flavor and quantity of roast.

Here is a suggested menu using a veal roast and other food items that were found available when checked in the markets:

Sunday Dinner

Fresh Fruit Cocktail
Veal Roast Brown Potatoes
Broccoli Squash
Cheese Stuffed Celery
Hot Rolls Honey
Apple Pie Coffee

Insurance Women to Meet

Insurance Women's Club of Washington will hold its monthly luncheon meeting at the Lee Sheraton Hotel, Fifteenth and L sts. nw., at 12:30 p. m., Monday. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

WOMEN IN YOUR '40's
Do You Hate HOT FLASHES?
If you suffer from hot flashes, feel weak, nervous, a bit blue at times—all due to the functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Made especially for women—it helps nature! Follow label directions.
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mary Haworth's Mail

At 20, Man Was Reunited With Mother Who Deserted Him at Age of 3; Now 26, He Wants to Wed, but She Says She Needs Him

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a man 26 years old who has come up through life on his own. My father and mother were separated when I was only 3 years old. Their arguments are a vivid memory that I have never forgotten. Being brought up under a father's guidance has made me a better man in one sense; but it has taken something from me—mother love. Every child needs the love of a mother.

My Dad died when I was 14, and since then I've called myself a man, because I've made my own way. When I was 20, I found my mother again; and from that time until I joined the Navy I lived with her. However, I don't feel the love for her that a man should have for his mother, because I think of how she deserted me when I needed her most.

Here is my problem: I have met the girl I want to marry. I have asked her to be my wife and we are only waiting until I have saved some money. My mother is not dependent upon me financially, as she has an income from the estate of her second husband; but she maintains that she needs me. If she needed my support, I would gladly stay single and take care of her; but I had a great deal of unhappiness as a child and I believe I am due some happiness now. What do you think?

C. S.

Mother Displays Cast-Iron Nerve

DEAR C. S.: I think your mother has a cast iron nerve to try to play on your sympathies with talk of needing your companionship now, after having casually abandoned you along with your father before your life was well begun. I think she is a brazenly selfish woman, who has no more interest in your welfare today than she had when she deserted you 20 years ago.

She is not even animated by sticky sentimental regret for her past neglect and the pain it caused you, in trying to make capital of the blood tie at this late date. What she wants is a man around the house in the role of lackey; and she is perfectly willing to spoil the second chapter of your life as she spoiled the first, if necessary to chain you in that capacity.

Man's Decency Credit to Father

IT IS rather impressive that you confess a sense of duty to your unnatural mother; and that you could find it in your heart to stay single and take care of her, if she really needed you. That is the decent reaction of a responsibly minded man; and reflects great credit on the rearing your father gave you. Also, this excessively chivalrous attitude further suggests the extreme degree of your lifelong hunger to love and be loved by a truly devoted mother.

But in my opinion, you might as well pour water in a sieve and expect to drink from it when thirsty, as spend your young manhood in sacrificial devotion to her, in the hope of priming a return in kind. So my advice is,—marry the girl of your choice as soon as convenient, and make your home with her the center of your life. Your mother has already claimed far more of your adult sufferance than she deserves; and she is behaving infamously in trying to block or postpone your marriage plans.

M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column; not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Post.

Margaret Gage Is Hostess

Miss Margaret Delano Gage entertained yesterday at the second in a series of luncheons which she plans for the winter season.

Her guests, in the Presidential dining room at the Mayflower Hotel included Lady Sansom, wife of Sir George Sansom, British Minister; Lady Campbell, wife of Sir George Campbell, British Minister; Senora de Munilla, wife of the Cuban Military Attache; Mrs. James E. Watson, Mrs. Nathaniel B. Dial and Mrs. Frederick Mitchell Gould, who returned to town yesterday from Newport, R. I., where she has been since early summer.

Also there were Mrs. N. Robert Guggenheim, Mrs. Lee Ward Johnston, Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin and Mrs. Frank J. Morrow.

Ration Points

NOVEMBER 10, 1944.

BEEFSTEAKS, roasts, canned milk, butter, margarine, cheese. Red stamps A-8, B-8, C-8, D-8, E-8, F-8, G-8, H-8, J-8, K-8, L-8, M-8, N-8, P-8, Q-8, R-8, S-8, T-8, U-8, V-8, W-8, tokens may be used as change. Stamps A-5 through F-5 valid.

PROCESSED FOODS — Canned vegetables, fruits, soups, juices, etc. Blue stamps A-8, B-8, C-8, D-8, E-8, F-8, G-8, H-8, J-8, K-8, L-8, M-8, N-8, P-8, Q-8, R-8, S-8, T-8, U-8, V-8, W-8, X-8, Y-8, Z-8, A-5, B-5, C-5, D-5, E-5, F-5, G-5, H-5, J-5, K-5, L-5, M-5, N-5, P-5, Q-5 and R-5 valid indefinitely. Stamps A-5 through W-5 valid.

FATS—Used fats are worth 4 cents and 2 red ration points per pound.

SUGAR—Stamps 30, 31, 32, 33, valid indefinitely. Stamp 40 worth 5 pounds of sugar for home canning valid through February 1945.

FUEL OIL—Period 4 and 5 coupons good through August 31, 1945. New period 1 coupon good for 10 gallons.

GASOLINE—A-11 expired November 8 (in old A book). A-13 becomes good for 4 gallons each on November 9 (in new A book).

SHOES—Airplane stamps 1, 2 and 3 valid indefinitely.

Vera Bloom's First Tome To Hit Book Marts Today

By Marie McNair

"With affection toward most and malice toward none of those I have mentioned in this book" Vera Bloom has so dedicated "There's No Place Like Washington" which makes its appearance in the bookstalls today.

A member of the "inner circle" through five administrations, the gifted daughter of Representative Sol Bloom, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, in her first attempt at authorship, recalls faces and places in sprightly style and diplomats and dignitaries, potentates and kings, bow in and out through the 300 pages.

Vera Bloom has woven in and around her stories a wealth of first-hand information on what's done in the Capital, how, by whom and why. She has been a part of official Washington society, not just an onlooker; she has known major and minor figures, wielders of power from Presidents to social secretaries, visiting firemen, Congressmen, columnists and fortune hunters. And she has found them, after all, just people.

Like Great Waterfall

"Washington has always reminded me of a great waterfall," Miss Bloom writes. "The glitter, the froth, the sparkle, are what we see on the surface, yet all the time it is generating the power, the energy, that runs the greatest government in the world.

"And all of us in official life have, you might say, a private waterfall of our own. We are in Washington for a serious purpose—to represent the folks back home as well as we possibly can and to see that both their big interests and their personal problems are helped and safeguarded."

Back in 1923, when Vera Bloom heard that her father had been asked to run for Congress she was horrified. Her idea of a Congressman had been found in a cartoon she had seen as a child—a big, bulging, leering politician, a cigar in mouth, derby on one side, reeking vulgarity and ill-gotten gain!

So this was what they wanted her father to become. "Daddy" put off accepting the nomination because of his daughter's views.

It took the new Italian Ambassador, Prince Caetani, to make Vera change her mind. In a brief flash, she saw that Washington was not merely a city of Boss Tweeds, but also one of a grand series of ballrooms filled with glamorous diplomats. And forthwith she urged her father to accept

Mussolini Obscure Then

"There Was a Man Named Mussolini" is the title of a chapter dealing with the author's meeting with the Fascist leader. It was on her first trip to Italy during her holiday from school that Miss Bloom conceived the idea of writing a series of articles and interviews for syndication back home. She had promised to "do" d'Annunzio, who had just seized the port of Fiume.

Mussolini was then an obscure figure, editor of the Popolo d' Italia. But from the moment she first set eyes on him Vera Bloom was aware of his powerful personality. So much so that she cabled her New York paper that here was a man who would someday dominate all Italy.

Helpful hints to newcomers unfamiliar with the god Protocol are contained in this entertaining book; a beautiful tribute to the author's mother, the late Mrs. Bloom, who was loved by everyone who knew her; Washington at war and hundreds of incidents and anecdotes about Washington's "charming people," make fascinating reading for those interested in the most fascinating city in the world today.

NEW! SAPPHIRE COLORS FOR YOUR FINGERNAILS AND LIPS

Chen Yu's 3 precious sapphires*

Totally new beauty for your nails . . . totally new loveliness for your hands . . . CHEN YU makes it possible with new colors of a totally new character . . . each has the clear, fiery brilliance of precious sapphires! And each is sincerely scornful of chipping! "Pink Sapphire", the newest new in vivid pink . . . "Oriental Sapphire", an entirely new clear red . . . "Black Sapphire", the most exotic deep, deep shade ever created. The lacquer 75¢ . . . the lipstick $1.00 (tax extra).

CHEN YU LONG LASTING NAIL LACQUER AND LIPSTICK

Today's Radio Programs

Friday, November 10 — Washington — Eastern War Time

	WMAL 630	WRC 980	WOL 1260	WINX 1340	WWDC 1450	WTOP 1500
	News, 6, 7, 8:30, Prelude, 6:05-7, Town Clock, 7:10-7:45 and 8-9, David Wills, 7:45.	News, 6, 7, 7:55, 8:30, Bill Henson, 6:05-9, World Roundup, 8.	Down Patrol to 6:30, News, 6:30, 7:30, 8, 8:30, Art Brown, 6:35-9:30.	Jerry Strong, 6-9, News, 6, 7, 7:30, 8, and 8:30, Wake up With WINX, 7:05, 8:05.	News, 6, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, Serenade, 6:05, Mike Hunnicutt, 7-10, Crowley 6:45.	Cora Squeezing Time, 5:45-6:45, 7:30, 8, Godfrey, 7-7:30, News, 6:45,7:30, 8
9 :00	Breakfast Club	Mirth and Madness	Art Brown at the Organ	News; Music in Air	Cash; Mike Hunnicutt	Godfrey News
:15	" "	" "	Listen Ladies!	Music in the Air	Mike Hunnicut	Home Service Daily
:30	" "	News; Baughart	" "	Traffic Court	News; Mike Hunnicutt	CBS Air Theater
:45	" "	Broadway Melodies	" "	" "	Mike Hunnicutt	" "
10 :00	My True Story	Lora Lawton	Easy Rhythm	News; Music Hall	Cash; Bing Crosby	Valiant Lady
:15	" "	World News	Mr. Moneybags	Music Hall	Crosby; Miss. Persons	Light of the World
:30	Cliff Edwards	Finders Keepers	Shady Valley Folks	" "	News; Alice Lane	This Changing World
:45	Listening Post	" "	" "	" "	Alice Lane	Bachelors Children
11 :00	Breakfast at Sardi's	Road of Life	News; Billy Repaid	News; Symphony	Cash; Alice Lane	Honeymoon Hill
:15	" "	Rosemary	Morning Serenade	Dellies' "Appalachia"	Alice Lane	Second Husband
:30	Ruth Crane	Star Playhouse	Paul C. Bragg	" "	News; Morning	Bright Horizon
:45	" "	David Harum	What's Your Idea?	" "	Matinee	Aunt Jenny
12 :00	News; Evans	News; Novelette	News; Boake Carter	WINX News	Password Please	Kate Smith Speaks
:15	Little Show	Look to This Day	Music Mixers	First Call Home	" "	Big Sister
:30	Glamour Manor	Mallnee Today	392nd Army Band	Navy Band	News; Dixieland	Helen Trent
:45	" "	" "	" "	" "	Jamboree	Our Gal Sunday
1 :00	Backstage Talking	Nancy Osgood	Walter Compton; Music	WINX News	All Sports Parade	Life Can Be Beautiful
:15	Jack Berch	" "	Terry's House Party	Musical Bouquets	Tony Wakeman	Ma Perkins
:30	Music Box	The School's Tomorrow	Luncheon With Lopez	" "	All Sports Parade	News; Bernadine Flynn
:45	" "	Morgan Beatty	Russ Hodges	" "	Tony Wakeman	The Goldbergs
2 :00	Music Box	Golding Light	News, C. Foster	News; Club Caravan	All Sports Parade	Joyce Jordan
:15	" "	Today's Children	Russ Hodges	Club Caravan	Tony Wakeman	Two on a Clue
:30	Ladies Be Seated	Women in While	" "	" "	All Sports Parade	Young Dr. Malone
:45	" "	Betty Crocker	" "	" "	Tony Wakeman	Perry Mason
3 :00	Morton Downey	Woman of America	Compton; Hodges	WINX News	All Sports Parade	Mary Martin
:15	Star Time	Ma Perkins	Russ Hodges	T for Two	Tony Wakeman	Tena & Tim
:30	Accent on Music	Pepper Young Family	" "	" "	All Sports Parade	Janice Gray
:45	" "	Right to Happiness	" "	Education For All	Tony Wakeman	News for Women
4 :00	News; Evans	Backstage Wife	News; Walt. Compton	News;Concert Moderne	All Sports Parade	Service Time
:15	Accent on Music	Stella Dallas	Russ Hodges	Concert Moderne	Tony Wakeman	" "
:30	"Time" Views News	Lorenzo Jones	Zeb Carver's Orch.	Jam for Supper	All Sports Parade	Texas Rangers
:45	Hop Harrigan	Young Widow Brown	Handy Man	" "	Tony Wakeman	" "
5 :00	Terry and Pirates	When a Girl Marries	Art Brown	News; Music Hall	Band of the Day	Sing Along Club
:15	Dick Tracy	Portia Faces Life	" "	Music Hall	Sinatra vs. Crosby	" "
:30	Jack Armstrong	Just Plain Bill	Superman	" "	News; Theater	News; Band
:45	Captain Midnight	Front Page Farrel	Tom Mix	" "	"Theater of the Air"	Stump Us
6 :00	News, Optimist	News; Leif Eld	Sports Resume	News Roundup	News; Melody Lane	Mahoney, Cedolia
:15	Earl Godwin	Musicade	Walter Compton	Dinner Music	Melody Lane	Lyn Murray Show
:30	Martin Agronsky	Dutch Bergman	Johnson Family	Holl'w'd News; 1st Call	Richard Eaton	"6:30 Show"
:45	Walter Kiernan	Lowell Thomas	Music	Meet the Band	Sports Roundup	News; J. Harsch
7 :00	Happy Island	Chesterfield Music	Fulton Lewis, Jr.	WINX News	Romantic Rendezvous	I Love a Mystery
:15	" "	World News	Today in History	Pop Concert	Holtz; Dixie Four	Marine Anniversary
:30	The Lone Ranger	Stringtime	Magic Dollars	Charles Pergler	Talking Pictures	Friday on Broadway
:45	" "	Hersen in Person	" "	Harmony Hall	Bible Question Box	" "
8 :00	Watch World Go By	Highways in Melody	Sizing Up the News	News; Music	Castles On The Air	Aldrich Family
:15	Parker Family	" "	Diamond Dramas	USO Bulletin	" "	" "
:30	Famous Jury Trials	Duffy's Tavern	Freedom of Opportunity	Trade Winds Tavern	News; 1450 Club	Adventures of the Thin Man
:45	" "	" "	" "	" "	1450 Club	" "
9 :00	Gang Busters	Waltz Time	Gabriel Heatter	News; Symphony	1450 Club	It Pays to Be Ignorant
:15	" "	" "	Screen Test	Elgar's	" "	" "
:30	Spotlight Bands	People Are Funny	Double or Nothing	Enigma Variations	News, 1450 Club	That Brewster Boy
:45	" "	" "	" "	" "	1450 Club	" "
10 :00	Earl Godwin	Ames 'n' Andy	Sammy Angott vs.	News; Music	1450 Club	Moore and Durante
:15	Ted Malone	" "	Jimmy McDaniels	Places to Go	" "	" "
:30	Rabbi Gerstenfeld	Sports Newsreel	Boxing Bout	Doctors Talk It Over	News; Great Scott	Stage Door Canteen
:45	" "	George Meany, AFL	" "	Chase Harmony	Great Scott	" "
11 :00	News; Evans	News; Music	News; Billy Repaid	News; Musical	" "	News, Daly and Howe
:15	Hour of Dreams	Richard Harness	Fulton Lewis, jr.	" "	" "	Arch McDonald's
:30	" "	We Came This Way	400 Club	Roundup	Luis Russell Orch.	Moondial
:45	" "	" "	Nat Brandwynne's Or.	Weather; Slumber Music	" "	Let's Listen

TERRY
SOLTERRY, MY UNCLE IN THE UNITED STATES SENT MONEY FOR ME TO LIVE ON WHILE I'M WAITING FOR MY PROPER PAPERS TO BE PERFECTED... AND HERE I AM...
WHAT A BREAK FOR ME, WILLOW — WHAT ARE THE PETERS ABOUT BURMA?
A BRITISH POLICEMAN CAME UP AS WE LANDED AND SAID TONIGHT HE WAS AFTER HER—SHE SAID SHE SAW A FRIEND DOWN THE FIELD— AND I HAVEN'T SEEN HER SINCE...
OH...
POOR KID...SHE'S STILL RUNNING FROM THAT OLD PERCY CHAPPER
OH-H-H... WAS TERRY REALLY GLAD TO SEE ME—OR DID HE SUSPECT TO FIND BURMA HERE?...IS THIS WHAT GOES THROUGH TO BE IN LOVE?
MEANWHILE...
DO YOU THINK WE CAN MAINTAIN OUR CHARMS AS INDIANS FOREVER? DO YOU HAVE A SOURCE OF INFORMATION ON THE ARMS OPERATION SI?
INDEED, EXCELLENCY! THE SECRETARY TO THE COLONEL THEODOR WHOM SECH PLANS ARE CLEARED IS A WOMAN SERGEANT! ...SHE NOW ENJOYS A FIRELOOSH IN A CERTAIN HOTEL IN THE CITY...
MARY WORTH
MONICA! ARE YOU BADLY HURT?—ANSWER ME, CHILD—!
HEY! WHAT GOES ON HERE, MARY?—WHATRE YOU TWO DOIN' OUT IN TH' WEATHER—?
MONICA—BECAME HYSTERICAL, BILL—SHE RAN OUT—AND FELL HERE!—I'M AFRAID SHE'S UNCONSCIOUS!
CARRY HER INTO THE HOUSE! I'LL CALL DR. WARD!
MICKEY FINN
I DON'T THINK PHIL SHOULD HAVE GONE OVER THERE YET, MRS. FINN!
THAT'S JUST WHAT I TOLD HIM, FLOSSIE—BUT I MIGHT AS WELL HAVE BEEN TALKING TO A STONE WALL!
DAN! WHO DO YOU THINK IS GOING THROUGH ALL OUR OFFICES? ALL DAY!—HE SAYS HE'S ON A TOUR OF INSPECTION!
IN CASE YOU HAVEN'T BEEN TOLD, MR. FINN—YOU DON'T BECOME SHERIFF UNTIL JAN. 1ST!
I'M WELL AWARE OF THAT, MCHOOEY!
WELL, THIS IS ONLY HOW IT IS!
MYRTLE
I SUPPOSE YOU'D THINK IT WAS FUNNY, IF I FELL OFF HERE!
I'D LAUGH MY HEAD OFF!
GEE WHITH, MYRTLE! THE THINGS I HAVE TO DO TO KEEP YOU HAPPY!
DIXIE DUGAN
GUESS THAT'S THE LAST GLIMPSE OF THE LIGHTHOUSE WE'LL HAVE FOR A LONG TIME!
YOU FOLKS SURE DID A GREAT SERVICE FOR THE COMMUNITY BY MAKING THE LIGHT-HOUSE A RECREATION CENTER!
IT MEANS A LOT TO US IN QUAHAQUAG TO HAVE A CHANCE TO GIVE THE COAST GUARD BOYS A GOOD TIME!
GOLLY! I WISH I COULD HAVE SEEN DENNY AGAIN BEFORE LEAVING (SIGH)
HEY! WHAT'S ALL TH' COMMOTION UP AHEAD?
DON WINSLOW
DON, YOU OUGHT TO HAVE CONFIDENCE IN ME!
SEEMS SILLY OF ME NOT TO WHEN YOU STOP AND THINK OF IT, EH?
FLOWERS ARE MY FETISH—LET'S GO OUT INTO THE GARDEN!
I COULD BREATHE SOME PURE, FRESH AIR!
HOW SWEET AND FRAGRANT! JUST LIKE OUR FRIENDSHIP, DON WINSLOW!
A FIEND ONE MINUTE AND THE NEXT AN ANGEL—I MUST FIND OUT ABOUT THE RED FALAH!
CHIEF WAHOO and STEVE ROPER
HERE'S THE COLD STORAGE ROOM, MR. STRONG!
AND NOT LOCKED, THANK HEAVEN!
OH!
STEVE! WE COME TO TAKE YOU OUTA HERE—B'FORE YOU KETCHUM COLD!
HYLO—YOU OLD—ST. BERNARD!—HOPE YOU'VE—GOT A—KEG OF BRANDY—AROUND YOUR NECK—!!
SHAPPER! WHERE ARE YA?—WE BEEN LOOKIN' ALL OVER FER—!??
GROWL
WINNIE WINKLE
WELL, ELECTION IS OVER AN' NOW WE GOT EXACTLY 45 DAYS TILL CHRIS'MAS!!
WHAT A PLEASANT THOUGHT!
YOU'LL SOON BE WRITING A LETTER TO SANTA CLAUS, I SUPPOSE!
SURE! I'LL ASK HIM FOR A NEW COMPACT, A PAIR O' CLIPS, SOME NEW STOCKIN'S, SOME COSTUME JOOL'RY—SAY, YOU WOULDN'T BE DROPPING HINTS FOR US, BY ANY CHANCE, WOULD YOU, DAISY??
WHY NOT?
I B'LIEVE IN DOIN' MY CHRIS'MAS HINTING EARLY!!
KING OF THE ROYAL MOUNTED
I DIDN'T MEAN TO INTERRUPT, PRUE—I—I JUST STROLLED OVER FROM THE GUEST HOUSE—IT'S GETTING COLD—
SERGEANT KING—THIS IS "PINKY"—RATHER MR. DILL, JUNIOR VICE-PRESIDENT OF MY FOUNDRY.
HMM! PINKY'S LYING!
IT'S NOT ONLY COLD, BUT SNOWING HARD, MR. DILL—YOU'RE QUITE DRY!
WHY—! ARE YOU SUGGESTING THAT I—
YES!—AH, HA! THAT YOU'VE BEEN IN THIS HOUSE AT THE OTHER END OF THIS DICTAGRAPH!
DONALD DUCK
CAMERA SHOP
DEVELOPING ENLARGING
PHOTO RE-TOUCHING EXPERTLY DONE
DAISY DUCK
THE SEA HOUND
AS DARKNESS FALLS, THE MARY JAY BEGINS TO SINK—
I'LL HOLD THE COURSE! YOU TWO UNREEF MORE SAIL! WE'VE GOT TO GET DOCTOR GILPIN OFF THE 'MARY JAY'!! THE FUTURE OF THE UNITED STATES AND ECUADOR MAY DEPEND ON HIM!
KU KAI— A FLARE! GET A LINE READY!!
JERRY, CAPTAIN SILVER MADE IT!
I KNEW HE WOULD! ALL I'VE HEARD ABOUT HIM IS TRUE!
JOE PALOOKA
THE SHIPPER WANTS AN AREA OF AT LEAST A HUNDRED YARDS IN EACH DIRECTION PATROLLED—NOBODY TO COME NEAR THE RING.
OKAY, CHIEF.
THERE'S NOBODY AROUND NOW, SIR.
I'LL BE DOWN RIGHT AWAY. TELL GRUMPORSKI TO BE READY FOR ACTION.
TAKE YOUR STAND THERE—GOOD—NOW AS PALOOKA LEAVES HIS CORNER HE EXPECTS YOU TO MEET HIM IN THE CENTER—
THIS WOULD BE THE NORMAL TACTIC—BUT WE BRING IN THE ELEMENT OF SURPRISE—I'VE CHARTED THE BATTLE TO SCALE—THE HEAVY CRUISERS WERE EXPECTED ETC., ETC., ETC., NOW I MOVE TO THE LEFT—ETC., ETC.
HERE, SIR? YESSIR—HIS HEAVY ARMOR'S HIS RIGHT—YESSIR—I GOTCHA, SIR.
SUPERMAN
ONLY ONE WAY TO STRAIGHTEN OUT THIS JONES-WAIL-SUPERMAN MIX-UP. AND THAT'S FOR SUPERMAN TO SEE THE PRINCIPALS HIMSELF.
THE WAIL HOUSE—AND THAT'S AUBREY JONES LEAVING NOW. MAYBE I OUGHT TO SHADOW HIM FOR A WHILE BEFORE ASKING QUESTIONS UNTIL I SEE HOW HE'S CONNECTED WITH THIS SUPERMAN BUSINESS.
FINALLY MANAGED TO GET AWAY, WHAT A BORE. NOW TO SEE SAM SEVEN AND PERSUADE HIM TO GIVE ME A LITTLE MORE TIME.
SAM SEVEN—THE NOTORIOUS NIGHT CLUB OWNER!
WHAT'S SOCIALITE AUBREY JONES GOT TO DO WITH A SHADY CHARACTER LIKE SAM SEVEN? FINDING OUT SHOULD PROVE INTERESTING!
JANE ARDEN
NAPOLEON
WHERE ARE YOU GOING?
INTO THE VILLAGE TO MAIL SOME LETTERS—LET ME OUT, PLEASE!
JUST A MINUTE—MY PHONE'S RINGING—
CAN'T YOU LET ME OUT FIRST?
JA—SHE'S AT THE GATE RIGHT NOW—
ALL RIGHT—I'LL STOP HER!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

IF VICE PRESIDENT John Marshall were alive today he would reaffirm what he said in Woodrow Wilson's day, that "what this country needs is a good 5-cent cigar."

Looking over the aftermaths of the late election, its rancor and its political wounds, this columnist suggests that what this country needs is a good Dolly Gann social war—something to take our minds off politics.

Now if Mrs. Henry Wallace could just be persuaded to get into a row with Mrs. Harry Truman as to who should sit where at dinner, we would all have something to tal kabout. If only Senator Truman could be persuaded to issue a statement that as Vice President elect he considers it the prerogative of his wife to enter the dining room ahead of Mrs. Henry Wallace! Then we could begin to forget our troubles.

Things weren't so tense in the Hoover Administration, and folks didn't think so hard about the war and politics. But even so, Vice President Charlie Curtis patriotically came forward with an official announcement that his half-sister, Dolly Gann, was entitled to sit ahead of the wife of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth. And Mrs. Longworth patriotically did her bit by boiling over with resentment.

The country had a morvelous time and nobody worried about anything else for weeks.

Mrs. Truman and Mrs. Wallace also are patriotic people, and they might give this idea serious consideration.

Great National Need

THEY OUGHT to consider seriously the fact that we have had too much rowing amang quarreisome old men. Governor Dewey has emphasized it, the columnists have written about it. It's an old, old story. So what we really need is a good hair-pulling contest between two lovely ladies.

It is true that Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Truman are good friends. But they can put friendship in the background for the good of the country. It is true also that Vice President Wallace, despite what must have been bitter disappointment for him at Chicago, swallowed his personal feelings and went down the line for Roosevelt and Truman like the good sport and real gentleman that he is.

But despite that, we think the Truman and Wallace family might well put patriotism before personal affection, and do something for their country.

Some folks might argue that not many people are going to dinner during the war, and that Wallace was never a great diner-out anyway. However, this is different. Even the OPA would probably waive its rules and dispense a few extra points to hostesses who would lay their tables for a good hot social war.

Furthermore, it has never been decided yet where the Vice President and the Vice President-elect should sit at dinner. Hitherto, one of them was usually out in the sticks and never came to Washington until inauguration day. They never came to grips at the dinner table. But now when Congress opens next week, we are going to be faced with the fact that Henry Wallace will set on the dias and preside over the Senate, and Senator Truman will be down on the Senate floor looking up at him.

Need for Showmanship

THAT DOESN'T seem right. Here is the Vice President-elect, who has just been chosen by the people—with the help of Hannegan, Kelly and Flynn—and he should not have to sit on the Senate floor looking up at the man he has edged out of the Vice Presidency.

Of course, Henry always gets tired presiding over the Senate after the first hour and usually turns the gavel over to somebody else—frequently to Harry Truman. But this isn't good showmanship. It isn't right. It doesn't help entertain the American people.

After all, the American people have something coming to them. They have really taken it on the chin. They have argued, yelled, listened to the radio, read the columnists, and finally voted, in the toughest election since Abraham Lincoln. This election actually has been much harder on them than on the candidates. The candidates only had to make the speechese. The American people had to make up their minds.

So they deserve reward. And we think it is up to the Vice President and Vice President-elect to oblige.

It used to be said that the Vice President was the diner-out of every administration. But in these wa rdays when manpower is short and everyone is doubling up on work, the Vice President should take on the extra job of being the chief diverter of the Nation.

We hope the Truman and Wallace family's patriotism will be equal to it.

WJEJ

1240 Kilocycles.

FRIDAY

MORNING.

7:00 Early Bird.
8:00 News, Early Bird.
8:45 Family Altar.
9:00 Organ Melodies
9:30 Modern Romances.
9:45 Band Stand.
10:00 News, B. Repaid.
10:15 Morning Devotions.
10:30 Shady Valley Folks.
11:00 Arthur Gaeth.
11:15 Saddle Pals.
11:45 Interlude.

AFTERNOON.

12:00 Boake Carter.
12:15 Music in the Leiter Vein
12:30 392nd Army Band.
1:00 Ray Dady.
1:15 Terry's House Party.
1:30 Lunch With Lopez.
1:45 American Women's Jury
2:00 Cedric Foster.
2:15 Saddle Pals.
2:30 Open House.
2:45 Real Life Stories.
3:00 Morton Downey.
3:15 Service Unlimited.
3:30 The Smoothies.
3:45 The Toe Tunes.
4:05 Romantic Cycle.
4:15 Johnson Family.
4:45 Handy Man.
5:00 Interlude.
5:15 Interlude.
5:30 Superman.
5:45 Tom Mix.

EVENING.

6:00 News; Sports.
6:15 Jungle Jim.
6:30 Candlelight and Silver.
7:00 Fulton Lewis Jr.
7:15 D'Artega Presents.
7:30 Old Corral.
7:45 Piano Fantasy
8:00 Cecil Brown.
8:15 Sunny Skylar.
8:30 Freedom of Opportunity
9:00 Gabriel Heatter
9:15 Easy Rhythm.
9:30 Double or Nothing.
10:00 Boxing Bout.
11:00 News.
11:05 Sports.
11:20 Sign Off.

HAGERSTOWN, MD.

WCHV

1450 Kilocycles.

FRIDAY

MORNING.

7:00 Musical Clock.
7:30 News.
7:30 Musical Clock.
7:55 News.
8:00 Martin Agronsky.
8:15 Morning Melodies.
8:30 News.
8:45 Lucille Lady.
9:00 Breakfast Club.
10:00 True Story.
10:30 Cliff Edwards.
10:45 Listening Post.
11:00 Breakfast at Sardi's.
11:30 News Summary.
11:45 Jack Berch.

AFTERNOON.

12:00 Glamour Manor.
12:30 Devotions
12:45 Town Crier.
1:00 Rankings Talking.
1:15 Music of the Masters.
1:45 Show Tune Time.
2:00 News, Kiernan.
2:15 The Mystery Chef.
2:30 Ladies Be Seated.
3:00 Morton Downey.
3:15 Hollywood Star Time.
3:30 Matinee Musical.
4:00 Ethel and Albert.
4:15 Easy Rhythm.
4:30 Time Views News.
4:45 Bop Harrigan.
5:00 Terry and the Pirates.
5:15 Dick Tracy.
5:30 Jack Armstrong.
5:45 10-2-4 Ranch.

EVENING.

6:00 News; Ivory Interlude.
6:15 Texas Rangers.
6:30 News; Music.
6:45 Henry J. Taylor.
7:00 Ed Wynn.
7:30 Modern Romances.
7:45 Confidentially Yours.
8:00 News, Ray Henle.
8:15 Parker Family.
8:30 Fun Time.
9:00 Music As You Like It.
9:30 Spotlight Bands.
10:00 Earl Godwin.
10:15 Ted Malone
10:30 Doctor's Talk It Over.
10:45 Continentales.
11:00 Music You Want.
11:30 Pages of Melody.
12:00 Sign Off.

VIRGINIA BROADCASTING CO.
Charlottesville, Va.

WINC

1400 Kilocycles.

FRIDAY

MORNING.

7:30 Morning Show.
8:00 Agronsky, News.
8:20 Texas Jim.
8:30 News.
8:45 Morning Devotions.
9:00 Breakfast Club.
10:00 True Story.
10:30 Marlinsburg Wheel.
10:45 Listening Post.
11:00 Breakfast at Sardi's.
11:30 News Summary.
11:45 Kellogg News.
11:45 Dr. James.

AFTERNOON.

12:00 Hit Parade.
12:15 10-2-4 Ranch.
12:30 Farm and Home.
1:00 Baukhage.
1:15 Bible School.
1:45 Phil Barton.
2:00 News.
2:15 The Mystery Chef.
2:30 Ladies, Be Seated.
3:00 Morton Downey.
3:15 Star Time.
3:30 Appointment With Life.
4:00 Blue Frolics.
4:15 Rev. Harry James.
4:30 Time Views News.
4:45 Sea Hound.
5:00 Terry and the Pirates.
5:15 Dick Tracy.
5:30 Jack Armstrong.
5:45 Capt. Midnight.

EVENING.

6:00 Good Neighbor.
6:05 Music.
6:10 Don't You Believe It?
6:15 Spin and Win.
6:30 Concert.
6:45 Henry Taylor. News.
7:00 Mary Wolfe.
7:15 True Romances.
7:30 Concert Hall.
8:00 Earl Godwin.
8:15 Parker Family.
8:30 Meet Your Navy.
9:00 Gang Busters.
9:30 Spotlight Bands.
9:55 Harry Wismer.
10:00 John Vandercook. News.
10:15 Bridge to Dreamland.
10:30 Sign Off.

WINCHESTER, VIRGINIA.

Died

BENNETT, KATE. On Tuesday, November 7, 1944, at the Baptist Home, 3248 P st. nw., KATE BENNETT, daughter of late Mr. and Mrs. William T. and Catherine Kildorf Bennett and sister of Edna Bennett. Services at the S. H. Hines funeral home, 2001 14th st. nw., on Friday, November 10, at 3 p. m. Interment Glenwood Cemetery.

LIMING, WILLIAM WESLEY. On Tuesday, November 7, 1944, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. O. H. Matherson, Dumfries, Va., WILLIAM WESLEY LIMING survived by three daughters and two sons. Funeral services Friday, November 10, at 2 p. m. at the Triangle Baptist Church, Triangle, Va. Conducted by the Rev. Ramey. Interment Pohick Cemetery, Pohick, Va. Services by Hall funeral home, Occoquan, Va.

McPHEE, Mrs. SARAH. On Wednesday, November 8, 1944, at Circle Terrace Hospital, Alex., Va., Mrs. SARAH McPHEE. She is survived by 3 children, Lauchlie of Van Cauver, British Columbia; Mrs. MacDougall of Sydney, Nova Scotia; Mrs. A. H. Dondero, Vienna, Va.; also 4 grandchildren. Mrs. McPhee was born in Nova Scotia. For the 17 years made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Dondero. She was a member of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. Interment in Columbia Gardens Cemetery at 11 a. m. on Friday, November 10. Remains resting at Wheatley funeral home, Alexandria, Va.

PAGE, ISABELLA B. On Wednesday, November 8, 1944, at her home, 1206 Linden Lane, Silver Spring, Md., ISABELLA B. PAGE, beloved wife of Frank M. Page and mother of Mildred A., June and Lloyd John Page. Mrs. Page rests at the Warner E. Pumphrey funeral home, 8434 Ga. ave., Silver Spring, Md., where mass will be offered at 9:30 a. m. for the repose of her soul. Interment St. Johns Cemetery.

PUGH, NAOMIA F. On Tuesday, November 7, 1944, NAOMIA F. PUGH of 1401 Columbia rd. nw., beloved wife of William G. Pugh and daughter of Mrs. Clara J. Childs and sister of Herbert E. and Grayson Childs. Services at the S. P. Hines Co. funeral home, 2901 14th st. nw., on Friday, November 10, at 2 p. m. Interment Arlington National Cemetery.

SHIPLEY, WILBER L. On Wednesday, November 8, 1944, at Sibley Memorial Hospital, WILBER L. SHIPLEY, beloved husband of Laura V. Shipley, father of Wilber A., John R., Andrew M., Shipley, Mrs. Emma M. Schinner, Miss Beatrice E. Shipley and Mrs. Grace A. Smith. Services at Chamber's funeral home, 1400 Chapin st. nw., on Saturday, November 11, at 1 p. m. Interment Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

STRICKLAND, GERTRUDE H. On Tuesday, November 7, 1944, at Georgetown Hospital, GERTRUDE H. STRICKLAND, beloved wife of the late Jesse M. Strickland and mother of Mrs. Ruth S. Fleming, Messrs. M. Laurence T. and Lynwood F. Strickland; sister of Miss Edith Funston. Remains resting at the Burhorst funeral home, 301 East Capitol st., where services will be held on Friday, November 10, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Congressional Cemetery.

WIDMAYER, CHARLES FREDERICK. On Wednesday, November 8, 1944, at his residence, 8413 Georgia ave. nw., CHARLES FREDERICK WIDMAYER, beloved husband of Ruth M. Widmayer and father of Ronald Charles Widmayer. Services at the S. P. Hines Co. funeral home, 2901 14th st. nw., on Saturday, November 11, at 9:30 a. m., thence to St. Gabriel Church, Grant Circle, where mass will be offered at 10 a. m. Interment Mt. Moriah Cemetery.

Quotations on N. Y. Stock Exchange

By the Associated Press

Total stock sales yesterday, 851,100 shares; previous day, 732,330 shares; week ago, 790,140 shares; year ago, closed; two years ago, 704,680 shares; January 1 to date, 218,831588 shares; year ago, 249,750,124 shares; two years ago, 99,150,279 shares.

Dow-Jones Stocks

New York, Nov. 9.—

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
30 ind.	147.35	148.61	146.98	147.75	+0.23
20 rails	41.97	42.32	41.89	42.20	+0.22
15 utils.	25.60	25.70	25.52	25.61
65 stocks	53.21	53.59	53.38	53.58	+0.12

Transactions in stocks used in averages today: Industrials, 58,100; rails, 70,740; utilities, 53,400; 65 stocks, 182,340.

	Sales. Add 00	High	Low	Close	Net Ch'ge
Abbott Lab	1	60½	60½	60½
Acf Brill	7	8¾	8¾	8¾	+ ¼
Acme St	3	64½	63¾	64½	+ ¼
Adams Exp	18	12½	12¾	12½	+ ⅛
Adams-Millis	1	31¾	31¾	31¾
Addressog-Mult	2	23½	22¾	22¾	— ¼
Air Reduction	11	39¾	39½	39½
Alaska Juneau	10	6¼	6¼	6¼	— ⅛
Alleghany Corp	6	2¼	2⅛	2⅛
Alleghany pf	9	29¼	28¾	28¾	+ ¼
Alleghany pr pf	3	51	50¾	50¾	+ ¼
Allen Ludlum	1	28½	28¾	28¾	+ ¼
Allen Industries	6	15	14¾	15	+ ¼
Al Chem & Dye	8	151	150¾	151	+ ¾
Allied Mills	3	30½	30¾	30¾	+ ¼
Allied Strs	5	21	20¾	20¾	+ ¼
Allied St pf	1	102½	102½	102½	+ ¼
Allis-Ch Mfg	16	37¾	37¾	37¾
Amal Leather	2	3¾	3¾	3¾
Amal Leatherpf	1	42	42	42
Amerada Pet	6	105½	105	105½	+ ¼
Am Ag Ch Del	1	27	27	27
Am Airlines	7	81¾	80½	81½	+ ¼
Am Bank Note	2	20½	20½	20½	+ ¼
Am Bosch	3	16¾	16¾	16¾	+ ¼
Am Brake Shoe	5	45½	45¼	45¼	— ¼
Am Cable&Rad	13	11¾	11¾	11¾	— ⅛
Am Can	5	87	87	87
Am Car & Fdy	11	28¾	28⅝	28⅝	— ⅛
Am Car & F pf	1	91	91	91	— ½
Am Ch&Cable	1	26½	26½	26½
Am Crystal Sug	5	18¾	18¾	18¾
Am Distill Am	24	18¾	18½	18½	+1⅛
Am Encaus Trlins	1	3¾	3¾	3¾
Am Export L	2	26¾	26¾	26¾
Am & For Pow	42	2¾	2¾	2¾
Am & F P 16 pf	2	91	91	91	— ½
Am & FP $7 pf	3	94½	94½	94½	+ ½
Am & F P 2 pf	27	17¾	16¾	16¾	+ ¼
Am Hid&Leather	13	5¾	5¾	5¾
Am Hi & L pf	2	46	46	46	+ 2
Am Ice	5	6¼	6⅛	6⅛	+ ⅛
Am International	3	8½	8¾	8¾
Am Invest Ill	3	8½	8¾	8¾
Am Locomotive	13	21¾	21½	21½	— ⅛
Am Locomot pf	1	101½	101½	101½	+ ¼
Am M & Fdy	34	17½	16¾	17½	+ ¼
Am M&Met	11	12	11¾	11¾	— ¼
Am Metal	2	25¾	25¾	25¾
Am Pow & Li	32	2¾	2½	2½
Am P&L $6 pf	10	53	52½	52¾	— ¼
Am P&L $5 pf	11	46	45¾	45¾	— ¼
Am Rad & St S	9	11	11	11
Am Roll Mill	8	14¾	14¾	14¾	— ⅛
Am Safety Raz	1	17½	17½	17½
Am Seating	6	16¾	17	16¾	— ⅛
Am Smelt & R	8	45	45	45
Am Snuff	2	44¼	44¼	44¼
Am Stl Fdrs	15	25¾	25½	25¾	+ ¼
Am Sugar Ref	4	52	52	52
Am Sugar pf	1	128½	128½	128½	— ¼
Am Tel & Tel	22	163¾	163¾	163¾	+ ⅛
Am Tobacco	1	67	67	67
Am Tob B	15	68¾	67½	68½	+ ½
Am Type Fdrs	1	12¼	12¼	12¼
Am Viscose	18	44	43½	43½	— ½
Am aWt Wks	43	8¾	8¼	8¾	+ ¼
Am W W 1 pf	1	98	98	98	— ¼
Am Zinc L & S	4	4¼	4½	4½
Anaconda Cop	41	27¾	27	27	— ⅛
A P W Paper	1	3¾	3¾	3¾
Arch-Dan-Mid	1	54¼	54¼	54¼	— ¼
Armour & Co	16	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	+ ⅛
Armour pf pf	3	78	78	78	+1¼
Armstrong Ck	24	23½	23½	23½	— ⅛
Assd Dry Gds	4	17¾	17¾	17¾
Atch T & S F	100	99¾	99¾	99¾	+ ¼
Atl Coast Line	13	41	40¾	40¾	+ ¼
Atl G & W Ind	8	36¾	35¾	36¾	+1¼
Atl Refining	2	35¾	35¾	35¾
Atlas Corp	2	15¾	15¾	15¾
Aust Nichols	6	10¼	10¼	10¼	+ ¼
Aviation Corp	26	5⅛	5	5⅛
Bald Loco	26	23½	23¼	23¾	— ⅛
Balt & Ohio	11	8¼	8¼	8¼
Balt & Oh pf	4	15½	14¾	14¾
Barium Stl	1	12¾	12¾	12¾	+ ¼
Barker Bros	2	18	18	18
Barnsdall Oil	13	16	15¾	16	+ ¼
Bath Ir Wks	8	17	16¾	16¾
Bayuk Cigars	6	32½	32	32½	+ ⅛
Beech Aire	334	13¾	11¾	13¾	+2¼
Belding-Hem	1	14¾	14¾	14¾
Bell Aire	39	14¾	14¾	14¾
Bendix Aviat	9	46¾	46¾	46¾
Best Foods	18	62¾	62¾	62¾
Beth Steel	12	62¾	62¾	62¾
Bigelow-Sanf	1	48½	48½	48½	— ¼
Black & Decker	3	22½	22½	22½
Blaw-Knox	68	11¾	11¾	11¾	+ ¼
Bliss & Laugh	1	5¾	5¾	5¾
Boeing Airpl	249	19¾	19¾	19¾
Bohn Al&Brass	1	49½	49½	49½	+ ¼
Bond Strs	1	46½	46½	46½
Borden Co	12	34	34	34
Borg-Warner	2	39	38¾	39
Boston & Me	1	5½	5½	5½
Bower Roll B	1	41½	41½	41½
Brarliff Airw	14	19½	19½	19½	— ⅛
Bridgeport Br	7	13¾	13¾	13¾
Brissz Mfg	16	39¼	38¾	39	+ ⅛
Bklyn Un Gas	1	21¼	21¼	21¼	+ ¼
Brown Shoe	1	46	46	46
Brunswick-Bal	6	21¾	21¾	21¾
Bucyrus-Erie	3	12½	12¾	12¾
Budd Mfg	6	10¾	10½	10½	+ ⅛
Budd Wheel	3	7	7	7
Bullard Co	4	18¾	18	18
Burling Mills	6	37¾	37¾	37¾
Burr Add Mach	8	14¾	14¾	14¾
Bush Terminal	1	6¾	6¾	6¾
Butler Bros	5	12½	12½	12½
Butte Cop&Zinc	2	3¾	3¾	3¾
Byers A M) Co	1	14½	14½	14½	+ ¼
Byron Jackson	3	21½	21½	21½
Calif Packing	7	27	26½	26½	— ¼
Calahan Z-Ld	3	1	1	1
Calumet & Hec	1	6¾	6¾	6¾	+ ⅛
Campbell Wyant	9	20	19¾	19¾
Can Dry G A pf	4	28½	28½	28½
Canad Pacific	35	10¼	10¼	10¼
Cannon Mills	2	48¾	48¾	48¾	+1¼
Capital Adm A	1	9½	9½	9½
Carrier Corp	2	18¾	18¾	18¾
Carriers & Gen	3	5¾	5½	5¾
Case J I Co	5	36¾	36¼	36¼	— ⅛
Caterpil Tractor	4	48½	48½	48½
Celanese Corp	21	34½	33¾	33¾	— ¼
Celanese 1 pf	9	103	102½	102½	— ¼
Celotex Corp	13	21¾	21¾	21¾
Cent Viol Sug	7	28	27½	27½
Cerro de Pas	5	32½	31½	31¾	— ¼
Certain-td Prod	9	7¾	7½	7½
Champ Paper & F	1	29	29	29
Checker Cab	1	10	10	10
Ches & Ohio	18	47¾	47¼	47¼	— ⅛
Chi & E Ill	4	6¾	6½	6½	+ ⅛
Chi & Ill A	1	14½	14½	14½	+ ¼
Chi Grt West	2	5¾	5¾	5¾
Chi Grt W pf	8	23	23	23
Chi Mail Order	1	19¾	19½	19½
Chi & N W	82	29¾	29¾	29¾	+ ¼
Chi Pneu Tool	5	19¾	19¾	19¾
Chi Pneu T cv pf	1	49¼	48¾	49¼	+ ¼
Chickasha Cot O	1	16	16	16
Childs Co	30	5½	5½	5½
Chrysler Corp	6	91¾	91¼	91¾	+ ¼
City Ice & Fuel	2	22	22	22
City Stores	54	10¾	10¾	10¾	+ ⅛
Clark Equip	5	48½	47¾	48½	+ ¼
Clev Graph Br	1	42¾	42¾	42¾
Climax Molyb	10	34¾	34¾	34¾	+ ¼
Cluett Peabody	1	97½	97½	97½
Collins & Aik	3	35	35	35
Col Fuel & Ir	11	19	18¾	19	+ ¼
Col Gas & El	19	5¾	5¾	5¾
Col Bregst $	1	32¾	32¾	32¾
Col G & E	39	4¾	4¾	4¾
Col G&E $ 6 pf	7	92	91½	92	+1
Colum Broad	18	12¾	12¾	12¾
Comi Credit	14	40¾	40¼	40¼
Comi Invest Tr	9	44¾	44¼	44¼
Comi Solvents	3	28¾	28¾	28¾	+ ¼
Comwlth Edis	19	23	23	23
Comwlth & So	142	1	1	1
Com & So pf	13	89¾	89¾	89¾	+ ¼
Conde Nast Pub	1	46	46	46
Congoleum-Na	2	28¾	28¾	28¾
Consol Cigar	7	29¾	29¾	29¾
Cons Copperm	1	3¾	3¾	3¾
Cons Edison	37	25¼	25¼	25¼
Cons Edison pf	5	107½	107¼	107¼	+ ¼
C Flm Ind pf	1	27½	27½	27½
Consols Laundries	1	17¾	17¾	17¾
Cons Nat Gas	11	30	29¾	29¾
Con RR Cuba pf	5	17½	17½	17½
Cons Rylties	20	9¾	9¾	9¾
Cons Vultee pf	1	24¾	24¾	24¾
Consoln Coal	6	16¾	16¾	16¾
Container Corp	2	37¾	37¾	37¾
Cont Bak	1	27¼	27¼	27¼
Cont Can	7	39¾	39½	39¾	+ ¼
Cont Diam Fib	9	11¾	11¾	11¾
Cont Ins	1	48	48	48
Cont Motors	48	3¼	3¼	3¼
Cont Oil Del	26	28½	28½	28½
Cont Steel	3	28½	28½	28½
Cooper-Bess	2	41¾	41¾	41¾
Corn Products	1	64¾	64¾	64¾
Correll-Dub El	8	20¾	20¾	20¾
Coty Inc	2	6¼	6¼	6¼
Cotv Internat	2	6¾	6¾	6¾
Crane Co	4	28¾	28¾	28¾
Cream of Wh	2	23½	23½	23½
Crosley Corp	13	28	27¾	28	+ ¼
Crown C & S	1	97½	97½	97½
Crown Zellerb	6	20¾	20½	20½
Crucible Steel	6	36	35¾	36	+ ¼
Cuban-Am Sug	7	16	15¾	15¾
Cudahy Pack	3	24¼	24¼	24¼
Curtis Publishg	10	9¾	9¾	9¾
Curtiss-Wright	113	7	6¾	7
Curtiss-Wr A	91	18¾	18½	18¾	+ ¼
Cutler-Hammer	3	48¾	48¾	48¾
Davison Chem	3	15¾	15¼	15¾	+ ¼
Decca Records	2	38	38	38
Deere & Co	3	42¾	42¾	42¾	+ ¼
Deisel-Wem-Gil	1	21¾	21¾	21¾
Del & Hudson	20	31½	31½	31½	+ ¼
Del Lack&West	30	24¾	24¾	24¾
Detroit Edison	7	20¾	20¼	20¼	— ⅛
Detroit Hillsdale	60	6¾	6¾	6¾
Diam Match pf	1	40¾	40¾	40¾	— ¼
Diam T Motor	1	16	16	16
Dist Corp-Seag	30	12¾	12¾	12¾
Dixie Cup	1	18¾	18¾	18¾	+ ¼
Doehler Die Cas	2	42½	42½	42½
Dome Mines	2	23¾	23	23
Douglas Aircraft	20	60	60	60	+1¾
Dresser Ind	7	41½	40¼	41¼	+1
Dunhill Int	56	14¾	13¾	13¾	+ ⅛
du Pont de N	10	158¼	157	158¼
du Pont pf	3	125¾	125¾	125¾	— ¼
Eagle Pich Ld	3	13	13	13
Eastern Air L	4	38	37¾	38	+ ¼
East K Cl	2	163¾	163¾	163¾
Eastman Kodak	3	169¾	169	169¾	— ¼
Edis Bros Strs	1	22	22	22	+ ¼
Elastic stop Nut	30	12¾	12½	12¾	+ ¼
El Auto-Lite	2	44¾	44¾	44¾	+ ¼
Elec Boat	16	15	14¾	15	+ ¼
El & Mus Ind	20	6¾	6¾	6¾	+ ⅛
El Power & Lt	24	4¾	4¾	4¾
El Pow&Lt $6 pf	80	86	86	86
El Pow&Lt $7pf	3	93½	92¾	93½	+1¼
El Storage Bat	2	44¾	44¾	44¾
Emerson El mf	34	16½	15¾	16½	+1¼
Emp Pub Service	51	14¾	14¾	14¾	+ ¼
Equit Off Bldg	1	15	15	15
Erie RR	5	11¾	11¾	11¾	+ ¼
Erie RR cl	24	11¾	11¾	11¾	+ ¼
Erie RR pf	4	64	64	64	+1¼
Eureka V Cleaner	2	11½	11½	11½
Evans Products	105	16¾	15¾	16¾	+ ¼
Ex-Cell-O	4	43¾	43¾	43¾
Exchange Buffet	3	4	4	4
Fairbanks Morse	1	41¾	41	41	— ¼
Fajardo Sugar	1	28	28	28	+ ¼
Farns Tels&Rad	14	13½	13½	13½
Fed Mogul-Bow	2	23¼	22¾	23¼	+ ¼
Fed Min&Smelt	3	9	9	9	+ ⅛

	Sales. Add 00	High	Low	Close	Net Ch'ge
Federal D Strs	4	23¾	23½	23¾	+ ¼
Ferro Enam	2	23¾	23¾	23¾	+ ¼
Fid P Fire Ins	1	23¾	23¾	23¾	+ ¼
Firestone T&R	3	53¾	52¾	53¾	+ ¼
Flintkote	1	22¾	22¾	22¾	+ ¼
Florence Stove	1	42	42	42
Follansbee Stl	1	6½	6½	6½
Food Fair Strs	3	15	15	15	— ⅛
Foster Wheeler	21	24¾	23¾	24	+1
Francisco Sug	3	15¾	15¾	15¾
Freeport Sulph	4	33¾	33¼	33¾	+ ¼
Gabriel Co	2	8	8	8
Gair (Robert)	10	4¾	4½	4½
Gair (Robt) pf	4	18	14	16
Gar Wood Ind	9	7	6¾	6¾
Gaylord Cont	4	20¼	20	20¼	+ ¼
Gen Am Invest	3	14¾	14¾	14¾	+ ¼
Gen Am Transp	3	50¼	49¾	50¼	+ ¼
Gen Baking	3	8¾	8¾	8¾
Gen Bronze	8	11	10¾	10¾	— ¼
Gen Cable	1	6¼	6	6¼	+ ⅛
Gen Cable A	2	16¼	16¼	16¼	+ ¼
Gen Cigar	3	28¾	27¾	28½	+1¼
Gen Elec	72	40	39¾	40	+ ¼
Gen Foods	4	40¾	40¾	40¾	+ ¼
Gen G&E A	13	9¾	9¾	9¾
Gen Mills	1	113	113	113	+1
Gen Motors	40	63½	62¾	63½	+ ¼
Gen Mot pf	2	127	127	127¼
Gen Out Adv A	1	6	6	6
Gen Print Ink	3	9¾	9¾	9¾
Gen Pub Serv	4	1¾	1¾	1¾
Gen Ry Signal	2	28	28	28	— ⅛
Gen RA'l new	5	3¾	3¾	3¾
Gen Refract	10	20¾	20¾	20¾	+ ¼
Gen Shoe	1	11¼	11¼	11¼
Gen Tel	1	23¾	23¾	23¾
Gen Time Inst	1	23¾	23¾	23¾
Gen T & Rub	1	23¾	23¾	23¾	+ ¼
Gillette Saf R	11	12¾	12¾